CHINESE WRECK HANKOW AS JAP FORCES MOVE IN

Big Fires Confront Victorious Army.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 26 [Wednesday]. —(AP)—The Japanese vanguard today marched into burning Wuchang, one of the Wuhan tri-cities, Japanese dispatches from the front said, and met resistance from Chinese detachments who engaged in street fighting.

Mme. Chiang Kai-shek.

The occupation of Wuchang began after another advance guard from the north had entered the outskirts of Hankow, across the Yangtze river. The main body of Japanese still was about ten miles from Wuchang.

The advance guard entered Wuchang through the Paoyang gate and began a slow mopping up process, with the fighting gradually spreading throughout the walled city. Chinese stragglers were withdrawing westward by boat as the Japanese entered.

Blasts Rock Three Cities.

Explosions still rocked the Wuhan cities—Hankow, Wuchang, and Hanyang—China's rich industrial center, and flames stabbed the sky as unchecked fires spread a trail of ruin and ashes for the invaders to seize.

Along a semi-circle from north to south the Japanese were arrayed for occupation of Hankow, the great inland river and commercial center—known as the "Chicago of China"—a principal goal in the undeclared war that started on July 7, 1937.

Hankow, former provisional capital and heart of Chinese resistance, already was partly destroyed as the result of the Chinese "scorched earth" policy applied in the face of Japanese conquest.

Chiang and Wife Flee.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his foremost aid—his American educated wife—were said to have left Hankow by plane on Monday night after a mass exodus of other members of the government and civilians of the Wuhan cities. It was believed Chiang had gone to the mountainous region of southeastern Hunan province. Most other officials went to Chungking, a new capital far in the interior.

Concurrently with the closing in of Japanese Hankow forces, Masayuki Tani, Japanese minister at large, in Shanghai warned neutral authorities to see that vessels bearing their flags proceed from Hankow to safer zones in the Yangtze river.

Periled by Chinese Junks.

His note said "many Chinese junks carrying soldiers were moving near neutral ships on the Hankow waterfront. . . . It is difficult to give assurances that Chinese troops who thus take advantage of the presence of neutral vessels will not be attacked by reason of their proximity to such vessels."

Neutral advices said retreating Chinese troops blew up important government buildings and factories in Hankow. An angry crowd stormed the former Japanese concession, blowing up and setting fire to Japanese offices and barracks.

American sailors from the gunboats Luzon and Guam at Hankow patroled the former Russian concession to protect American lives.

One-Fourth of Citizens Stay.

According to latest estimates less than one-fourth of the Wuhan cities' pre-war population of 1,700,000 remained to meet the Japanese conquerors. These estimates put the number at 400,000 persons, including some 1,000 foreigners.

The northern portions of Hankow were said to be the most aflame. Japanese airmen described the fires as resembling "huge pyres."

Japanese military authorities said the Chinese had destroyed virtually everything regarded as of possible use to the conquerors—even bridges, thus hampering their own withdrawal. Large units of Chinese were reported pocketed by the rapid Japanese advance.

Commanders close to the city said

Found: 100 Foot Bridge; Owner Must Call for It

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The party or parties who lost a 100 foot wooden bridge will be glad to know that it was found floating in the Hudson river at 110th street today. It can be retrieved by calling for and identifying it at West 32d street, where it is now tied up. It looks like it might have stretched across a small creek somewhere before it got the wanderlust. Maybe it was washed away in the recent hurricane, somebody suggested.

DIES COMMITTEE RED QUIZ ROUSES ROOSEVELT'S IRE

Assails Charges as False and Unfair.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Dies congressional committee, which has been exposing the activities of communists, many of them connected with the government, drew the wrath today of President Roosevelt.

Refusing to speak extemporaneously because his language might not be "polite," the President dictated a statement in which he accused the committee of a "flagrantly unfair and un-American attempt to influence an election." The committee is headed by Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.].

Refers to Murphy Case.

The President referred specifically to the testimony before the committee last Friday against Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan, a Democrat seeking reëlection. The testimony charged Murphy with consorting with revolutionists and contributing to a breakdown of civil authority by refusing to enforce an injunction against sitdown strikes in his state.

Murphy and Senator Robert M. La Follette [Radical, Wis.] were blamed by witnesses for the riots and general collapse of authority in the automobile strikes in Flint, Mich., during the early part of 1937.

Calls Charges False.

"I was very much disturbed by that kind of testimony," the President declared. "I was disturbed not because of the absurdly false charges made by a coterie of disgruntled Republican officeholders against a profoundly religious, able, and law-abiding governor; but because a congressional committee charged with the responsibility of investigating un-American activities should have permitted itself to be used in a flagrantly unfair and un-American attempt to influence an election."

The coterie mentioned by Mr. Roosevelt consisted of Judge Paul V. Gadola of the Circuit court of Flint, who issued an injunction against the sitdown strikers at two Fisher body plants; Herman Luhrs, chairman of the Detroit American Legion committee on Americanization; John M. Barringer, city manager and director of public safety of Flint during the riots of February, 1937, and Police Captain Edwin Hughes of Flint.

Lashes at Witnesses.

The President asserted that the Dies committee made no effort to get the truth from these witnesses.

"On the threshold of a vitally important gubernatorial election," he asserted, "they permitted a disgruntled Republican judge, a discharged Republican city manager, and a couple of officious police officers to make lurid charges against Gov. Murphy without attempting to elicit from them facts as to their undeniable bias and their charges and without attempting to obtain from the governor, or, for that matter, from any responsible motor manufacturer, their version of the events."

Murphy's Refusal Told.

Gov. Murphy had been accused by the witnesses not only of permitting sitdown strikes but encouraging them. Repeated attempts were made to reach the governor for assistance when the Flint situation got out of hand, they said, but the governor refused to interfere although he had a mandate under the law to enforce the sitdown injunction issued in the Circuit court.

Communist meetings, at which the Red salute of the clenched fist was given and the "Internationale" sung, featured the rioting in Flint, the witnesses testified.

Gov. Murphy's refusal to intervene to stop the rioting was termed by Mr. Roosevelt "painstaking and statesmanlike efforts to bring about a settlement of the sitdown strikes and to avert bloodshed and riot."

Defends Governor's Rôle.

"Every important move he made was communicated to the motor manufacturers and the union leaders affected," the President declared, "and was reported fully in the daily press. I received almost daily reports on the situation from the governor.

"Gov. Murphy never said a word in

HAS A MAID, 2 AUTOS, AND 3 HOMES, SO HE'S FIRED FROM WPA JOB

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 25.—(AP)—J. E. Kesner, county WPA chief, said today he had dismissed Frank R. Fleming, a $150 a month WPA foreman who inherited $70,383 from his grandmother last year. Kesner charged Fleming, a foreman for three years, employed a maid, operated two cars, and owned three houses.

Call Duke of Kent Victim of Royal Jealousy

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Mayfair tonight saw naught but banishment, due to royal jealousy, in the announcement that King George VI. of Great Britain had appointed his youngest brother, the duke of Kent, as governor general of Australia.

It's a "British Siberia," said society gossips as they scoffed at official commentators, who sought to make the appointment appear as another move to strengthen the loyalty of the dominions to the British crown and overcome their constantly increasing clamor for greater independency.

Duchess Weeps at News.

The fun loving duke is 35 years old and the favorite brother of exiled Edward, duke of Windsor. Kent and his duchess, the slender Princess Marina of Greece, will be sent to Canberra, a capital which boasts not one night club, in November, 1939. His salary will be $50,000 a year.

Marina wept when she heard the news. To her the announcement was bitter proof that the jealousy of Queen Elizabeth and the disapproval of Queen Mother Mary had triumphed over the most spectacular feminine figure in royalty since Mary Queen of Scots.

Marina, sleek and leggy fashion plate, has stolen newspaper and magazine photographic laurels from the not so slender Elizabeth for months. The British press, almost ignoring the queen's painstaking poses and the queen mother's gracious, grandmotherly lines, have given columns to such trifles as Marina's newest hat, suit, or gown.

Queen Imitates Rival.

Every time Marina and her duke shook their torsos among the hoi polloi in a flashy night club [leaving the royal automobile parked outside to gum up the lines of cursing cabbies] news of the duchess' "atrocious clothes" and goings on were sped to Buckingham palace by special detectives.

To the vast amusement of Mayfair, the queen, furious to find Windsor's gay ghost still stalking the West End, made gallant efforts to out-glamor her streamlined rival. She ordered daring gowns, imported a crooner from the Bronx to sing at a palace ball, and did the Lambeth walk. To no avail.

But to Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mother Mary a golden opportunity dawned. Tactfully they applied pressure for a vice regal post for Playboy Kent. They suggested it would be a fine gesture to send a scion of the royal family to Australia.

ADJUSTABLE GAS MASK WILL FIT ANY SIZE FACE

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—An adjustable gas mask to fit all types and sizes of faces and a new system of anti-aircraft fire control that permits firing against planes flying above the clouds or out of sight from the ground are two recent national defense developments of the United States army.

The gas mask was designed by two army employés, Oliver I. Gaines and William A. Fertig, at the army's chemical warfare station, Edgewood arsenal in Maryland. The adjustable feature of the mask is achieved by the use of straps.

Envoy Feels Out Roosevelt on Visit by King George

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and the British ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, today discussed a possible visit to the United States of King George VI. of England and his queen.

Reports from London have indicated the British royal couple might visit the United States next summer. Announcement has been made that they will take a trip to Canada.

Broker's Wife Terrorized on Kidnap Drive

Victim of an apparent madman who kidnaped her in her own automobile and held her prisoner for five hours, Mrs. Adele Schreiner, 51 years old, was under the care of a physician early today in her apartment at the Hotel Windermere East, 1642 East 56th street. She was suffering from a scalp wound caused by a brutal blow on the head during her terrorizing experience.

Mrs. Schreiner is the wife of Charles A. Schreiner, a grain broker. Their son, Charles A. Jr., lives in Glenview. The senior Mrs. Schreiner was unable to suggest a motive for the kidnaping to Lieut. Roger Murphy of the Hyde Park police.

Accosted While Parking.

Mrs. Schreiner told the police and later telephoned her daughter-in-law that the gunman approached her as she was parking her car late yesterday afternoon at 56th street and Cornell avenue, near the hotel. He put a pistol to her head, forced her back in the driver's seat, and ordered her to go south.

He is young—about 23—with blond hair. He was wearing a blue sweater. He compelled her to drive to Hammond, Ind.

They drove aimlessly about in the neighborhood of Hammond. Then the kidnaper ordered her to start back to Chicago. He let Mrs. Schreiner out of the car near 47th street and Outer drive and sped away, telling her she would find the machine near 50th street and Lake Park avenue. "And I'll kill you if you tell the police," he threatened.

Search for Auto.

Mrs. Schreiner made her way back to the hotel. She was carrying no money and her jewels were in a safety deposit box. After Lieut. Murphy was notified she called her daughter-in-law in Glenview.

"I've been kidnaped, struck on the head," she said dazedly. "There's a terrible cut on my scalp. The doctor is on the way up now. I'll tell you how it happened tomorrow."

Mrs. Schreiner's car, a late model maroon Ford coupe, bore license 520-364. Police still were searching for it and for the kidnaper this morning.

Battle Flames in Gale; Save German Vessel

New York, Oct. 25.—Fire sweeping below decks of the German liner Deutschland imperiled the lives of 981 persons tonight in a North Atlantic storm off Newfoundland. The flames were finally brought under control after a desperate battle of two hours in a gale swept sea.

When the S O S was sent out at 5:22 p. m. Chicago time, seven ships in the vicinity turned from their courses in obedience to the code of the sea and sped toward the stricken vessel.

Captain Sends Appeals.

During the two hours that every member of the crew fought the flames, the skipper notified the ships farthest away that their aid would not come in time. He appealed to those closer to hurry and to be prepared to take off the Deutschland's passengers.

Aboard the big ship were 591 passengers and 390 crew members. Included among the passengers were 350 Americans. The ship left Hamburg Oct. 20 and was due here Friday morning.

Blast in No. 2 Hold.

A southeastern gale battered the Deutschland as the crew fought to save the ship and avoid a great marine disaster. She was wallowing through high, choppy waves about 350 miles southeast of Cape Race, Newfoundland, when fire started in her No. 2 hold following an explosion there.

Flames and smoke swept upward in a sudden blast. Above the passengers were in the cocktail lounges, at dinner and dancing.

Every Sailor in Fight.

Ship's fire squads rushed into the battle but were driven back. The flames spread steadily. Capt. Karl Steincke, the Deutschland's veteran master, ordered every available sailor into the fight.

At the height of the battle, when the fire fighters could not control the blaze, Capt. Steincke radioed nearby ships: "Assistance necessary urgently."

American, British, and Norweigian ships from 76 to 247 miles from the scene put about and sped to the rescue. Coast guard cutters from as far distance as Boston, Mass., 700 miles away, and New London, Conn., put out to sea.

Reports Fire Under Control.

But before they had gone far, Capt. Steincke radioed the laconic message: "Fire under control." Despite this hopeful message, two hours more passed before he rescinded the S O S alarm.

All the ships that had offered succor were subsequently notified not to continue.

The Deutschland was launched in 1923 as the first of a group of luxury liners built by Germany shortly after the war in an effort to regain the sea trade she lost during the conflict. It is a twin screw vessel of 21,000 tons and 626 feet long.

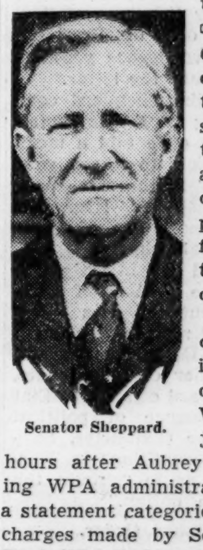
SENATE INQUIRY FINDS WORKERS USED AS PAWNS

Shakedown in Slush Funds Revealed.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The senate campaign expenditures committee, controled by Democrats, today added Pennsylvania to the list of states in which the WPA relief army has been converted into a political machine for the benefit of the New Deal candidates.



Senator Sheppard.

The senate committee made its sensational disclosures of WPA corruption just twenty-four hours after Aubrey Williams, acting WPA administrator, had issued a statement categorically denying all charges made by Senator James J. Davis [R., Pa.], who is opposed for reëlection by Gov. George H. Earle.

Uphold Davis Charges.

Williams told the committee, headed by Senator Morris Sheppard [D., Tex.], that he had investigated Senator Davis' charges and found that they did not contain "a scintilla of truth."

The Sheppard committee upheld all of Senator Davis' charges so far considered in a two page statement issued after today's meeting and announced that it had more evidence to consider tomorrow.

The committee found that owners of trucks used on WPA projects were solicited for $100 each in Carbon county, Pennsylvania; that owners of the trucks were requested by WPA officials to visit the representative of a Democratic leader at his home; that on one occasion ten or twelve truck owners were at the home of this political leader at one time, and that four promised contributions to the Democratic campaign and afterwards made part or full payments.

Find WPA Reprisals.

The committee found that eighteen WPA workers on a project near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., were ordered transferred from the project, which was near their homes, to a project located some thirty-five or forty miles away. The committee's investigators said the WPA workers were transferred because they had registered as Republicans and were wearing Republican buttons.

The assistant district attorney for Luzerne county complained to the WPA authorities about the transfer of these men and forced an investigation by the county WPA directors. The WPA director advised the committee's agents that the complaint was justified and that the men had been transferred back to a project near their homes.

The committee's investigators reported that large numbers of WPA workers in Luzerne county were mailed postal cards requesting them to call at Democratic headquarters. They found there was evidence, still being investigated, that the lists had been prepared at the WPA headquarters.

Fund Soliciting Revealed.

"Further evidence from the investigators showed that when these relief workers called at the Democratic headquarters they were solicited for campaign contributions, in some cases the amount requested being $100," the committee announcement said.

The evidence further disclosed that contributions actually were made by some of the relief workers on these visits, the committee added.

The Democratic leader who was interviewing these relief workers and to whose office they were sent was employed by the unemployment compensation service, which aids in administering the social security act, the committee statement said. As such an employé this Democratic leader is paid in part from federal funds. The committee said he was on leave from his official position, working for the Democratic party.

Explanation Set Forth.

"When the political leader, who received and interviewed the relief workers, as the result of the invitation extended by the postal cards, was asked by the committee's investigators the reason for the visit of these relief workers to Democratic headquarters," the committee statement said, "he stated that the Democratic headquarters had received complaints that WPA workers were loafing on the jobs and that these men had been sent for in the interest of the Democratic party, because he wanted 'to get them interested in the welfare of the Democratic party' to avoid that criticism.

"When further questioned by the investigators as to what he meant by 'getting them interested in the welfare of the Democratic party,' he said that he had reports that some of them were loafing on their jobs, and it was injurious to the Democratic party, and he wanted to warn them to give better attention to their jobs."

Ticket Selling Disclosed.

The committee said it had evidence that in three cases in Northampton county, Pennsylvania, either the forewoman or the supervisor of a women's sewing project of the WPA had handled the sale of tickets for three different Democratic gatherings, the tickets being in two instances $1 each and in the third, $1.50.

"The evidence further showed that large numbers of these women on this sewing project purchased tickets," the report said. "The supervisor of the WPA admits to the committee that at least thirty tickets were sold for one of these political gatherings; that 125 were sold for another, and that 123 were sold for the third."

Chairman Sheppard said the committee would consider tomorrow the reports of its investigators concerning the famous circular letter bearing the signature of Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.], which requested campaign contributions from hundreds of thousands of federal employés and WPA workers in Pennsylvania.

Letter Ruled Violation.

The committee already has ruled that this letter constituted a violation of the criminal code, but it has not fixed responsibility for the violation. Senator Guffey, one of President Roosevelt's most vociferous yes-men, denied that he signed the letter.

The report of the Sheppard committee puts Acting WPA Administrator Williams, who once told a meeting of WPA workers to "keep your friends in power," in the same position that Administrator Harry L. Hopkins found himself in during the Kentucky senatorial primary.

Hopkins ordered an investigation of charges that the WPA relief workers' army in Kentucky was being used as a political machine for President Roosevelt's "Dear Alben" Barkley, majority leader of the senate. He told the Sheppard committee that he found no evidence of political irregularities. The committee, however, found that conditions in Kentucky were such as to "arouse the conscience of the nation."

Hopkins Issues Order.

Administrator Hopkins today issued his customary preëlection order requiring project foremen to rearrange working schedules, wherever necessary, in order to permit WPA workers to vote.

Hopkins reaffirmed his pious admonition to supervisors not to attempt to influence the votes of WPA workers, and said that no employé would lose his job on account of his vote.

69 BEFORE JUDGE ON NEW MEXICAN WPA INDICTMENT

Open Technical Fight on Charges.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Colin Neblett.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Senator Dennis Chavez' WPA political machine showed a solid front today in the first court hearing on the indictment of seventy-three of its members for graft and political abuse of WPA. Sixty-nine of the defendants faced Colin Neblett, United States district judge, in a mass arraignment. Four were ill and did not appear.

Despite rumors that several minor defendants and one major figure in the scandal are inclined to tell what they know on the witness stand, there were no pleas of guilty. Indeed, only four minor defendants, among a score or more who appeared without counsel, entered pleas of not guilty. Lawyers for the remainder were given until Nov. 5 to file objections to the indictment. Pleas of their clients will be entered after the objections are heard.

Campaign Sticks to Issue.

The easy money from Washington that the Chavez machine is accused of turning to illegal political use is still a major issue in the state campaign. Speaking for John E. Miles, Chavez ally who is the Democratic nominee for governor, Walter Mayes, Clovis attorney, told a political meeting last night:

"You can't expect anything from a Democratic national administration if you elect a Republican state administration."

Despite the scandal growing out of the federal court indictments, Democratic politicians are still confident that pleas on this theme will renew their control of the state. One of them said in the lobby of a local hotel that, indictments, or no indictments, the heavy Mexican-American vote will go to the side that can promise it the most beans.

Dramatic Court Scene.

The arraignment this morning before Judge Neblett had its dramatic moments. Before the bar of the court, Everett Grantham, United States District attorney, who strikingly resembles a younger and chunkier edition of Chicago's federal prosecutor, Michael L. Igoe, called off the names of the defendants.

Those from the outlying counties were called first. Several times, when they appeared without counsel, Grantham read them the full text of the indictment against them.

Eventually he reached the big Albuquerque indictment charging forty-seven persons with a conspiracy involving thirty-two overt acts of intimidating and firing WPA employés, to influence their votes, diverting their services to political campaigning and shaking them down for campaign contributions.

At Grantham's direction the defendants, seated in the back of the courtroom, answered when their names were called. Then they walked forward and arranged themselves in a large semi-circle facing Judge Neblett.

Among the first called was Stanley W. P. Miller, Senator Chavez' son-in-law. Miller, a slim, spectacled youth, greeted Judge Neblett with an embarrassed smile. A week ago he was practicing before the judge as an assistant to Grantham. He was suspended, at his own request, the day after he was indicted.

Mrs. J. A. Werner, wife of the Albuquerque postmaster, ranged herself composedly beside Miller. Joe Martinez, the senator's secretary, stepped up briskly, smiling. Fred G. Healy, whom Harry Hopkins fired for political misuse of his post as state WPA director while the grand jury was in session, appeared careworn and worried.

Senator Chavez' sister, Mrs. Anita Tafoya, a thin little woman, slipped mouselike between two strapping WPA foremen. Also in the lineup were Fred Sganzini, head of the state drivers' license bureau; Charles Brunacine, state employment director of WPA; E. A. Rose, WPA zone supervisor in Albuquerque, and several other WPA executives.

Grantham, half joking, promised newspaper men that trial of the big conspiracy case will start Jan. 9.

MICHIGAN FARMER DIES.

Allegan, Mich., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Leonard H. Parks, 67 years old, widely known Allegan county farmer, died today at the home of a daughter, Mrs. William Welsh, at Merson.

Gretna Green Bride

MRS. JOSEPHINE QUINLAN.

Mrs. Josephine Hopkins Dunn, granddaughter of the late United States Senator Albert J. Hopkins, was married yesterday to John Quinlan, assistant manager of the Carlton hotel at 1517 Michigan avenue. The couple, it was learned, put in practice a now popular method of evading the Indiana statute which provides that a marriage license can be obtained only in the county of which the bride is a resident.

The bride to be merely registered at a Valparaiso hotel to become a resident of Porter county. A justice of the peace performed the ceremony. Valparaiso observers said there was nothing unusual about the procedure. It was reported that marriages of out of state couples there now total 60 per cent of the peak days when Valparaiso was regarded second only to Crown Point as a Gretna Green.

SUSPEND 2 POLICE IN MISER'S LOSS OF $11,100 HOARD

Policeman Reginald Smith and Charles Mousle of the Desplaines street station were suspended yesterday by Commissioner James P. Allman who ordered Capt. Patrick Collins to file charges before the police trial board. Capt. Collins said the charges would be neglect of duty, making false official reports, and conduct unbecoming policemen.

On Oct. 8 Otto Freitag, 58 years old, suffered an epileptic seizure at Madison street and Racine avenue. The two policemen took him in the station wagon to his one room flat at 1338 Madison street.

Shortly after regaining consciousness Freitag discovered that $11,100 he had sewn in the lining of his coat was missing. He complained to the police. Because he had accepted a $28.95 relief check every month for two years, while hoarding this sum, the Chicago relief commission later charged him with obtaining money under false pretences. This will be heard on Nov. 4.

Capt. Collins said that in handling the case, the policemen should have taken Freitag to a hospital; and should never have left him on the sidewalk in front of his home as he said they did. They said he entered the wagon unassisted, and that they never touched him. Other witnesses told Capt. Collins they saw the policemen take an address book from Freitag's clothing.

JARECKI DENIES PET APPRAISERS GOT $6,000,000

Accuser Brands Judge's Reply 'Preposterous.'

BY PERCY WOOD.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday struck back at Mrs. Harriet M. Robertson, president of the Women's Civic council, who charged him with paying 6 million dollars in the last sixteen years to estate appraisers who did nothing to earn the money.

In making his direct reply to Mrs. Robertson, Judge Jarecki shifted the stand he took on Sunday when he declared he would ignore her charges as campaign propaganda. Yesterday he submitted figures purporting to show that no such sum as 6 million dollars had gone to appraisers. He said that total fees paid to appraisers since 1934 amounted to $140,716, or about $30,000 annually.

The judge called Mrs. Robertson's calculations 90 per cent wrong, inasmuch as her figures would indicate annual payments of about $375,000.

Quit Quibbling, She Retorts.

Mrs. Robertson promptly replied. She declared that Judge Jarecki was seeking to minimize the offense with which she has charged him. She called on him to stop "quibbling" over amounts and reply to the question of whether the appraisers were paid illegally or for actual services rendered.

Judge Jarecki's reply to Mrs. Robertson was prefaced by figures of appraisal fees since 1934. They follow:

1936	27,720
1937	31,065
1938 [to Oct. 1]	20,283

"It required just a few hours of work by honest and competent persons consulting the very same records that Mrs. Robertson consulted—and there are no other records—to completely collapse the central charge in her complaint that $6,000,000 was awarded by me as fees to appraisers during the last sixteen years," Judge Jarecki said.

Calls Her "Irresponsible."

"Her assertion that an annual average of $375,000 in fees was certified by me is thus shown to be 90 per cent wrong. It reflects the utter irresponsibility of the statements by Mrs. Robertson, formerly of Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo., and proves them to be a fabrication of untruths and misstatements of facts.

"The administration of the inheritance tax law since its inception in 1895 has been under the joint jurisdiction of the county judge in each of the 102 counties in Illinois, and the attorney general," Judge Jarecki continued.

"I have shared the responsibility for its honest and conscientious administration in Cook county since 1922 with three attorneys general, and I am satisfied that the two predecessors of Mr. Otto Kerner conducted their portion of the task of assessment and collection of inheritance taxes with the same honesty and fidelity that he has shown.

"My time is fully occupied as county judge with the trial of cases and the other numerous duties of the county court. I do not intend to be diverted from the discharge of these duties nor to be drawn into controversies with irresponsible characters seeking to make a campaign issue by distorting official figures and misstating them in the guise of a 'sworn statement' to the newspapers."

Find Two Separate Records.

Mrs. Robertson claims that two sets of books are kept in the office of County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer showing payments to appraisers and the abstracting company. Two separate records were found yesterday. They concerned the fee given Sidney Holzman, Judge Jarecki's secretary, who was appraiser of the estate of the late Cyrus H. McCormick, on which an inheritance tax of $1,630,156 was paid last year.

Mrs. Robertson charged that Holzman had received $411 for this appraisal, $111 more than the limit of $300 set by law for any separate appraisal. Holzman replied that he had received only $210, while the remainder of the $411 went to the abstracting company.

The disbursement book kept by Thomas J. Ryan, head of the inheritance tax division of Lindheimer's office, shows a payment of $411 on the McCormick estate. Holzman's name appears alongside the entry. Ryan said he told Mrs. Robertson's investigators that this sum included abstracting expenses.

Fee Division Revealed.

In the bookkeeping department, adjacent to Ryan's desk, the records show the $411 entry broken down into $210 for Holzman and $201 to the Inheritance Abstracting company. The checks were issued on June 12, 1937, one week after Holzman had completed his appraisal of the estate.

Ryan said that he has kept his records in a lump sum for twenty-five years. Until about fifteen years ago, he declared, appraisers paid the abstracting fees themselves.

Holzman and other personal employés of Judge Jarecki who were also appointed as appraisers in various cases received no salary from the county and claim that all they earn is what they receive for that work. Mrs. Robertson contends that their time should have been taken up with their services to the judge and that they should not have devoted any time to appraisal work.

Mrs. Robertson's Statement.

Mrs. Robertson's reply to Judge Jarecki follows:

"Judge Jarecki is following the usual course pursued by all persons facing serious charges. Instead of answering the charges contained in the complaint, Judge Jarecki is endeavoring to minimize the offense by asserting that the amount claimed to have been illegally paid to appraisers, experts and abstract companies is substantially less than represented in the information filed with the president of the Chicago Bar association. That is exactly what his chauffeur and his secretary did yesterday. They, too, claimed that the amounts they received were less than charged.

"Our investigators reported to us that the records of the county treasurer's office that were furnished to them by Mr. Lindheimer disclosed payments to appraisers, experts, abstract fees, etc. in the 11,000 cases examined of a sum in excess of $4,500,000. Our survey was cursory in the preceding four years of Judge Jarecki's tenure in office during which time similar fees were paid in like proportions.

Wants to See All Books.

"We have asked for all of his books, and were told that the books given us contained all of the records that we requested. If the county treasurer has books other than those which he furnished to us, we shall be pleased to examine them, and will be at his office tomorrow morning for that very purpose.

"Any claim that the total fees paid out to appraisers, experts and the abstract company during the last 16 years is less than $1,000,000 is preposterous on its face. We have shown in our complaint that Messrs. Matuszak, Holzman, Zweifka, and Hannigan received over $200,000 in 12 years, and there are approximately 400 appraisers listed on the books, not including the experts. We are reliably informed that prior to 1932 there were 5 experts engaged in appraisal work who averaged not less than $3,000 per month each.

[The Matuszak referred to is A. L. Matuszak, listed as Judge Jarecki's personal chauffeur; Holzman, his personal secretary; Vincent Zwiefka, his personal clerk, and Thomas Hannigan, identified in Mrs. Robertson's charges as "in some unknown fashion attached to the County court."]

Assail Abstract Fees.

"If Judge Jarecki will look into the 'abstract company' which is so mysteriously controled, he will find that it alone received at least several hundred thousand dollars. The very minimum they make in any case is $8.

"According to the statement issued yesterday by Judge Jarecki's secretary, Sidney Holzman, and his chauffeur, A. L. Matuszak, their fees in many instances ran well over the $100 mark. Multiply those figures by 11,000 cases which we have examined, and 3,000 more cases that were filed before 1926 under Jarecki's régime, and those figures alone will exceed their total estimate.

"Again we repeat that Judge Jarecki and his staf should stop quibbling about amounts and answer the principal charge: Whether or not these fees were paid illegally or for actual services rendered. That is what we want to know. We maintain that the payments which he admits, whatever they may be, are illegal and contrary to law."

In another development of the Jarecki-Robertson controversy, some light was thrown yesterday on the Inheritance Abstract company, a mysterious concern which performs all of the abstract work on contested estate cases in the county court. The company, located at 160 North La Salle street, had held a monopoly on this work since 1925.

Mrs. Ruth Schultz, 2236 North La Crosse avenue, said that she is the sole owner of the concern. She is paid by the county, on authorization of Judge Jarecki, she said, and her fees for making inventories of property in contested estates are never more than $195 or $200 per case.

Her office, Mrs. Schultz said, is always located in the same building with that of the attorney general. When he moves his quarters, so does she.

Gross Income Put at $20,000.

Mrs. Schultz declared her gross income ran about $20,000 annually.

Contrasting this assertion was that of Attorney General Kerner who said that during his fiscal year ending last June 30, a total of 464 appraisals were performed by the concern. Had each case brought in $100, the company's gross income would have been $46,400.

Mrs. Schultz said that the shortest time her clerks and stenographers worked on a case was two days, while in one instance they devoted five weeks to an abstract.

Attorney General Kerner praised the work performed by Mrs. Schultz.

IMPEACHMENT DEMANDED FOR MME. PERKINS

Legion Official Gives Data on Her Aid to Reds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—A spokesman for the American Legion today demanded impeachment proceedings against Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. He charged her with dereliction of duty in failing to deport undesirable aliens.

Madame Perkins.

The charges against Madame Perkins were the outgrowth of testimony today before the Dies house committee investigating un-American activities.

Harper Knowles of Oakland, Cal., chairman of the radical research committee of the California American Legion, submitted voluminous documentary evidence against Secretary Perkins. The evidence is in connection with her dropping of deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges, Australian-born leader of the C. I. O. on the west coast and alleged communist. There also was evidence of leniency towards other unwanted aliens.

Bridges Data Also Submitted.

Yesterday Knowles submitted a mass of evidence against Bridges as a communist agitator responsible for the costly shipping strike on the Pacific coast.

The Legionnaire urged the Dies committee to make a careful study of his evidence and exhibits with a view to possible impeachment, or similar action, against Mme. Perkins.

"It is definitly and specifically charged," said Knowles, "that Secretary Perkins has been guilty of derelicition of duty in her failure to carry out the laws of the country which in her assumption of office she solemnly assumed and swore to fulfill.

"Her coddling of alien criminals and offenders against the laws of our land is so notorious that some evidences must already have been presented to your committee."

Claims Definite Facts.

The Legion representative spoke soberly as he referred to the prepared brief which he submitted for the record in testifying on west coast aliens and their treatment by the department of immigration and naturalization during Secretary Perkins' administration.

"The situation as affecting California is one concerning which we can speak with definite knowledge and authority," Knowles said, "and if the same conditions apply throughout the United States there is reflected upon the administration of Secretary Perkins gross malfeasance of office."

He also accused the labor department of abusing confidential information supplied by the American Legion to the local immigration officials in California concerning activities, nationalities, and antecedents of aliens violating immigration and naturalization laws.

Charges Maladministration.

Knowles urged the Dies committee to examine the labor department's repatriation of Filipinos, which he described as "one of the most ludicrous and expensive cases of maladministration in the department."

In his testimony he also charged that in the last five years Mme. Perkins "has withheld the deportation of 2,862 aliens in the expectation that congress will revise our immigration and naturalization laws."

"It is submitted," he added, "that she was appointed to discharge the duties of her office and not to use her own discretion in matters of law."

Knowles also pointed out that since James L. Houghteling assumed office as immigration commissioner under the labor secretary that the practice of providing guards for repatriates has been discontinued—increasing the chances of failure to carry out deportation.

Her Defiance Is Told.

At yesterday's session Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] told of Madame Perkins' defiance toward his request that deportation proceedings against Bridges be resumed.

Earlier in the session today Knowles testified that communists have not confined themselves to infesting industrial labor unions, but have also worked on the agricultural situation.

He said that California agriculture has been a major focal point of communist infiltration since 1933. He added that great assistance had been given to communist farm agitators by Bridges and his International Longshoremen's association and the Maritime Federation of the Pacific.

Explains Red Strategy.

"The question may be raised," Knowles said, "as to why California agriculture has been selected as the battle ground for the efforts of the communist party. The answer is: because of its vulnerability.

"Most of the crops are highly perishable in nature and must be harvested and disposed of without delay, or they will become a total loss.

"California agriculture supplies approximately 40 per cent of all the fresh and preserved fruits and vegetables consumed in the United States. And failure of the crops due to inability to harvest them would endanger the food supply of the nation, resulting in widespread suffering and exorbitant prices, thus carrying out the program of the Communist Internationale."

PRESIDENT DEFIED BY DIES; WILL DO HIS DUTY, HE SAYS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Chairman Martin Dies of the house committee investigating un-American activities, tonight said that while he "deeply regretted the President's bitter attack upon a committee of an independent congress" he would continue to do his duty "undeterred and unafraid."

Dies said he had known "from the beginning that neither the President nor his advisers favored this investigation."

"In spite of this," he said, "I have felt it my duty to conduct a fearless and honest inquiry regardless of political expediency so that the people may know the truth. The evidence with reference to the Michigan case would be accepted in any court. It showed very clearly that well known communists instigated and engineered the sitdown strikes and the so-called Lansing holiday when the state capitol was barricaded by a mob of 15,000 people.

"The state police sat helplessly by for lack of instructions from the governor in the face of open rebellion, while the governor complacently looked down upon the scene from a window in the capitol.

"It can not be disputed that misdemeanors and felonies were committed on that disgraceful day under the very eyes of the governor who had sworn to uphold law and order."

Blasts at Disclosures as False and Unfair.

condonation of the sitdown strike or any illegal practice.

"But the governor was informed by responsible officers of the National Guard that any attempt on the part of the National Guard forcibly to eject the sitdown strikers at Flint would result in bloodshed and riot. Knowing these facts, the governor labored in the open, in the American way, to bring about a prompt settlement of the labor trouble without resort to force.

Praises His Course.

"Gov. Murphy always insisted that the lawful order of the court must be obeyed. But knowing that negotiations for settlement were proceeding and that precipitous efforts to enforce the court order would result in violence which would disrupt peaceful negotiations, he requested the sherif to postpone the enforcement of the court order over the week-end. For that act a few petty politicians accuse him of treason; for that act every peace-loving American should praise him."

The exposures of the Dies committee have long been a thorn in the side of Mr. Roosevelt. The testimony of witnesses has repeatedly linked his administration to the communist party.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins has been accused of befriending Harry Bridges, California labor agitator and an alleged communist. She has prevented his deportation. In various states labor troubles have been promoted by known communists with the support of local Democratic organizations, according to the committee's findings.

Outburst Not Unexpected.

The President's outburst, therefore, was not unexpected. When newspapermen gathered at his press conference today a press association reporter asked what was obviously a "planted" question. These are queries inspired by the President himself and planted with friendly correspondents.

"Are you concerned about the testimony before the Dies committee involving Gov. Murphy of Michigan?" the reporter asked.

"I certainly am concerned," the President answered quickly. "But I am afraid that my language might not be polite enough if I spoke extemporaneously. I will dictate something and give it to you later."

An hour elapsed before the prepared statement was made public.

"How about discussing the testimony before the committee that you appointed Dr. Louis Bloch, a communist, to the federal maritime labor board?" the President was asked.

Mr. Roosevelt answered that he would confine his statement to the testimony concerning Gov. Murphy.

A CABLE BURIED 47 YEARS CAUSES FRANCHISE FIGHT

A section of cable little more than two blocks long, which has been buried under La Salle street for forty-seven years, was the center of contention yesterday before the city council committee on utilities. The cable belongs to the Illinois District Telegraph company, which has operated a burglary and fire watch service since 1891.

Because the cable is on city property, the company has been franchised, its payments to the city amounting to $60,000 to $75,000 a year. The committee voted against renewing this franchise. It recommended that the council, at its meeting today, grant a ten year franchise to the Potter Electric company of St. Louis. The Potter company would pay 6 per cent of its receipts to the city; the Illinois District Telegraph has been paying 5 per cent.

The joker, said A. L. Smith, commercial superintendent, is that the I. D. T. can abandon the old cable in forty-eight hours and conduct its business over leased telephone and telegraph company wires. This made it appear the city would be tossing away a certain income for a doubtful one. The committee action followed protests by the electrical workers union against employment of seventy-five nonunion maintenance men by I. D. T.

Says Hands Show Dual Gaming Record Kept.

Municipal Judge Edward B. Casey last night reiterated charges of grave irregularities in the handling of gambling cases by Judge Eugene J. Holland, formerly of the Racket court. To support his allegations he displayed a photograph he designated as "Judge Holland's private scratch sheet."

This picture, which was passed about in the audience that heard Judge Casey in the Moreland church at Lotus and Huron streets, showed the hands of a man poised over two sheets of paper. One sheet was large. The other, smaller, was under the right hand, which grasped a pencil.

Charges Unofficial Record Kept.

Previously Judge Casey, a Republican running for reëlection, had declared Judge Holland kept an unofficial record of gambling cases, and made cryptic marks on it while hearings were being held. The unofficial sheet, he added, was turned over to Judge Holland's bailif at the end of each session. On one occasion, he said, the bailif presented the list to a lawyer and an altercation followed ending in a fist fight.

Judge Holland, a Democrat and also a candidate for reëlection, declared the Casey charges were false. He denied that there was, or ever had been, any unofficial sheet. He said that he made no notations except those on his regular large call sheet.

"There is an unofficial sheet," declared Judge Casey last night. "This is a picture of it. Does Judge Holland deny that these are his hands? I must wait to prove the truth of my charges in court, since Judge Holland is not going to sue me until after election, but I can prove it to you."

Calls Court Disheartening.

Continuing, he said that the Municipal court was established in 1906 to eliminate the evils of the old justice of the peace system.

"For twenty-four years, under Chief Justice Harry Olson, the court was admirable," he said. "Now it is disheartening to see how, in eight years of Democratic rule, it has sunk to the depths.

"The court is now under the domination of the Kelly-Nash machine. The machine wanted it because it has 700 political jobs. Now it is reaching further. It created the Racket court, to which gambling cases are referred, because it wished to have the right judge in the right place. In eleven months Judge Holland heard 7,700 gambling cases. Of these cases 7,700 were dismissed."

Holland Explains Photograph.

Judge Holland said last night that there was no mystery about the photograph.

"It was taken after court and at the urgent request of a photographer for an afternoon newspaper," he said. "Furthermore, it was printed in that paper. The small sheet of paper is one used to protect my hands from carbon and has nothing to do with court matters. Why doesn't Judge Casey display the whole thing? He is making a hullabaloo about something that means nothing. All his charges are false and this is another instance of his unfairness."

ARLENE RICHINE.

The death of a young mother following an attempt to drink a pint of whisky in an hour to win a $5 bet was described yesterday to a jury. Her daughter, 3 years old, was among those at the trial, before Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

The victim was Mrs. Antoinette Richine, 21 years old, who was a waitress in the Pink Elephant tavern at 147 North 15th avenue, Melrose Park. Suit for $100,000 damages under the dram shop act was brought by her husband, Victor, of 7654 63d street, Argo, and Arlene, the daughter. Defendants are the tavern owners, Peter Waicunas and Paul Sakenas.

Witnesses testified that Mrs. Richine collapsed after drinking three-fourths of the whisky and died a few minutes later of acute alcoholism on Aug. 22, 1936.

HARDING DENIES ARVEY CHARGES OF INDIFFERENCE

George F. Harding, Republican national committeeman, last night denied the charge made by Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], Democratic leader, that Harding is not interested in the success of the Republican ticket.

"I am with the Republican ticket as always," Harding declared. "I am not a member of the county committee and naturally do not attend its meeting. I am attending as many meetings and I am speaking as often as ever. I spoke last night. I am speaking tonight and tomorrow night."

IGOE AND CUMMINGS CONSIDER ACTION IN CHICAGO MILK QUIZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Federal District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, of Chicago, is here discussing proposed indictments in the Chicago milk monopoly investigation, the justice department said today.

Igoe was accompanied here by Leo T. Tierney, a special assistant to Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, who has been in charge of the Chicago inquiry since March. They talked with Cummings and Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

None of the officials would comment on the conference. The Chicago investigation, which lasted more than a year, sought to determine if nationwide milk interests have combined to monopolize the dairy industry in violation of the federal anti-trust laws.

JUDGES DO IT, DEFENSE OF 3 IN ILLEGAL POSTING

Free Young Reds After Hanging Up Bills.

Violations of Chicago's bill poster ordinances by campaign workers for municipal judges were cited yesterday in the Boys' court in defense of two Herzl Junior college students and a companion. The three were charged with posting an advertisment for a radical meeting on a wall at Roosevelt and Pulaski roads without the consent of the owner of the building.

Judge L. K. Hayes.

"These boys don't know the law," said Attorney Francis Heisler, representing the defendants. "They see all of these political posters pasted on buildings for judges and for other candidates. Naturally, they think judges and other candidates wouldn't violate the law."

Court Advises Boys.

"If the judicial candidates are posting without permission of property owners," said Judge Lambert K. Hayes, "they, too, should be arrested.

"I don't care about your political beliefs," he continued, turning to the three youths. "I don't want to make martyrs out of you. I'd advise, however, that you give more thought to your own country and less to Europe; think more about protecting American minorities from oppression."

The judge imposed and suspended a $1 fine against Bernard Deutch, 17 years old, 3546 Lyndale street. A classmate at Herzl, Abe Leibik, 17 years old, 3315 Douglas boulevard, and David Serbin, 18 years old, 1917 South Harding avenue, were discharged.

Seek to Post Slogan.

Meanwhile, the Republican state central committee was still having trouble in trying lawfully to post in Chicago the slogan "Smash Nash-Kelly Boss Rule—Vote Republican." Otto Krueger, business agent for local No. 1 of the bill posters' union, a week or so ago told George A. Curran, Republican nominee for county treasurer, that the union would not post this slogan "for fear of getting in bad with the administration."

A. K. Stiles, chairman of the Republican state central committee, said that placards reading "Smash Nash-Kelly Boss Rule—Vote Republican" were being placed in windows of stores and residences without infringing on the union's jurisdiction. The signs are also going up in Cook county outside Chicago and some have been ordered for downstate.

Efforts to reach Krueger by telephone yesterday were unsuccessful. Individual members said that they had heard of no union meeting being called to vote on whether to sustain or to overrule the business agent's decision on this issue.

EHLER ASSAILS JARECKI RULE OF COUNTY BALLOTS

Accuses Campaign Foe of Dishonest Control.

Theodore F. Ehler, Republican candidate for county judge, yesterday dropped his usual mild demeanor to make charges of dishonest election control against County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, Democratic candidate for reëlection.

Ehler, who was favored over Jarecki by the Chicago Bar association after a poll of attorneys, held the incumbent responsible for vote stealing and election frauds. As county judge, Jarecki is head of the election machinery.

Points to Loss of Votes.

"In the last primary, 118,000 registration cards were illegally removed and concealed," Ehler said. "Jarecki thereby disfranchised 118,000 voters of Cook county.

"And although in 1936 he ruled that voters could not change their party affiliations within a period of two calendar years, he unscrupulously reversed himself in the last primary, in violation of the law and his own previous ruling. He not only permitted but invited voters to vote for him personally without regard to their legal limitations."

Refers to Party Switch.

Ehler referred to the party switch by which it was estimated several hundred thousand Republican voters were drawn into the Democratic primary fight. Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski of the Circuit court later held the switching was illegal but that nothing could be done about the results.

The Republican candidate made his charges before 550 members of the Woman's National Republican club of Chicago in the La Salle hotel.

"Another serious repudiation of Judge Jarecki was the recent indictment by the federal grand jury of Alexander J. McKay, who was appointed by Jarecki as head of the election board. McKay is charged with graft and corruption in regard to sanitary district contracts.

Integrity Jeopardized, He Says.

"It was the same McKay who manipulated the ballots and illegally dominated the election machinery in the last primary to insure Jarecki's renomination as county judge."

Ehler also declared that the integrity of the office of county judge had been jeopardized by accusations that a $6,000,000 inheritance tax fee scandal exists there. Any honorable judge should demand an immediate hearing on such charges, Ehler said.

"If elected I will make a thorough house cleaning in the administration of inheritance tax cases and prosecute every person who received any money from the public treasury without having rendered a real service for it," Ehler said. "That includes Edmund K. Jarecki."

LA GUARDIA GETS HOG KELLY LOST ON BET AGAINST THE YANKS

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—A 500 pound dressed hog with a bright from Chicago today from Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago for Mayor F. H. La Guardia in payment of a wager on the Cubs-Yanks series. Kelly lost.

Mayor La Guardia came out of city hall and posed for photographs standing beside the hog when it was delivered to him. He directed that the hog be sent to the municipal lodging house, where it will feed about 1,000 lodgers, and asked that one loin be sent to him.

"I owe it to Kelly to eat part of of it," he said.

ACTS AS OWN LAWYER; FINED.

Judge Michael J. Tremko of the Renters court yesterday fined Philip L. Cannizzo, 4461 Lawrence avenue, a real estate dealer, $5 for contempt of court. Cannizzo was found guilty of representing himself as a lawyer in an eviction case.

HORNER DISOWNS ALL WHO WON'T SUPPORT TICKET

Comment Recalls Speech by Courtney.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Democratic party workers last night were warned by Gov. Horner to support the entire state ticket. His statement was made at a climactic meeting of 7,000 pay rollers in the ballroom at 128 North Pulaski road. The gathering was the last of four intended to cement inner party harmony.

"Any one who can't support the Democratic ticket from top to bottom need give me no support," the governor said.

Mayor Kelly and Gov. Horner appeared at last night's meeting, but State's Attorney Courtney and Scott W. Lucas, candidate for United States senator, failed to attend.

Recalls Talk by Courtney.

Party workers were puzzled by the governor's statement, but recalled a recent talk by Courtney, whose attitude has not been clearly revealed during the harmony series. In that speech Courtney said:

"When we talk about harmony we can't overlook the things that brought about discord in our party."

Courtney also declared that he was well acquainted with the records of the Democratic candidates and that he would support only those candidates whose records waranted support.

Lucas, who spoke at three other night meetings, was not mentioned by Mayor Kelly in the mayor's reiterated plea for support of the whole ticket.

At one meeting where Lucas spoke Negroes were told not to forget the federal checks they had received. It was held at Bacon's Casino, 49th street and Wabash avenue.

"If any one of you people on WPA doesn't vote the Democratic ticket I hope the next time you get your WPA check you get it in your hat," said Dr. Jay J. Peters, colored chiropodist.

"Food is the staf of life, and if a Negro doesn't eat he's a dead bird. So as long as you are a living free man go out and vote that Democratic ticket."

As the Democrats were ostensibly left free to spend the remaining thirteen days of the campaign selling their ticket to non-pay roll voters, the Republicans forged ahead on a united front.

Lyons Appeals to Parents.

Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for United States senator, appealed to parents at four meetings to reopen the path of opportunity for their children.

"Out of the high schools of this nation last June came 1,450,000 boys and girls," Lyons said. "Next June another 1,500,000 will be through with school, eager to start useful, productive work so they can prepare to marry and have their own homes.

"What is there for them? Is there nothing but to go into CCC camps, and from CCC camps into the WPA, there to spend the most fruitful years of their lives? What is there now except such a ghastly outlook, with the prospect of winding up on some old age assistance scheme?"

There was prolonged applause when Lyons demanded that private enterprise be freed from New Deal tyranny, taxation, and the flood of foreign products which amounted to 3 billion dollars last year.

Many Mothers in Audience.

Mrs. Bertha Baur, national Republican committee woman for Illinois, presided over the meeting. Most members of this audience were mothers. Many of them went up to Lyons after the meeting and entreated him to do something to revive private employment. They cheered him as he left the hall.

Lyons spoke after Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman of the Republican program committee had discussed the basic weakness of New Deal policies.

"I think I can sum up Dr. Frank's speech in four words," said Lyons. "They are: Debt, doubt, depression, and dictatorship."

Lyons' challenge to a debate on the Republican old age pension plan went unanswered yesterday by his Democratic opponent. So Lyons sent another letter to Lucas, daring him to speak from the same platform on communism.

Lucas assailed the Republican proposal of increased tarifs at his meeting last night.

"It is simply incredible that any individual could advocate the placing of a tarif wall around our nation so high that it would exclude all imports," said Lucas. "Yet in this very campaign Republican spokesmen are saying that they stand four square for a prohibitive tarif."

Lucas said he is pledged to the reciprocal trade agreements of the Roosevelt administration. He said they are reopening world markets lost to the United States under Republican leadership.

LEHMAN BACKED BY CORRUPTION, DEWEY CHARGES

Asks Voters to Sweep Democrats Out.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for governor, tonight urged voters here in the camp of the enemy to elect the G. O. P. ticket and sweep the empire state clean of political racketeers.

Dewey painted a picture of Democratic governors past and present leaning on corrupt political machines. He named names of underworld politicians in Albany and linked his Democratic opponent Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, with Dan O'Connell, notorious boss of the Albany county organization. O'Connell's two brothers share in the political spoils of the county, Dewey said.

79,000 Voters; 82,000 Registered.

This corruption under the shadow of the state capital reached a climax this fall when 82,000 persons were registered here, although the city directory listed a maximum of only 79,000 adults eligible to vote, Dewey revealed.

Five thousand men and women jammed Harmanus Bleecker hall to catch a glimpse of the popular racket busting district attorney. They cheered him at every turn. Police and firemen began closing the doors half an hour before Dewey's appearance and several thousand listened to the speech over an amplifying system outside.

Cheer Dewey's Thrusts.

The crowd howled as Dewey assailed the Lehman-Roosevelt-Farley-Tammany Hall forces. They roared with laughter when Dewey repeatedly capped each revelation of the political and criminal combination opposing him with the statement that Gov. Lehman probably was unaware of existing conditions.

"But his political advisers could have told him," Dewey would say amid applause.

Before boarding the train for Albany, Dewey issued a statement saying the governor had been unable to contradict a single statement he had made, and despite all provocation he would not indulge in personal abuse of his opponent. Dewey said he would continue to show that it is unreal to believe corrupt political machines can sponsor good government.

After his Albany speech the Dewey caravan moved across the Hudson river to Troy, where another great crowd turned out to hear the Republican nominee. Dewey supporters believe victory lies in the huge outpourings of people to hear their candidate.

Directs Attack at O'Connell.

Dewey's attack tonight centered on Boss O'Connell who played a prominent part in persuading Lehman to run for governor again when he wanted to run for senator. O'Connell was convicted twice and served a sentence in connection with a baseball pool racket several years ago.

He showed that Dan O'Connell and his brothers had shaved the assessment on their brewery, Hedrick's by $250,000 in order to cut their taxes, had lowered assessements on the houses of political henchmen and raised them on Republicans. When the decent citizens of Albany attempted a cleanup in 1935, Dewey said, the O'Connells packed the grand jury with their ward heelers.

Gov. Lehman was touring the western end of the state today. Last night in Albany the governor accused Dewey of carrying on a campaign of villification, abuse and sinister misrepresentations in his attacks on the O'Connells and others.

HEARST COLLECTION OF OLD SILVER TO BE SOLD IN GREAT BRITAIN

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Part of W. R. Hearst's collection of old silver, covering the fifteenth to nineteenth centuries, which is being sold in liquidation of the publisher s estate, will be offered at Christie's on Dec. 14.

The collection comes entirely from St. Donat's castle in Wales, which, with all its art treasures, is being sold. Perhaps the most important piece historically is a horn once owned by King Canute.

Another historic piece is the great mace and sword of the corporation city of Galway. The sword is of the seventeenth century, and the mace bears the Dublin hallmark, 1709.

Examples of every period of silversmithing in Great Britain will be offered.

Temple University Student Plunges 10 Floors to Death

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Betty Bonner Fell, 21 years old, a student at Temple university, fell to her death late today from the tenth floor of one of the downtown college's buildings. A knife near the body, and the remnants of a bottle of poison on the ledge from which Miss Fell plunged, indicated the girl took her own life. Miss Fell, a freshman, was an exchange student from Rider college, Trenton, N. J., and lived in that city.

NATION'S HEALTH CALLED CENTURY BEHIND SCIENCE

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The health condition of the average American citizen is 100 years behind what it should be, Dr. Abel Wolman of Baltimore, Md., new president of the American Public Health association, said today.

Despite the fact that the death rate for the first half of this year in the United States was lower than at any time in history, it still was far too high compared with what can be done by the widespread use of existing medical and health knowledge in a national health program, the president said.

At the same time Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States public health service, declared in another address at the association's annual convention here that a health program to extend such knowledge will be presented at the next session of congress, in January.

$1,000 Apartment Fire Forces 12 Into Street

Billowing smoke from a fire in the second floor apartment of John Lock yesterday forced a dozen residents to flee the three story, three apartment building at 3542 North Halsted street. The flames were confined to the Lock apartment where the damage was $1,000. Mrs. Lock and two children were at home when the blaze started. Its cause was not known.

Burglar Leaves Police His Shoes and Clothesline

He left his shoes in the alley. He left his clothesline by which he climbed up to the window. And he left the auto jack he used to force the window open. The burglar also left the police holding the bag in the tie shop at 502 North Michigan avenue last night. When they got there he was gone. P. S.: He left the ties, too.

HIS WILD OATS FINALLY CATCH UP WITH ZIGGY

Ziggy, the handsomest of America's male elephants, has rheumatism. So he smoked no cigarets last night and his merry harmonica was stilled.

Attendants at the Chicago Zoölogical park propped ladders against his sides and climbed up to rub his massive shoulders with liniment. They soaked towels the size of rugs in hot water and applied them where Ziggy hurst the worst. Then they gave him hot water with ginger in it.

Assistant Director Robert Bean said that Ziggy is too young at 20 to have rheumatism. He blamed the one night stands of Ziggy's early career, when Ziggy trouped with a company of midgets and had to catch midnight trains, miss his sleep, and eat on the run.

Ziggy came to America 18 years ago as a Christmas present for the late Flo Ziegfeld's daughter.

MICHIGAN G. O. P. LIKELY TO GAIN 3 CONGRESSMEN

Sitdown Strikes Issue in Campaign.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Indications that Michigan Republicans may gain three seats in congress, possibly more, are growing.

Former Gov. Comstock, Democrat, who is opposing Gov. Murphy.

The prime issue of the sitdown strikes of 1937 and communist activities in politics on which former Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald is hammering against Gov. Frank Murphy appears to be spreading fast into the congressional contests. Republicans now say they figure on three new seats with a possibility of two more.

Of Michigan's present members of the house at Washington, eight are Democrats and nine are Republicans. Five of the seats held by Democrats are in Wayne county [Detroit], two in the upper peninsula and one is in Flint, scene of sitdown strikes in 1937. The rest of Michigan's districts are Republican.

Democratic Split Develops.

Cleavages are becoming more pronounced as the campaign nears its end. Former Gov. William A. Comstock, Democrat, is a critic of Murphy, who is running for reëlection. At Lansing a convention of constitutional Democrats was held a few weeks ago and this group is backing away from the governor. On the other hand, Chase S. Osborn, Republican, who was governor a quarter century ago said yesterday he was for Murphy, adding he was not going to leave the Republican party for him. He said he was willing to say Murphy deserved reëlection for his public health program alone.

The 6th district has one of the hottest of the congressional battles. This district includes Flint, third largest city in the state and Lansing, fifth largest. Representative Andrew Transue, Democrat, of Flint, is opposed by William W. Blackney, Republican of Flint, former congressman.

In Flint, where Murphy recently addressed a large labor meeting, political activity is red hot. The United Auto Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate and the vigilante groups of 1937 are in the fray on opposing sides.

Labor Holiday an Issue.

In Lansing, the labor holiday of June 7, 1937, is being made a foremost issue. Before the Dies house committee investigating un-American activities, witnesses last week described this labor holiday. Members of the United Auto Workers swarmed into the city and demonstrated almost at the doorsteps of the capitol. Stores were ordered closed.

Demonstrators went to East Lansing and attempted to close up the shops. When they tried to close restaurants where students from the state college ate, the college boys picked up five or six of them and ducked them in the Red Cedar river. When a large force of demonstrators swarmed out later in cars, they were met by most of the student body apparently ready to defend the institution. That ended the labor holiday.

This episode has been widely discussed from the platform in recent days. Murphy's attitude during this holiday has been assailed by the Republicans, while the governor has been defending the position he took.

Republicans Expect to Win.

The sixth is one district the Republicans expect to recapture. The race, however, appears close.

The eleventh district on both sides the Straits of Mackinac is another with a concentrated contest. Representative John Luecke, Democrat, of Escanaba, is opposed by Fred Bradley, Republican, a Rogers City shipping man.

One seat in Detroit is estimated at better than a 50-50 chance for a Republican gain. Clarence J. McLeod, Republican former congressman, is opposing Representative George O'Brien in the 13th district. McLeod was in congress seven terms.

In the 16th, in Wayne county, John L. Carey, Republican mayor of Dearborn, is opposing Representative John Lesinski, Democrat. It is rated a possible win by the Republicans, depending on how big a swing develops. The 15th Detroit district is given similar rating.

The 1st district in Detroit is a mixup of machine politics. It includes Hamtramck and has a heavy Polish vote, industrial and Democratic. Representative George G. Sadowski, Democrat, who served three terms as a New Deal wheel horse, was defeated in the primaries by Rudolph G. Tenerowicz, mayor of Hamtramck.

Opposing the mayor is Charles A. Roxborough, a colored candidate who years ago was office boy to former Gov. Osborn. His brother is Joe Louis' manager.

Vote Fraud Witness

EVELYN GOODMAN.

Arrest of a woman witness who testified that she asked aid in voting although she could read and write was demanded yesterday in the 24th ward vote fraud trial. The witness was Mrs. Evelyn Goodman, 1538 South Central Park avenue. The demand was made by John Cashen, assistant state's attorney. Judge Edmund K. Jarecki instructed the prosecutor to prepare a warant.

Numerous witnesses testified in the County court that they had received aid in voting in the April primary. All five election officials of the 35th precinct of the ward are on trial for contempt, as a result of fraud charges arising from reports that the aid accorded voters amounted to doing their voting for them.

WOMAN CASHIER ROBBED.

Mrs. Carrie Born, cashier for the Linden Laundry company, 409 North Laramie avenue, was robbed of $400, the day's collections, yesterday by three gunmen. Mrs. Born lives at 620 North Lockwood avenue.

CLEW TO BOY'S MYSTERY DEATH SOUGHT IN CANDY

Robert Brelin, 4 years old, 5929 North Paulina street, took 2 cents to a neighborhood candy store yesterday to buy a treat for himself and a playmate, Barbara Higgins. They got some hard candy balls. On the way back Robert said he felt sick. Barbara went on without him to her home at 5925 Paulina.

Early last evening Robert was found dead on a sandpile in a vacant lot near by, his face smeared with candy. There were no marks of violence on his body. An unsuccessful effort to revive him was made at Ravenswood hospital while Summerdal police sought an explanation of his death.

Robert's father, William O. Brelin, is a real estate broker at 1751 Ogden avenue. The Brelins have two other children, William 8, and Roger, 3.

DIRECTS ROBBER GANG DESPITE HIS BROKEN LEG

A broken leg did not deter Harry Sparks, 19 years old, 1720 Albion avenue, from directing his gang of young robbers in Rogers Park. From an automobile parked nearby, Sparks admitted yesterday, he supervised operations.

Judge Lambert K. Hayes of the Boys' court sentenced Sparks to eight months in the Bridewell on a charge of petty larceny, reduced from robbery. Charges against two other youths were continued until Dec. 1, when the court indicated they would be released from jail.

They were Robert Fischer, 17, of 2749 Coyle avenue, and Fred Re, 17, of 601 Circle avenue, Forest Park. Bernardino Trombatore, 19, 6523 North Fairfield avenue, was placed under court supervision until July 19.

Rochester, Ind., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Fire destroyed the inside of the fifty-six room Colonial hotel on the north shore of Lake Manitou a mile east of here today with a loss estimated at $75,000. No one was hurt. T. D. Scanlan, managing the hotel for his son-in-law, A. C. Bradley of Indianapolis, said the fire was started by defective wiring in the soda fountain.

BLAME VANDALS FOR $4,000 BLAZE IN SCHOOL CAFE

Fire believed to have been of incendiary origin caused $4,000 damage yesterday to the John Marshall high school cafeteria at 3211 Monroe street.

John Howatt, chief engineer for the public schools, said he blamed vandals, although he thought it possible that the blaze might have been accidentally started by burglars. School officials said white and colored students had figured in a fight outside the school on Monday, but discounted stories that the fire had been started as a result. The fire was at dawn, long before the students arrived for school.

SUES FOR $400,000 CHARGING DROP IN LAND VALUE

Miss Lucy J. Atwater of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., yesterday filed suit in the Superior court for damages of $400,000 from the city. Miss Atwater, who formerly lived here, charged that her property at the southwest corner of Wacker drive and State street decreased in value because of delay in condemnation proceedings against the land. The condemnation suit was begun in 1922 and was not settled until Oct. 27, 1933. During that time, her suit alleged, a five story building was wrecked and no revenue was obtained.

YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT

backs up his personal assurance of easy winter starting and oil economy by giving

YOUR ENGINE OIL-PLATING

–more than oil-changing!

JUST because this is in print instead of coming direct from Your Mileage Merchant's lips doesn't change the fact that he backs every word personally. How does he go through with that? By giving your engine the only OIL-PLATING. That's not mere words; it's what patented Conoco Germ Processed oil does.

Activated by an added man-made compound—added to oil's best natural qualities—added to the best refining—this exclusive Germ Processed oil adds itself direct to the inner engine surfaces . . . unites so thoroughly that every working part stays constantly OIL-PLATED.

Does the chrome plating on the bumpers drain down every time your car stops? Neither does OIL-PLATING in your engine. When you want to start up again, after hours of wintry parking—after nights or even weeks in the coldest garage—you've got ready lubrication faster than instantly!—in advance of the fastest oil-circulation. For drain-proof OIL-PLATING has stayed lastingly plated all the way up, to make things slide lightly and swiftly for your starter and battery. That also tells you why you're rid of costly starting wear. And OIL-PLATING stays in as long as you use Germ Processed oil. The gauge-stick gives Your Mileage Merchant strongest backing.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

ARPEGGIO

By CALEB

A GREAT PIANIST, cornered by a group of insistent newspaper reporters, was asked for an opinion on modern music. His reply was diplomatic—and characteristic.

"There is nothing quite so comforting as the sound of a C major chord," said he—and refused to say more on the subject. Later, in a conversation he revealed a keen interest in modern composers and their work—but he insisted that it left him hungry still for the fundamental harmonies.

This musician placed a finger on a certain basic truth that we see demonstrated again and again in our business. There is, in short, a certain classic strain that runs through the things any great store sells. We can predict confidently that those things possessing it will endure—while those that do not will be transient in their usefulness, temporary in their popularity.

This does not mean the elimination of new ideas and new materials. On the contrary—the value of the basically sound and true rests upon the steady adaptation to the day, and the addition of important qualities with a functional or artistic contribution. But there is a satisfying and rounded quality in the truly authentic whether it be in apparel, household goods, food or toys.

There is a story of Bach, the great composer, who, hearing from his bed seven notes of the scale played in rising chords on a nearby pipe organ, rose and dressed, walked to the instrument himself and played the final completing chord before he could go to sleep.

A real judge of merchandise often has a similar experience in his contact with the ever-changing, endlessly varying parade of goods before his business consciousness. He senses in each authentic piece some basic harmonics, some rounded and appropriate completeness, which by its absence totally unfits an article for listing among his wares.

Thus through the years we confess an interest and attention in the new and the ingenious—but we return inevitably to the fundamentally true and basic principles that always have distinguished great merchandise and always will.

CHINESE WRECK HANKOW AS JAP FORCES MOVE IN Great Fires Set to Balk Victorious Army.

the Chinese had not broken the dike protecting Hankow from the Han River, a tributary of the Yangtze. They said such sabotage would inflict an untold destruction of life and property.

Water Supply Fails.

Foreigners in Hankow were said to have been forced to take over administrative duties when Chinese authorities left. The administrative committee for the refugee zone included two Americans. Failure of the water supply was one of the gravest problems. A foreign-owned power company which was permitted to take over the waterworks was attempting to resume service.

Hankow was the sixth great Chinese city to fall to the invaders. Peking and Tientsin were taken in the first weeks of the war. Shanghai fell on Nov. 9 and Nanking—Hankow's predecessor as Chinese capital—on Dec. 13. Canton, metropolis of the south, fell last Friday. Only lesser cities, mostly far in the interior, remain in the Chinese hands.

Main Chinese Force Saved.

The greater part of the Chinese armies managed to retreat to the westward, their commanders explaining this was in accordance with a decision to prolong resistance and not risk annihilation of their best units in defense of the Wuhan area.

"The withdrawal," a Chinese official said, was dictated by the Chinese policy of prolonged warfare, "on all fronts." The Chinese, he said, did not attach great importance to the loss of a particular place or the time factor. Instead, they are making every possible effort to prolong the war and wear out the enemy.

Canton Still Hears Blasts.

CANTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Canton's great fire appeared to be under control today, but soldiers and sailors in the foreign settlement on Shameen Island continued wetting down roofs as a precaution against flying sparks.

Explosions still were heard as flames set off charges of dynamite in Canton, many parts of which had become a looted, burned out shell. One large fire was burning in the Wongsha district.

The entire east bund area was little more than charred débris. Hotels and shops were ruined by the flames, which caused damage running into many millions of dollars.

Several looters and arsonists were killed by Japanese patrols. Japanese reported capture of Tsungfa, thirty miles northeast of Canton.

Japanese commanders told British and French officials there would be no restrictions on foreigners wishing to visit their Canton properties.

Negro Boy, 12, Confesses Killing White Boy; Gets Life

New Roads, La., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Walter Williams, 12 year old Negro boy, today pleaded guilty to a charge of shooting and killing Hubert Brouillete, 9 year old white boy, and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary. Williams was 11 when the shooting occurred. Officers said two white boys, Brouillete and a companion named Mayeaux, were playing with slingshots near the Negro's home when Williams fired on them with a shotgun.

Seven Boys of High School Age Seized in Stolen Auto

Seven boys of high school age were seized in a stolen automobile by Englewood police last night after a short chase in Normal parkway. The driver, Harold Elverson, 16 years old, 7213 St. Lawrence avenue, said he couldn't resist the temptation when he saw the car standing in the garage of its owner, W. F. Superior, 8044 Drexel avenue, with ignition key in lock.

FINED $25 FOR BEATING BOY.

Thomas Potoniec, 42 years old, 3114 West 39th place, charged with beating a boy 13 years old, was fined $25 yesterday by Judge Joseph McGarry of the Stockyards court.

Ruins Greet Victorious Japs

Great fires blazed in Hankow and Wuchang as Japanese forces sought to complete occupation. Retreating Chinese blew up many buildings. Street fighting resulted when the Japanese entered Wuchang. American and other foreign sailors and gunboats sought to protect foreign lives and property along the Hankow waterfront.

SAILORS LANDED; GUARD AMERICAN LIVES IN HANKOW

Two Gunboats Protect Property on River.

HANKOW, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Ravaged by fire and explosions and virtually bereft of defenders, Hankow tonight was an easy objective for the Japanese armies massing at her gates.

Landing parties of American, British, French and Italian bluejackets and marines guarded foreign properties and assisted refugees.

Thirty sailors from the United States Yangtze patrol flagship Luzon landed today to protect American lives and property.

The Luzon anchored near the National City bank building and the American consulate general. Two British gunboats were stationed nearby in the Yangtze. The American gunboat Guam was downstream guarding American oil company properties. All vessels along the waterfront were scrutinized by low-flying Japanese planes.

Pillar of Flame Rises.

A pillar of flame and smoke a half mile wide rose tonight from what once was the Japanese concession after a score of explosions demolished the Japanese consulate, the officers' club, naval barracks, and other important buildings. The explosions started thirteen separate fires which soon merged into one huge conflagration.

Destruction in the Japanese concession followed upon demolition of numerous buildings across the river in Wuchang, governmental edifices in Hankow's old city section and abandoned factories along the Han river, Yangtze tributary which separates Hankow and Hanyang.

Blasts rocked the French concession as the Chinese blew up the Peking-Hankow railway station a few hundred yards outside the French barricades.

Searched for Arms.

Fear-stricken Chinese sought entrance into foreign policed areas whenever the barbed wire gates were opened for them. All were searched for arms before they were admitted. Many could not get in.

Earthworks along the Yangtze river became the only resting places for civilian refugees or wounded soldiers.

Injured stragglers from the central army continued trudging into the city, asking the way to military hospitals which were evacuated days ago.

The American consulate general gave the assurance that the Wuhan cities' 125 Americans [seventy-seven missionaries and forty-eight business men] were safe.

United States Consul General Paul R. Josselyn remained at the head of a skeleton staf. Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson and the embassy staf went upriver to Chungking some time ago.

Late this afternoon Chinese gendarmes were seen removing tons of explosives from the Yokohama Specie bank and Japanese shipping company warehouses adjacent to British and American property.

American property at Hankow includes establishments of the American Church mission, the Standard Oil company, various mission societies, and several automobile sales houses.

JAPS EXPRESS 'DEEP REGRET' FOR BOMBING OF BRITISH WARSHIP

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—An official source said today that Japan's vice minister for foreign affairs had expressed "deep regret" for the bombing of the British river gunboat Sandpiper by Japanese war planes. The message was conveyed to Sir Robert Leslie Graigie, British ambassador in Tokio. The vice minister promised a full inquiry into the affair.

The Sandpiper, bombed Sunday at Changsha 185 miles southwest of Hankow, suffered damage to her superstructure, but there were no casualties.

American Vessels Periled.

HANKOW, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The American consulate general was informed today that Standard Oil company vessels were endangered in a Japanese air attack on Oct. 19 at Changsha. Japanese planes were said to have power-dived and sprayed machine gun bullets around a launch towing heavily loaded oil sampans. One bullet passed through the launch cabin.

HITLER BUILDS WAR FLEET OF 6,000 PLANES

Goering Reveals German Might in Air.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—For the first time the secrecy shrouding the strength of the German air force was lifted in tonight's Essener National Zeitung. The paper is the official organ of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister for aviation.

It revealed that Germany had, at the time of the Munich four power conference, 3,000 front line fighting planes—not counting reserve planes and training machines.

6,000 Planes by 1940 Predicted.

By 1940, Goering's paper declared, the German front line air fleet would be increased to 6,000 planes, "whereas the combined air fleets of England and France— according to their own estimates—will not exceed the German air force in 1940."

[The front line aerial strength of other powers is estimated as follows: Soviet Russia, 4,700 planes; United States, 2,300 planes; Great Britain, 2,031 planes; France, 1,400 planes; Italy, 1,400 planes, and Japan, 1,300 planes.]

Even more striking is German supremacy in airports, the Essener Zeitung said. Stressing that the strategical value of the fleets depends largely on their air bases, it disclosed that Germany has now three times as many airports as either England or France.

Boasts 750 Airports.

Against England's 260 and France's 250 airports, the number of German air bases is given at 750, "an enormous figure even considering that Germany has to defend herself on two frontiers."

Goering's paper, in emphasizing Germany's "industrial supremacy" in regard to air armaments, declared: "This supremacy now must be maintained and will be maintained."

Reichsfuehrer Hitler is working overtime consolidating his country's position as the leading power on the European continent.

Hitler Visits Border.

He visited German Austria today and inspected his new strategic eastward bulwark, the bridgehead of Engerau on the Danube river near the junction of the Austrian, German, and Czechoslovak borders. Later he visited Vienna.

Hitler also dispatched Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, to Rome to confer with Premier Mussolini on the steps "the authoritarian states must take to protect themselves in view of the military preparations of the western democracies."

Hitler and Mussolini in recent private conversations expressed alarm about the "military spirit displayed in England and France."

May Denounce Naval Pact.

The idea of denouncing the British-German naval pact is being considered seriously.

"If England carries out her rearmament plans it is impossible for Germany to be satisfied with the pact that restricts her naval power [tonnage] to one-third of that of England," Nazis explained.

The Frankfurter Zeitung and other newspapers warned that "if a state on Germany's borders increases its armaments considerably, Germany realizes that the balance of power she has achieved is endangered. The world must realize that this will not happen.

"If the others build more armored cars and airplanes, we shall build more. The balance of strength in Europe will never again be changed to our disadvantage."

Nazis Forbid Schuschnigg to Attend Father's Burial

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

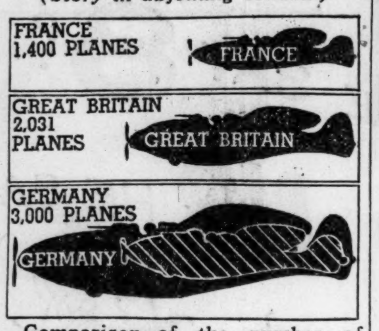
BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Lieutenant Field Marshal Arthur Schuschnigg, father of former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria, was buried today at Hietzing, suburb of Vienna. The former chancellor, who is a prisoner of the Nazis, was not permitted to attend the burial. He was represented by his second wife, the former Countess Vera Fugger von Babenhausen.

Bulgarian Assembly Votes 43 Millions for Arms

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The national assembly voted by acclamation today an appropriation of $43,000,000 for national armament.

German Strength

(Story in adjoining column.)



Comparison of the number of first line war planes owned by three major European powers. The shaded area of the German plane represents the strength (2,000 planes) Germany was believed to have had at the time of the Czech crisis. It now develops that Germany actually had the largest air force.

JEWS AGAIN ASK COSTA RICA TO LET EXILES IN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Oct. 25.—A. Houston, representative of the Jewish Refugee Economic corporation, has resumed negotiations with Costa Rican authorities in an attempt to establish a Jewish colony in Costa Rica. Houston arrived recently from New York.

The corporation last year purchased 42,500 acres of land in the province of Guanacaste, on the Pacific coast. This property is known as the Tenorio farm. The plan to establish a large colony of Jewish exiles on this holding, however, received a severe setback when the registrar general refused to register the property.

Recently anti-Jewish sentiment has been increasing among business groups in Costa Rica.

SUDETEN-CZECH DUTIES ON GOODS ARE WIPED OUT

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 25.—(AP)—It was announced officially tonight that no customs would be charged on goods exchanged between German occupied Sudeten regions and Czechoslovakia.

It appeared that a customs union with Germany would be effected in the near future.

Government sources said the first gesture toward elimination of customs barriers was made by Germany, which ceased collection of duties on raw materials and semi-finished products brought from Czechoslovakia to Sudeten factories. Czechoslovakia reciprocated by wiping out duties on goods moving in the other direction.

Italy Will Absorb Libya; Balbo May Lose His Job

ROME, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The Fascist grand council proclaimed tonight that the African colony of Libya should become an integral part of Italy. Legal details, including the status of citizenship for natives, are to be worked out later. Presumably the action would end the job of colonial governor, held by Gen. Italo Balbo.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA REJECTS DEMAND OF HUNGARIANS

Prague Leaves Door Open for New Discussions.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia tonight was reported to have turned down the latest Hungarian demands for territory, but without closing the door on further negotiations.

An official statement issued after a session of the three governments—the national, autonomous Slovak and autonomous Ruthenian—said a "basis for further negotiations has been established."

Decides on Three Points.

In diplomatic circles, however, it was understood Czechoslovakia had decided on at least three definite points:

1. Rejection of the Hungarian suggestion for plebiscites in regions of mixed populations.
2. Rejection of Hungary's proposal to arbitrate the territorial controversy with Germany, Italy, and Poland as mediators.
3. A firm decision to hold to the terms of the Munich accord, with any cession of territory dependent upon the approval of the four powers—Great Britain, France, Germany, and Italy—which participated in that conference.

Officially it was explained that the text of the Czechoslovak reply would not be published until it has been sent to Budapest. Official sources said the reply would be given to the Hungarian minister to Prague tomorrow.

Yields to Berlin Advice.

Czechoslovakia was reported to have agreed to what amounts to a 50 per cent concession to Hungary's proposals of yesterday, and it was said these concessions were made "upon the advice of Berlin."

Hungary in her proposal dropped about 30 per cent of her previous demands, and this compromise also was reported to have been made under pressure from abroad—from Berlin, Rome, and Warsaw.

The Hungarian plan called for immediate occupation by Hungarian troops of 3,800 square miles of "undisputed" areas predominantly inhabited by Magyars, for plebiscites in disputed districts of mixed population by Dec. 1, for arbitration by Germany, Italy, and Poland in event of Czechoslovak rejection of the proposals, and for granting the right of "self-determination" to Ruthenians, Slovaks, and other nationalities in Czechoslovakia.

Czech Plane Shot Down.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A Reuters [British news agency] dispatch from Prague today said a Czechoslovak military plane had been attacked by two Hungarian planes and brought down in flames. The pilot was wounded and the plane destroyed, the dispatch said. The incident was said to have occurred at Velke Meder, about 7½ miles inside the Czechoslovak border.

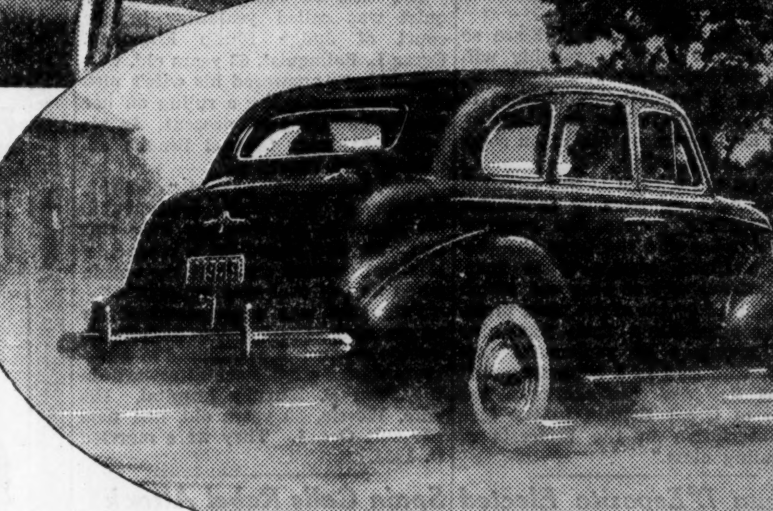
The Water Level Route-You can SLEEP

In every 1939 Buick you get the skilled engineering and sturdy quality traditional to Buick — enriched by all the extra value which General Motors science and Buick workmanship can provide.



THERE you sit in a seat like an easy chair, comfortable as a puppy on his pillow.

The wheel in your hand has a fine and friendly feel — the treadle under your foot is a pressing invitation to travel.

When the fellow ahead of you sees you looming up in his mirror he's going to give you room. He knows you mean business, knows you have what it takes to go round him!

For this stunning new 1939 Buick is first of all an action car, a standout performer — mobile as quicksilver, a honey to drive.

You look out through windows deeper all around — through as much as 413 added square inches of safety glass.

You spot your path ahead through a windshield that's higher, over a bonnet that's lower, past slender cornerposts well out of eyeway.

You can see — see the whole passing show. Scenery begins to mean something more than just a view of the treetops.

You've got a front-porch view of the whole wide world — that sitting-in-a-bathtub feeling's gone!

And that's just one of the things we were after when we planned this sensational new Buick. Better aerodynamics was another. So was the highly effective "catwalk-cooling" practiced on Europe's high-speed racing cars.

It's because our designers achieved these without straining for effect or seeking freakish fashion that the new Buick's the beauty it so patently is.

A beauty to look upon—a beauty to look out of.

A beauty to handle — a beauty to own.

A beauty to depend on—a beauty to have fun with—a beauty to deliver durably and thriftily the fleetly flowing miles!

There are scores of other advances in this marvelous new car—a gearshift out of knee-way, the true "full float" BuiCoil Springing ride, the quick and quiet Dynaflash straight-eight engine that is this Buick's mighty heart.

We can't begin to list them all — but your Buick dealer can do better than that. He can show them to you — show you what they'll do. And that's what smart buyers will want to know this year.

GENTLING EVERY JAR, BuiCoil Torque-Free Springing is this year even softer, smoother . . . still a vital safet factor. It reduces skid risks and makes rear tires last longer.

ABLEST OF THE EIGHTS is this mighty Buick Dynaflash Valve-in-Head Straight-Eight, with a cyclone in each cylinder to squeeze full power from every drop of fuel.

HITLER DEMANDS MILLION SQ. MI. AFRICAN EMPIRE

Wants Back Old Colonies or Some New Ones.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—An unofficial outline of sweeping German colonial claims was reliably reported tonight to have reached British ministers for discussion at tomorrow's cabinet meeting along with means of putting into operation the Anglo-Italian friendship accord.

Return of all Germany's pre-war African colonies—totaling 1,031,839 square miles—or cession of other African territory of equal extent was said to be the burden of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's demands.

Consideration of the colonial problem by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and his advisers seemed certain, since Defense Minister Oscar Pirow of the Union of South Africa reached Lisbon tonight to sound Portuguese opinion on the matter of Nazi demands before coming to London.

Plans to Vist Berlin.

Pirow said he planned also to visit Berlin soon to talk about the colonial problem. The Union of South Africa is upset by Nazi colonial agitation because former German Southwest Africa now is ruled by the Union under a league of nations mandate.

The unofficial outline of Germany's demands was reported to have been delivered recently by Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering to the Marquess of Londonderry, British conservative leader. Prominent Nazis also were said to have stated them to Sir Nevile Henderson, Britain's ambassador to Berlin, before he came home for a vacation last week.

Germany, however, still has failed to put forward specific demands on which negotiations between London and Berlin could be started, informed sources said.

Portugal Is Involved.

Thus the cabinet would be forced to consider the matter without knowled of what Hitler wants, since he could always elaborate or modify unofficial demands until he is definitly committed to certain claims.

Reliable quarters said Pirow's trip was significant in this respect since he would endeavor in Berlin to ascertain just how far the colonial powers would have to go to satisfy Hitler.

Portugal, where Pirow will spend five days, is involved, since the Portuguese colony of Angola adjoins Southwest Africa and has a large German population. In addition, Mozambique, Portugal's colony in Southeast Africa, gained a slice of former German Tanganyika in the post-war division of the colonial spoils. The majority of Tanganyika went to Britain.

Belgium Also May Lose.

Unofficial quarters suggested an Anglo-German colonial deal might give Germany Angola as well as a part of adjacent Belgian Congo instead of any British or French mandated territories.

Since colonial matters still are so uncertain the cabinet probably will turn gladly to other considerations, including Chamberlain's desire to bring the Anglo-Italian pact into effect, a step made contingent on some "settlement" in Spain.

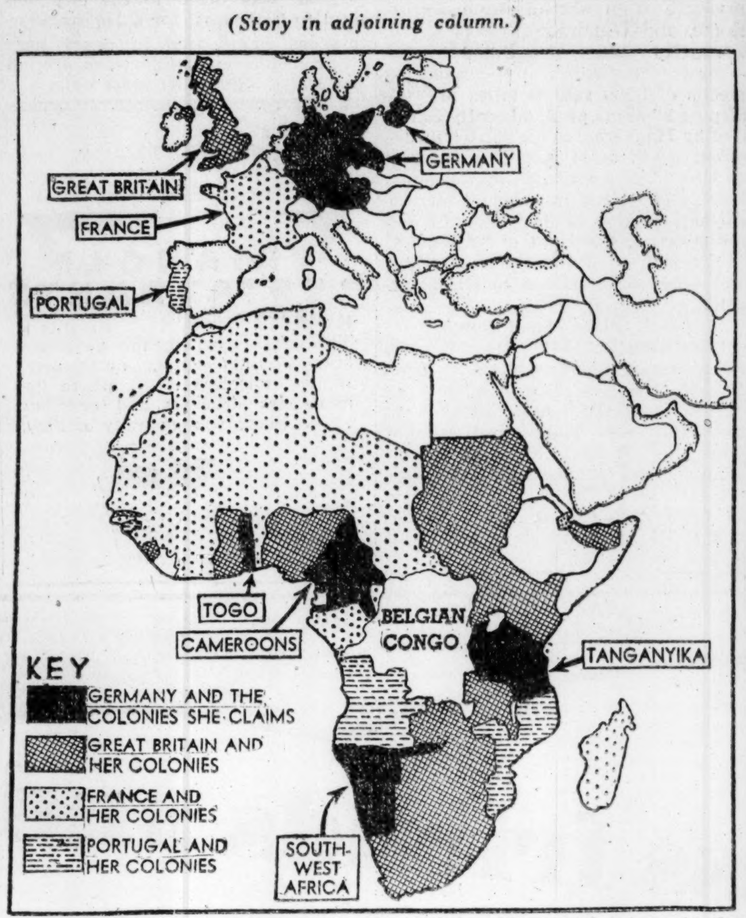
Also on the agenda is the question of creating a ministry or committee to coördinate government rearmament supplies and the form the proposed national service is to take. The national service proposal, which is supported by the right wing press, drew condemnation from forty-nine labor members of parliament and others, who said in a statement that it was designed "to accustom the people of Great Britain to the idea of conscription in the interests of the ruling class."

Joshua D'Esposito Elected Citizens' Association Head

Joshua D'Esposito yesterday was elected president of the Citizens' Association of Chicago at the organization's 64th annual meeting. Recently he was appointed one of the federal engineers supervising the proposed city subway. Other newly elected officers of the association are Benjamin F. Affleck, first vice president; E. W. Puttkammer, second vice president; Bertram J. Cahn, treasurer, and Ernest W. Burgess, secretary.

Hitler Demands an African Empire

(Story in adjoining column.)



Great Britain is reported to be studying Germany's demand for more than 1,000,000 square miles of territory in Africa. The key in the map shows territories taken from Germany after the world war and the territories now held by the principal European powers, out of which Reichsfuehrer Hitler insists his new empire must be carved.

VAN SWERINGENS' RARE TREASURES AUCTIONED TO SATISFY CLAIMS

Cleveland, O., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Three hundred persons, led by smartly dressed matrons and misses, wandered through the fifty-four room suburban mansion of the late Van Sweringen brothers today and carried home some rare china and tableware.

Personal possessions were put up at auction to satisfy perhaps $100,000 of their creditors' claims of 68 millions. The day's sale netted $7,195.

A 360 piece dinner set of royal cauldon white and gold porcelain brought $440. And a collection of thirteen royal doulton figurines of Dickens characters went for $200. A Dresden green and white porcelain dinner service brought $205.

The brothers, O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, died insolvent in 1935 and 1936.

DEATH BY POISON BRINGS DIVORCE ACTION TO AN END

The case of Palmquist vs. Palmquist was called yesterday in the court of Judge Philip Finnegan. Oscar L. Palmquist, 63 years old, who was to have answered his wife's plea for alimony pending a ruling on her divorce suit, was not present. In his behalf Attorney Samuel Rinella addressed the court.

"Mr. Palmquist," he said, "died this morning of poisoning. I attributed his death to despondency over this suit. He had hoped for a reconciliation, but gave up and took the poison when he felt that was impossible."

Palmquist was superintendent for an electrotype company at 3154 North Racine avenue. He collapsed in a restaurant and died soon afterward in the John B. Murphy hospital. His wife, Wessie, 30 years old, had filed her suit Oct. 1. They were married in 1934.

Spain Calls Rebel Attack on Madrid Front a Failure

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], Oct. 25—(AP)—The Spanish civil war lapsed into complete inactivity again today despite a rebel attack on the government's Madrid defenses—an attack which government sources called a failure. Border observers believed the movement on the nearly two year old Madrid front was an isolated action with the long awaited rebel general offensive still to develop.

FIRE CHIEF GETS SPAGHETTI RIGHT OUT OF THE FIRE

The spaghetti was hot. The sauce was superb. Chief Thomas Cannavan of the 10th fire battalion didn't have to wait for it either, for the service was prompt. Mrs. Florence Tatum, he said, saw to that.

Chief Cannavan nevertheless had Mrs. Tatum locked up last night when he and his men finished putting out a fire on the second floor at 53 West 35th street. The chief said that Mrs. Tatum, a colored woman living on the first floor, tried to make them wait to put the fire out until her spaghetti was cooked. They declined. The spaghetti got done anyway, just as the chief was leaving, and she threw it at him—pot and all.

FLIGHT OF JEWS ENRICHES BERLIN IN 'ESCAPE TAX'

Emigrants Pay at Rate of 25% on Possessions.

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The German government has announced it has collected $44,680,445 in "escape taxes" during the first half of the current fiscal year, beginning April 1. This compares with only $32,541,200 for the entire fiscal year of 1936-'37 and less than $400,000 in 1932, the last year preceding Adolf Hitler's régime.

The "escape tax" is imposed at the rate of 25 per cent on the possessions of persons leaving or suspected of the intention of leaving the reich. According to official explanation, the large increase in revenues from this tax is due to "increased emigration from greater Germany, especially of Jews," which means primarily from Austria.

Tax Imposed by Bruening.

The total of "escape taxes" collected since Hitler came to power is $145,600,000. The total value of the property taxes, therefore, is nearly $600,000,000.

Imposed by the then Chancellor Heinrich Bruening to prevent the flight of capital during the financial crisis of the early 1930's, this tax has been employed under Hitler almost exclusively against Jews.

Bank Deposits Hit.

In practice it is imposed not only on actual Jewish emigrants, but on most Jews with liquid capital in banks, because possession of such capital is deemed prima facie evidence of the intention to emigrate.

In the present circumstances this means the tax is rapidly being imposed on all Jews, as they are being forced to liquidate their businesses at any price and put their money in banks, even though their right to dispose of such deposits is subject to severe restrictions.

CUT PERSONALTY TAX ASSESSMENT FOR COOK COUNTY

New Valuation Methods Reduce Total.

Personal property assessments for 1938 for thirty-six of the thirty-eight townships in Cook county are 20 per cent less than those fixed by the assessor for 1937, it was disclosed yesterday. However, they are only 4 per cent smaller than the final 1937 personalty assessments after revisions by the board of appeals.

Assessor John S. Clark announced that the 1938 personalty assessments for all townships except South, which includes the loop district, and New Trier on the north shore, totaled $415,957,561. This is $104,242,659 less than his 1937 assessments for the same townships and $17,627,706 under the final 1937 assessments.

Big Drop in Country Towns.

The biggest rate of reduction was in the country towns, where 1938 assessments averaged 27 per cent smaller than the original 1937 and 11 per cent below the final 1937 figures.

The assessments for seven of the eight Chicago townships were 3 per cent under the 1937 board of review final, but 18 per cent smaller than the assessor's original 1937 assessments.

Clark said the chief reason for the reductions is a change in method of valuing intangibles such as stocks and bonds as recommended by a citizens advisory board. Under the new method these securities are assessed at 10 per cent of their value instead of 20 per cent as in previous years.

Nearly Ready for Review.

Assessments for South and New Trier townships, Clark said, will be compiled this week to complete the 1938 personalty list. The rolls will then go to the board of appeals for review.

Following is a comparison of the 1938 personalty assessments with the 1937 original and final assessments, in thousands of dollars:

1935 Rate Reduction Ordered.

County Judge Jarecki, in accordance with a finding by the Illinois Supreme court, yesterday entered a formal order reducing the 1935 tax rate for Chicago from $8.53 per $100 of assessed valuation to $8.35. The 18 cent reduction was one of the smallest in many years. It was a 2 per cent reduction because of illegal levies, compared with an average of about 5 per cent in recent previous years.

The reductions upheld by the court will cut the 1935 levies of the six major governments in Chicago by about 4 million dollars. However, only the taxpayers who filed objections will benefit from the cut. It is estimated that half of the illegal taxes already have been paid by small taxpayers, who cannot get any rebate.

Gets Alimony

MRS. MARION KEITEL KING.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Marian Keitel King won $25 a week temporary alimony yesterday from Arthur C. King, a brewing company executive. Judge Robert C. O'Connell told her, in addition, to continue collecting the $45 a month rent from a house King owns. King, who is 34 years old, is suing for divorce on ground of desertion. Mrs. King, who is 29, has a cross-bill pending on the same charge. He lives at 2020 Knollwood drive, Lake Forest. She and the two children are living at 2659 Lincolnwood drive, Evanston. King is represented by Attorney Benjamin B. Davis and Mrs. King by Robert E. Cantwell.

Jury Fails to Fix Cause of Woman's Death Plunge

A coroner's jury held yesterday that Mrs. Evelyn Cuneo, 43 years old, died Oct. 14 of injuries suffered in a plunge from a third floor window of the North Chicago Community hospital. The jurymen did not decide whether death was due to accident or suicide. Mrs. Cuneo, who lived at 3800 Lake Shore drive, was the wife of Lawrence A. Cuneo, a broker. She had been rescued from drowning in the lake shortly before she was taken to the hospital.

SAVE $627,802 IF SUBWAY CLAY IS USED ON AIRPORT

Fill Would Cut Cost 17.5%, Says Engineer.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

The clay from the Chicago subway borings—if used as part of the fill for a downtown lake front air terminal—would reduce the cost of such an airport by $627,802, or 17.55 per cent of the total cost of such a project.

If the clay from the subways is not used to build the island for the air terminal it will be placed on huge barges, floated eleven miles out into Lake Michigan and dumped. And it will have no value whatever.

The potential value of the subway borings was calculated yesterday by Hugh E. Young, head of the Chicago plan commission. He prepared his figures after suggestions had been made that the 1,800,000 cubic yards of clay which must be removed from the tunnels be used to build the airport.

Refers to 1933 Plans.

For his calculations Mr. Young used plans drawn in 1933 by the plan commission, calling for construction of a triangular island, with an area of about 200 acres. This would be filled 1,600 feet from shore, off Northerly Island.

The base of the triangle would parallel the shore and would extend from 12th street on the north to 26th street on the south. There would be three runways, each 3,500 feet in length, running, respectively, north-south, northwest-southeast, and north-east-southwest.

This program was approved by airport experts under the old bureau of air commerce by war department engineers and by the state. A total of 10,250,000 cubic yards of fill would be needed, according to the estimates.

The cost of the fill—using sand suckers—was placed at $3,587,500. Since the 1,800,000 cubic yards of subway borings represent 17.55 per cent of the 10,250,000 fill needed, Mr. Young calculated that the borings would reduce the total cost of the fill by that percentage of the total cost, or $627,802.

Need Bulkheads First.

"By these same calculations the total cost of the downtown air terminal would be reduced from our previous estimate of $8,334,788 to $7,706,906,551," said Mr. Young last evening.

"Actually, the reduction might be even more, for instead of carting the fill eleven miles out into the lake it would be dumped only 1,600 feet off shore. The handling costs consequently could be reduced."

Before this could be done, he explained, it would be necessary to install 14,108 feet of bulkheads needed to retain the fill and form the outline of the island. The cost of the bulkheads, according to the estimate sheets, would amount to $1,906,288.

Allan Jackson, vice president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in a letter sent yesterday to Mayor Kelly, expressed the hope of many citizens when he said:

"There will be plenty of use in the future for the present Municipal airport. Ultimately, we must have a lake front airport. It would seem a shame not to take advantage of the opportunity to use clay from the subway excavation to launch the project."

Sees King Scratch

ROBERT J. WATT.
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Robert J. Watt of Boston today answered jibes of fellow labor delegates at his appearance before royalty with the assertion that he was about even with King George VI. of Great Britian, on the score of informality.

Watt, wearing street clothes and a red tie, visited Buckingham palace yesterday with other members of the governing body of the international labor office at Geneva. They talked with the king and queen for more than an hour.

"The king and queen made me feel perfectly at ease," he said. "It was a very informal visit and I noticed the king himself once scratched the back of his head just like anybody else. So I guess we were about even."

He said he was not embarrassed because he wore street clothes while several others were in formal attire. "But my daughter, Janith, said at least I didn't have to wear a red tie," he added.

NAVAL OFFICER TELLS OF OFFER FROM SPY RING

Testifies to Threats if He Revealed Plot.

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Ensign William B. Brown of the United States navy today identified a letter he received last January threatening him if he told about attempts of a German spy to get naval information from him. Brown made the identification in federal court where three defendants are on trial for espionage.

Brown's appearance on the stand interrupted cross-examination of Guenther Rumrich, confessed Nazi spy, who previously testified he had sent the letter to Brown, stationed aboard the aircraft carrier Saratoga.

Offers Ways to Earn Money.

The letter opened by urging Brown to "get wise" to certain ways in which a naval officer might earn money for himself, and closed with a threat of dire consequences if he revealed the contents. Brown was instructed to communicate with Rumrich through an advertisment in a New York newspaper.

When Rumrich returned to the witness stand, which he has occupied for days, George C. Dix, counsel for Johanna Hofmann, one of the three on trial, started cross-examination by demanding that Rumrich tell if he had received any promises of leniency in return for his testimony on behalf of the government.

Rumrich, who pleaded guilty at the opening of the trial, said no promises had been made to him.

Vague on Explanation.

Rumrich previously had testified that Leon G. Turrou, former agent of the federal bureau of investigation, told him "if you play ball with me, I'll play ball with you."

"What did you understand when Turrou said that?" Dix asked.

"I don't know," Rumrich replied.

Other defendants in the trial are Erich Glaser, former United States army private, who was stationed at Mitchell field with the air corps, and Otto Voss, a civilian employé of an aircraft factory that makes planes for the government.

HEAD OF STATE SCHOOL OUSTED UNDER CHARGES

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Dr. F. A. Causey, managing officer of the Lincoln State school and colony, a state institution caring for 3,800 feebleminded persons at Lincoln, Ill., was suspended last Saturday, State Welfare Director A. L. Bowen revealed today.

"Dr. Causey was suspended pending an investigation of certain charges brought against him," Director Bowen said. He added that the charges did not involve Dr. Causey's integrity but refused to disclose their nature.

In the meantime Dr. W. W. Fox, assistant managing director, has taken over as acting manager of the institution. He, as did Dr. Causey, also refused to discuss the investigation which resulted in the suspension. Dr. Causey was named by Gov. Horner as head of the institution two years ago. Prior to that time he had served as assistant managing director. He succeeded Dr. Philip S. Waters.

IF QUICK-ACTING BAYER ASPIRIN FAILS TO RELIEVE PAIN FROM RHEUMATISM
HEADACHE
SIMPLY DO WHAT YOU SEE IN THESE PICTURES

1. Simply take 2 genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets with a full glass of water. Repeat if necessary according to directions printed on box.

2. Relief from rheumatic or other common pain usually comes fast. But — if pain persists, let your doctor seek the cause.

Used by millions—costs but 1c a tablet—acts fast

IF YOU WANT to relieve the pain of rheumatism or neuritis, try Bayer Aspirin this way:

Take 2 Bayer Aspirin tablets with a full glass of water the moment you feel either a rheumatic or neuritic pain coming on.

Relief Comes Faster

You should feel relief very quickly from this. If pain is unusually severe, repeat according to directions you find in the box.

People everywhere are taking Bayer Aspirin for rheumatic and neuritic pains and say that results are remarkable. Yet it costs only about one cent a tablet, which makes the use of expensive "pain remedies" unnecessary.

If Bayer Aspirin does not give you the expected results, see your doctor. It is desirable, in any event, for anyone having pains from rheumatism or neuritis to be checked up by his doctor—to find the cause and correct it, if possible.

Backed by Medical Authority

When you see him, ask particularly what he thinks about taking Bayer Aspirin to relieve these pains. We believe he will tell you there is no more effective, dependable or quicker way the normal person may use regularly.

When you buy, ask for "Bayer Aspirin," not for "aspirin" alone. Get the genuine Bayer article.

THE WORLD TODAY.

The Japanese are in possession of both Canton and Hankow. The capture of the great South China commercial city was so easy that it might indicate an unwillingness as well as inability to make anything of a fight. From Nanking to Hankow has been a long and stubbornly contested road for the Japanese to travel, but its last stages were taken in a jump. It may be that the merchant class and the many millions of Chinese who live precariously on the land at all times and have never bothered themselves with affairs of which they knew nothing are very tired of this long war for which the country was so little prepared.

Conquerors are not unknown to old China, and most of the Chinese people have always found their chief preoccupation in keeping alive and getting as many as they could of the ephemeral and uncertain pleasures of life. They are eminently fitted to do that, even in adversity.

Japan has not fully occupied the great areas of China which it has conquered. The fighting may not be ended. The remaining Chinese patriots may shift from position to position and continue their resistance, but Japan at last can begin to present to the world a new China, one in which Japanese policy will dominate. The place of occidental nations in the far east will not be what it was two years ago, a change which territorially affects the United States least of all. The white race takes a back seat.

As Japan has become the boss of Asia, Mr. Hitler has become the boss of Europe. Two years ago the world thought he was ambitious and dangerous but also that he could be restrained. Now the world doesn't see how he can be. The world has a new map. If the now dominant ideas are not new, they are at least newly dominating.

Collective security as represented in the covenant of the league of nations, the Kellogg peace treaty, and the scheme of checks and balances contained in agreements of mutual assistance have been junked. Two years ago the nations opposed to dictatorship were scolding the military powers and holding congresses to check them. Now they are preparing to go into alliance with them. A year from now we may all be looking back the broad trail of the march of events. Second guessing will be, as usual, better informed.

It is to be kept in mind that such powers as are now in the ascendancy draw their breath of life from activity. The men in power are of necessity restless. The Napoleonic urge is always nervous. It may be that men who, like Hitler and Mussolini, have come up out of a past of fantasy and dreams have no restfulness in their temperament. They must burn themselves out in spectacular movements. Napoleon never could be kept out of the armed camp. Bismarck could set himself a major objective and, having accomplished it, find something durable in life with his big dogs and a country estate. Washington would make any personal sacrifice for a great cause, but as a man he was happier when he was riding his plantations at Mount Vernon. Lincoln, if he could have completed his great work, never would have found his own fireside or desk, loaded with peaceable routine, intolerable. These are rare men. They are not found in the ruling places in continental Europe today.

The new world, having said good-by to all its post-war illusions, also to all the hopes which might have been less illusionary and now, looking at its new maps, must understand that for the time being its future is largely contained in the temperaments of certain men in the fanaticism which supports strange ideas of state aggrandizement and individual enslavement. Where contrary ideas have prevailed in Europe there is no longer any disposition to make a cause against the loss of freedom. The agreements do not run against the dictators but will be, if possible, made with them. If you can't lick them, join them.

The prevailing doctrin of the world now is that people who cannot stay out of the orbit of the strong, freedom destroying state must be drawn into it. The only people who can stay out are those strong enough to defend themselves. This may be one of the world's tortured moments of transition. It may be merely a hysterical episode. It may be part of an evolutionary trend, the purposes of which are not seen. It may be preliminary even to a great revolution. At present, for a large part of the world, it is the era of subjugated man and it is an era which has not reached its time limit by any means.

THE ISLAND AIRPORT.

The Chicagoans who were active in preventing or, as time will prove, postponing the establishment of the island airport are all probably users of the air service to New York, at least on occasion. It is New York's enterprise and foresight that has made this service possible while Chicago with a second class airport has bungled and delayed. Unfortunately, the contrast seems too characteristic, with Chicago's interests under the repression for about the first time in its history of men living in the past and of small minds puttering over petty difficulties.

Air travel is in a stage when energy, initiative and foresight in planning are fixing positions and relations which will be virtually permanent, and no time or effort can be spared by any city that is not willing to be left in the rear of a movement as important as the establishment of the railroads. Inertia and delay at this stage must be fatal to Chicago's position in the new era of air trafic. To be asleep now is to wake when it is too late.

Yet Chicago has advantages of situation which would insure its primacy as the continental hub of air transport, but only if these advantages are exploited without delay and with foresight and enterprise. Neither were exhibited in the obstruction which the lake front airport encountered. The objections raised were pusillanimous and the state of mind they expressed must be replaced by one that is alert to present opportunities and future possibilities. Chicago has been outstanding among American communities for its civic spirit and its refusal to be balked by obstacles and discouragements. Its motto was "I will" and it was no empty phrase. We are showing little of that spirit today and the airport situation is an ominous example of its decay.

MR. ROOSEVELT ADVISES THE BRITISH.

The British, who think that Mr. Roosevelt in taking a hand in the affairs of the Holy Land might be talking out of turn, should remember that these are election times in the United States. The White House is not missing any good bets. Nearly all Americans will understand how the British feel when they say that if the United States would like to step in the place of Great Britain in Palestine it can have the post of honor for the asking. There is an ambiguous phrase in the terms of the British mandate which requires the consent of the United States to certain alterations in the agreement if proposed by the British, but it seems to place no mandatory obligations on the United States. The British no doubt would be glad if it did.

British diplomacy seldom gets itself into such an apparently hopeless predicament. Originally, it will be remembered, that the intent was to have the United States take over the most vexing problem then seen in the near east while the British looked after their oil interests. The Armenians were thought to be the people whose future would be on the doorstep of humanity and the United States was offered the custody of the distressed. Somehow or other that obligation was avoided and Great Britain was presented with an undertaking which seems impossible to fulfill.

With an empire full of Moslems, the British are in a dilemma from which extrication with honor, justice, and peace is a problem to which they do not know the answer. Advice from Mr. Roosevelt naturally is irritating unless it points to a way in which all the elements now at swords' points could find a satisfactory agreement.

The British will feel that the United States, failing in any way to be useful, might at least preserve that neutrality which it asserts as its most logical answer to a world full of strife.

INDIAN SUMMER.

Indian summer is when and where you find it. The sensible thing to do is not to question it but to take it and enjoy it. If the wise men say there isn't any such thing they can be allowed to have their way. They do not destroy the perceptions, and when Indian summer comes it's here. The oldest legends of the Northwest Territory, of which we hereabouts are the children, were simple and realistic. The early settlers learned that there was one compensation for the hardships of winter. They wouldn't be bothered much by Indian raids. The hostile aborigines sewed themselves up for the cold months and their war parties did not plow through snowdrifts.

It might happen that early fall produced what was known as squaw winter. There would be an early frost, some cold weather, and likely as not a heavy fall of snow. Following that there might come a succession of warm, delightful days, full of autumn mists and rich wood coloring, all the more welcome because of the squalls and inclemency which had preceded it. Then also there might be the last Indian flurry of the year.

The war parties might come sneaking through the flaming woods and the colored brush in surprise attacks upon outlying habitations or scattered settlements. So the beauty of the period had its dangers. Woodsmen had to be alert and the settlers might have to run for cover. That's one reason why the finest time of the year was known in some localities as Indian summer. There are many legends and probably all of them are sufficiently good.

Certain portions of the United States are granted this extraordinary period of great beauty when, if the seasons are propitious, the weather is best fitted for the esthetic enjoyment of mankind. Not all portions of the country can have it, and indeed few other lands have this gift.

An Italian once exclaimed that America was so beautiful, and the remark did not seem to come wholly from politeness. It transpired that the visitor had seen some of the American states in autumn. An Italian knows beauty at home. But Indian summer was something that only America displayed.

FOR HONEST ELECTIONS.

The board of managers of the Chicago Bar association has issued a call for volunteers to act as watchers at the polls on election day, Tuesday, November the 8th. It is to be hoped this appeal will receive a prompt and generous response from the lawyers. The association membership has done excellent work in previous elections, but more effort is needed and never more than at an election which involves so much as the coming one. The presence of disinterested citizens sincerely concerned with the integrity of the ballot and informed in the law will be a valuable deterrent to trickery and dishonesty.

The board is to be thanked for its public spirit and we trust the members of the bar will give their hearty coöperation. It is a service of first rate importance and the community will appreciate it

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

[Sioux City Journal.]

Those who believe the orgy of spending ought to stop, who feel that American enterprise should be freed from the abuses of governmental dictation and restraint, who are convinced that public funds should not be employed for political purposes and who want less New Dealism and more Americanism are to have their chance Nov. 8. And those who want what they have in government have the same opportunity.

A FEW LINES BY YE ED.

The average mental age of the New York drama critics, estimated according to the prize they pinned on "Of Mice and Men," appears to be somewhere between the pimple and the first razor periods. In this dizzy phase of adolescence the young intellectual takes a morbid delight in witnessing surgical operations and believes that a psychopathic hospital is an excellent place for broadening the mind. We also have lived in this Arcadia.

The wooden horse on Green Bay road in Evanston, which has become the pride of that village since it was discovered by "A Planter's Daughter" for the readers of this column, has discarded its fly protector and is now wearing a new winter blanket. The expected accident to one of the new strapless evening gowns happened last Saturday night on the dance floor of the Drake hotel, according to one of the Line's most reliable observers. The girl hitched it up in front; the young man clamped it down in back; and they kept right on dancing.

SEA FEVER IN OLD AGE.

(A parody on one of the most famous poems of John Masefield, whose wife reported, after landing, that "it was too uppy-downy, and my husband was ill.")

I must go down to the seas again, but before I step from the shore
All I ask is a solid bridge, built over the billows' roar;
For I am a chastened mariner who has learned the steady ground
Has numerous advantages o'er the sea and its surge and sound.

I must go down to the seas again, but only to watch on the sand
The antics of its unstable might from the vantage of the land;
Though water is a wondrous thing, it's best when used to drink,
And well as it supports a boat I'll keep all mine in a sink.

I must go down to the seas again, but this time I'll sit on the beach,
And let the breakers amuse themselves while I'm well out of reach;
For I love my meals, and more than that, I love my dignity,
And I'll do my sailing from now on safe under a well-moored tree.

"If it [Indian summer . . . a brief November glow] comes this year, the Line o' Type column will put on sackcloth and ashes and print every sarcastic 'We told you so' letter that it receives." [Quoted from the Line, 10-21-'38.]

Would advise that you order a bolt of sackcloth and a bushel of ashes and hold yourself in readiness for an extended vacation. During that period the Line will be taken over by the undersigned. Same has already knocked out twenty-three contrapuntal variations upon the "We told you so" theme, and it is expected that by the time "the brief November glow" appears he shall have assembled sufficient material to keep the Line going till come Whitsuntide next.

LOVE'S FRAGILE CUP.

'Tis such a fragile cup that holds our love,
Fashioned and wrought in delicate design,
I tremble, lest my tenderest touch shall mar
Its loveliness and spill the sparkling wine.
So, prone to error, human and afraid,
I grasp its beauty with unsteady hands,
Till in my fear, the blood-red drops fall out
And sink in memory's oft-shifting sands.

Your hands are tender, merciful and kind;
They cannot break or mutilate or mar
That which is lovely; so I give the cup
To you to carry, be it near or far.
My strength shall be your shield through dark or day;
My heart shall not grow cold nor footsteps fail,
As down eternity's long thoroughfare
I follow where you bear the precious grail.

CYSTITIS (INFLAMMATION OF THE BLADDER).

OCCASIONALLY it seems desirable to discuss what to some may appear as an unpleasant topic. To the physician there is nothing vulgar or disgusting in his study of the sewage system of the body. In fact, the machinery of excretion is just as important to the correct functioning of the heart, the liver, the lungs, etc., as is digestion or respiration.

Inflammation of the bladder [cystitis] is not a disease with a single cause. It may well come about because a stone has formed in this pouch or because germs have decided to grow in the lining membrane. Any one of a score of other factors may occasion the disorder.

When one finds it necessary to pass urine at short intervals, and if there is some pain accompanying the process, the fluid should be examined for bacteria or pus. Generally the symptom occurs more often during the daytime when the patient is up and about. This is probably because the pressure upon the external outlet is greater. When one is lying down the bladder may fill, even distend, before discomfort will become apparent.

In hunting for the source of the trouble, if an infection is located in one or both kidneys that is the point of attack. In the meantime there are two procedures that may be of value depending upon the kind of organisms responsible. The urine may either be rendered strongly alkaline to stop the growth of one type or strongly acid to discourage another. Large amounts of water are recommended as aiding irrigation and one full glass every hour may well be borne.

If the excretion is found to be acid and pain is complained of, it can be made alkaline by means of generous doses of sodium bicarbonate. If it is alkaline, it can be altered to acid through the use of a high fat diet or, better still, by mandelic acid. Sedatives may be demanded because the spasms produced by the contractions may be so excruciating as to be unendurable.

Some mechanical interference to the outflow may be discovered or there may be a narrower exit canal than normal—the aftermath of disease—which may lead to a damming back of a fair proportion of the fluid. Such a condition can serve to injure the lining cells and promote the growth of microbes.

There are, then, three things to look for [1] frequency of urination, [2] pain, [3] pus. The first sign may be a more urgent desire to void. If this is constant it indicates the seriousness of the malady.

Pain always depends upon the degree of irritation. If it is persistent we may infer that a substantial volume of liquid is retained within the pouch, but most individuals will state that it is severe at the very moment of emptying. In fact, this may be so sharp that fainting will ensue.

Pus may be suspected whenever the urine looks cloudy or milky, but only by careful microscopic examination can its presence be proved. Now and then some inflammation is associated with infection within one or both kidneys. We say ordinarily that if the patient is in good medical hands, and if symptoms do not subside within two weeks the chances are that a kidney is involved or that there is some blockage along the passageway. This indicates that the secreting depots themselves need to be explored through the use of the cystoscope and the possible existence of infection determined.

Relief depends upon a few common sense measures. First of all, the patient should be at rest in bed. The meals should be simple [a bland diet list will be sent on receipt of stamped addressed envelope if desired] and completely devoid of pepper, mustard, catsup, or other condiments. Stimulating beverages, including tea and coffee, are omitted. Mild laxatives may be taken and a hot water bottle or an electric pad over the lower abdomen will give considerable comfort.

More often than not a change in the reaction of the urine is all that is called for. If acid, shift it to the alkaline side and vice versa. But no form of cystitis should be allowed to drag along. Prompt recourse to skilled medical care may save much suffering as well as distressing complications.

ULCERS AND PAIN.

T. E. writes: Why does pain occur in peptic ulcer about two hours after a meal?

REPLY.

In the first place there is no pain unless the ulcer area is disturbed by contractions. There are many factors, involving the free acid in the gastric juice, distension of the stomach wall, and the quantity of food material that is present. When the gastric pouch is empty it may notify its owner of the fact by setting up what are known as hunger contractions. If an ulcer exists, pain ensues. This is relieved by the taking of food.

THEY AFFECT EYELIDS.

D. C. writes: Does it harm the eyes to darken the lashes daily?

REPLY.

The sight will not be affected, but the mucous membrane of the eyelids may become sensitive to the dye. If irritation results one should desist for a short period.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

CLAIM AGAINST ESTATE.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. How should I proceed to file a claim against an estate?

2. Are there legal forms I need to secure?

3. Is there a certain number of days before the date of closing the estate that I must have my claim in? J. A. D.

1. For the mere filing of the claim it would be enough to obtain a form from the clerk of the court, fill it out, and leave it with him.

2. No.

3. Technically, you are entitled to file at any time before closing, but there are advantages in early filing. Unless you can get the personal representative to mark your claim to be allowed, it will be necessary for you to follow the court proceedings so as to be present to prove your case when it is reached in court, and presumably you should employ an attorney for this purpose.

A WORD TO EMPLOYED WOMEN.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Women who don't should try to understand that even an extremely emancipated woman must have her freedom and liberties limited, even in the extremist kind of democracy. Laws, government, "stop signs," and police are not for men only. And with twelve million people out of work, the American government could not intelligently be called "Russian" if it took away a job in each family in which both husband and wife are working and gave them to families in which none is working.

Personal liberty is a fine thing, but it cannot be unlimited. When it reaches the point where it interferes too much with the liberties of other people it must be curbed and equalized, be it women's or men's. And certainly any woman with the "mother's heart" which she has been accredited with possessing must be glad to give one of the two jobs in her family—hers or her husband's—to some family which has no job and whose babies and children are in want of bare life sustaining and growth providing necessities, physical and spiritual. To permit both husband and wife in tens of thousands of families to hold a job when there aren't enough jobs to give one to the family in a million families, who as a consequence have to subsist and degenerate on too frugal charity, is barbarian.

EPIDEMIC OF BIKE THEFTS.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Why can't our city do something to stop the epidemic of thefts of bicycles from our boys and girls? My son has had two bicycles stolen within the last year and they both had good locks. Yesterday his bike was stolen out of the school yard.

Now who would be so cruel as to take a youngster's bike when they depend on it so much? I have known boys to put all their effort into selling papers and magazines in order to get a bicycle, and then in a few months some one steals it.

Our police can't be blamed; they have no way of checking.
Mrs. George H. Cassidy.

AIDING THE CHINESE.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 22.—Numerous drives are being made to provide aid for the homeless and helpless Chinese war refugees. It is a worthy cause, but the energy is being expended in the wrong direction.

We can send food and medical supplies for years, but the horrible condition of many Chinese will not be overcome unless bombings are discontinued by the Japanese.

The war could be stopped in less than two months if the United States would shut off all exports to Japan.
Frank Chen.

AND THE SOOT STILL RAINS DOWN.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—One year ago this month the city civil service commission held a test for mechanical engineers and the successful candidates were to be assigned to the smoke abatement department. One year has passed and the names of the successful candidates haven't even been posted.

According to the worthy deputy commissioner five and one-half tons of soot drop every day in the Chicago loop. Enough said. John Harrington.

LADIES' DAY IN COURT.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—It's always ladies' day at a murder trial, and it is mighty nice, now that the baseball season is over. The applause given in a courtroom here recently when the defendant was acquitted was similar to that from the Cub bleachers when "Gabby" gets a homer. W. T. McDevitt.

THEIR OWN BROOD.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Reports concerning the anti-Nazi demonstration against a German-American rendezvous at Lincoln Turner hall fail to indicate any communist participation in the affair. A different story is told by a picture of marchers carrying a huge anti-Fascist banner flanked on one side by an American flag, on the other by a banner inscribed: "Free Ernst Thaelmann" [German communist leader]. This goes to prove that anti-Nazi outbursts are partly, if not mostly, camouflaged communist propaganda. The only excuse for Nazilsm or Fascism in this country is the New Deal-communist free-love affair and resultant brood of public enemies: namely, chronic depression and mass unemployment, hamstrung private enterprise, government pampered C. I. O., etc. And no amount of denunciation and prosecution, but only a thorough political housecleaning and return to sanity will suffice to drive the Nazi pests away. Christian Botker.

NOISE AT NIGHT, TOO.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Answering Mr. William Fetzer, who "defends the noisy newsboy" and suggests our going to bed early, I would like to say there are neighborhoods in Chicago where early sleep is impossible, especially on Saturday nights, on account of noisy youths, autos, parties, radios, etc. Noise is the "curse" of Chicago, so why add to it by allowing the pestiferous yelling of the newsboys early on the only day some of us are not working and need a precious morning of sleep? I fail to see why a newspaper is allowed to carry on this disturbance any more than any other business! Ruth Ellstam.

AN INVITATION TO BANDITS.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Can any sane person give a reason why our brave policemen should be sacrificed as they were at North avenue and Crawford last Thursday? Why should any large firm such as the one in question be given free escort, thereby drawing attention to the messenger? I understand the armored car service is available at a low cost. This would discourage invitations to bandits.

A LESSON IN PHILOSOPHY.

Downers Grove, Ill., Oct. 22.—If every one in this world had the same philosophy as Anne Jesty Rogers—note her article of Oct. 20 entitled "A World Within Four Walls"—what a wonderful place this world would be. Am I right?
Violet Shelgren.

HATS OFF! A FORGOTTEN HABIT.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—What has become of the custom, so many years in vogue, of women removing their hats in theaters and at moving picture shows? At one time ushers in Orchestra hall rushed to request the removal of the smallest hat; the request was made in theater programs and thrown on the screen at the "movies."

Hats were very small for a time, but any hat is larger than the wearer's head, and today some of the nightmares which must have disturbed the rest of milliners, only to become concrete creations for the female head, rear in front of the frequenters of public performances of all kinds. Requests for their removal are often received with withering looks or even refusal. Hester P. Smith.

REPLIES TO THE ARCHDEACON.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—To the Episcopal archdeacon whose letter appeared in The Tribune today: I am an American and proud of it. Away with your English propaganda and please do not try to make us believe you hold no brief for England.

You mention England's failure to pay her debts and you admit her haughtiness and conservatism, but you neglect to mention her action regarding Czechoslovakia. As for France, she, like England, repudiated her debt to this country. The way for the U. S. A. to prosper is to refuse to be drawn into alliances with foreign countries.

I thank God I am an American, but not one who would like to see us again under the domination of England.
P. A. S.

SAYS HORNER LET THEM DOWN.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—I, like H. N. S., would like to ask Uncle Henry Horner about those hundreds of suckers who for the second time took his word that there would be a permanent anti-Kelly-Nash organization. Whom will they vote for on Nov. 8? They went into the fight like crusaders to rid the county of a pestilence, and for the second time they were let down.
Disillusioned Democrat.

A GOOD WORD FOR "COUNTY."

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Taken suddenly ill a couple of weeks ago I was taken to the County hospital and, after a thorough examination, placed in ward 15, and I want to express my appreciation of the prompt and fine treatment I received while there. The doctors, nurses, and general staf couldn't be finer or give better service at any hospital in the city, in my estimation. John O'Connor.

BROTHER QUIZZED ABOUT CHECKS OF HORLICK HEIRESS

Denies Knowledge of Her Finances.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—William Horlick Jr., son of the founder of the Horlick Malted Milk company, was questioned by attorneys today concerning checks for large sums of money his sister, the late Mrs. Mabelle Horlick Sidley, allegedly signed shortly before her death in Toronto last July 6.

The witness said his sister's personal maid, Mae Harrison, spoke to him about Mrs. Sidley signing checks presented to her by W. Perkins Bull, Canadian barrister in whose Toronto home she lived a year and a half before her death.

Denies Knowledge of Gifts.

"Do you have any knowledge of gifts of sums of money to Bull?" asked James D. Shaw, attorney for Mrs. Sidley's son, William Horlick Sidley, who is contesting probation of her will. Mr. Horlick said he did not.

"Did you know that in 1937 she gave Bull $43,300?" the attorney asked. Again the witness denied such knowledge.

"Did you ever get reports of her writing lavish checks for as much as $50,000 and $70,000?" the attorney pursued.

"My sister always has been liberal with her money," said Horlick.

"Did she receive more than $4,000,000 from her father in the last three years?"

Not Certain About Wealth.

"Not to my knowledge," the witness answered. He also said he could not be certain of how much wealth his sister had when she died.

Mr. Horlick was a witness at the second day of the preliminary hearing conducted under the Wisconsin code of court procedure to disclose the basis for the will contest.

Young Sidley was questioned at length yesterday. He is objecting to the probate of his mother's will on the grounds Mrs. Sidley was incompetent and under undue influence and that fraud and duress were used in obtaining her signature to the document. Horlick is upholding the will in which he was named one of the five executors.

Under Mrs. Sidley's will, which disposes of an estate estimated at $4,000,000, her son and Bull were bequeathed equal sums of $250,000 and one-third shares in the residuary.

Tells of Kidnaping Fears.

Young Sidley yesterday told of his mother's fear that she would be slain and that he would be kidnaped.

The young man's uncle, William Horlick Jr., was questioned today about how Bull entered the life of the Horlick and Sidley families.

He told of meeting Bull on a boat bound for England and of later visiting the Canadian in his London home. The next time Bull came in direct contact with the Horlick family was some time later when he came to Racine in 1927 for what was to have been a week-end visit. He remained four months, young Sidley related yesterday.

Throughout this period Bull was a guest at the Sidley home although he had not previously met either Mrs. Sidley or her husband, Dr. William Sidley. In contrast to young Sidley's testimony that his parents' home was happy until Bull's arrival, Horlick said today his sister and Dr. Sidley were not getting along well prior to Bull's visit.

Mrs. Sidley and her husband were subsequently divorced.

ACTOR LYLE TALBOT'S HEROIC RESCUE IN FIRE MAY END FILM CAREER

Lyle Talbot [top] and Franklin Parker.

Talbot's hands, neck, arms, and head were burned so severely in a $50,000 fire that destroyed his home that he may never appear again before a camera. He dragged his house guest, Franklin D. Parker, also an actor, from a fiery, smoke filled bedroom to safety on a second story ledge. Then, choking with smoke and his pajamas aflame, Talbot leaped twenty feet to the ground.

Parker suffered severe burns on his back. The condition of both men is critical, hospital physicians said. A party in the Talbot home preceded the fire. Firemen believed a cigaret might have started the blaze.

Talbot's wife, the former Marguerite Cramer of New York, who had spent the night with a friend, Mrs. Billy Snyder, hastened to her husband's bedside.

Talbot has appeared in scores of pictures, including "Oil for the Lamps of China," "One Night of Love," and "Second Honeymoon."

SNITE LEAVES FOR FLORIDA IN HIS IRON LUNG

Frederick B. Snite Jr., who has lived in a respirator since he was stricken with infantile paralysis in the orient in 1936, departed yesterday in his iron lung for Florida. He was on a special four car section of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway's Dixie Limited, bound for Miami.

He departed from his home in River Forest in a trailer, especially built to hold him in the iron lung. The trailer also is being sent to Florida. Once established in the Snite Florida home, he will be taken out of the heavy iron lung he is in and will use a light aluminum and rubber lung weighing only 9½ pounds.

Traveling with Snite Jr., who is 28 years old, were his father, wealthy head of a loan company, his mother, Dr. John J. Fahey, two orderlies, two electricians, and six nurses, including Miss Marguerite Dao, physiotherapist, who came from China with the patient last year.

PROF. BOND RAPS RED RUSSIA ADS IN U. OF C. DAILY

Prof. Otto F. Bond yesterday assailed the editors of The Maroon, the daily student newspaper at the University of Chicago, for printing Soviet Union advertisements.

Prof. Bond, who is chairman of the French and Spanish language departments, objected to an advertisement placed by Book Niga, with offices in New York City. The ad offered English translations of Moscow communist literature.

Prof. Bond said that as a literate, American born citizen, well traveled, and with an extensive interest in world problems, he objected to paying for the publication of Soviet Union ads.

Until they hear a more reasonable argument, the editors replied, they will continue the advertisments.

SWINDLERS USE OLD HONEST MAN TRICK; GET $3,000

Alex Boroni believed the two strangers who entered his poultry market at 3601 North Central avenue yesterday. They told him the old story about the man who had left a large estate.

Most of it was to be distributed to the poor. They wanted Boroni, as an obviously honest man, to do this. But first he should put up $3,000 of his own money as evidence of his good faith.

Boroni did. It was his life savings. The strangers gave him a large packet of money. He took it home to his family, there to learn that the bills were really stage money. Boroni is nearly blind.

PLAN TO REBUILD PART OF FREIGHT TUNNEL STUDIED

Plans for rebuilding part of the freight tunnel under the loop were discussed yesterday by engineers and representatives of downtown stores who toured a portion of the 62 mile system. The extensive underground freight system, which services downtown buildings, will be disrupted in some locations by the construction of rapid transit subways in State and Dearborn streets.

S. W. Tracey, president of the Chicago Tunnel company, operator of the freight line, and Charles E. Deleuw, city subway engineer, said that approximately 3 miles of the system will be disturbed. Present plans are to eliminate the freight tunnels in State and Dearborn streets and rebuild the east-west tunnels between Clark street and Wabash avenue at a lower level under the new subways.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Concrete Feed Lots.

Oct. 25, 1938.

CONCRETE pavement in the feed yards at the Tribune's experimental farms has put an end to the waste and unnecessary labor involved in fattening live stock in muddy lots. Several hundred head of beef steers have been successfully finished for the market on concrete feeding floors at the Fox river farm. A new feeding floor has just been completed at the Du Page county farm, where forty-two head of Hereford steers are being fed.

Unsuccessful tests, where thick layers of gravel were spread over the feed yards to prevent cattle from sinking to their hocks in mud during the winter and spring feeding seasons, impel the managers of the farms to turn to the surfacing of the feed lots with solid concrete floors. Experienced feeders have found that feeding cattle and hogs on concrete floors saves many dollars' worth of feed that would be trampled into the mud of unpaved lots. Pavement saves bedding material and preserves manure, so that it can be easily handled in hauling it out to the fields. It also saves labor in feeding live stock.

30 to 40 Square Feet Each.

An area 65 by 70 feet has been paved at the Du Page county farm. It will provide enough space for the handling of more than 100 head of steers. In laying concrete floors in feed yards allowance usually is made for about 30 to 40 square feet for each steer.

The new floor was made five inches deep. The ground was leveled off and firmly tamped before the concrete mixture was poured into forms. The floor slopes gently to the south to carry off excess water.

Experts recommend a mixture of one sack of cement, 2¼ cubic feet of sand, 3 cubic feet of gravel, and about 5 gallons of water where the sand is of average moisture content. Workers at the farm used a rich mixture made of one part cement to three parts of sand in finishing the surface.

To prevent skidding the surface was leveled off with a wood float and then marked off in blocks with a "creaser" that left shallow grooves.

Allow 10 Days to Cure.

The floor is being given plenty of time to cure before the steers are turned on it. Paving specialists recommend covering the new concrete surface with straw, earth, canvas, or burlap bags. The covering then is sprinkled with water to allow the concrete time to cure properly. This requires about ten days. Then the floor is ready for use.

Feeding the steers has been greatly simplified by having the lot paved between the barn and the new combination corn crib and granary where ear and shelled corn and small grain will be stored. The yard also is within a few feet of a silo that has been filled with ensilage for the steers and a barn filled with hay. Fresh water will be kept before the steers in a tank installed in one corner of the paved yard.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A number of inquiries have come to this department lately asking for something to remove the odor of perspiration from clothing.

There is a mild, colorless liquid that is not only a deodorant for the body, but for clothes, too. It is not sticky and it does not irritate. It deodorizes but does not stop perspiration, and an application lasts for over twenty-four hours.

And it will not stain or discolor fabric. If we were inclined to doubt this before trying it, our doubts were swept away when the manufacturer sprinkled it all over the lapels of a business suit.

This is an especially good deodorant for men, for they can apply it directly through their shirts after exercising. You can choose it in an odorless form or with a lilac scent.

There IS one precaution to be taken in applying this deodorant to clothing. It will turn white wool back to its natural coloring, we're told, but will not affect the color or texture of any other fabric.

People for the most part—and that means men as well as women—are sensible enough to take every precaution to prevent any trace of an unpleasant odor. But we can't always foresee the happening of a day. Any excitement that keys up the nervous system often causes excessive perspiration, in which case we might need to resort to a quick remedy.

We've mentioned it before, but one important point in keeping clothes fresh is to see that they are thoroughly aired after wearing. This is especially true of the heavier winter fabrics.

Chicago Woman 100; She's Still Not Old Enough for Glasses

Mrs. Mathilde Fritze, who came to America as a bride in 1866, celebrated her 100th birthday yesterday in her home at 4741 North Campbell avenue.

A tall, active women, dressed in rustling black silk, her blue eyes sparkled when some one asked her if she were glasses. "Glasses!" she said in astonishment. "Why, I'm not that old."

Mrs. Fritze was born in Birnbaum, Posen, Germany, near Berlin, the seventh of eight children. She came here when 28, she and her first husband, Martin Oswald, living on Rush street, then Green Bay road. In 1892, Oswald having died in 1888, she married Ferdinand Fritze, a mason inspector for the city, who helped build the first water tunnels. Fritze died in 1932 at the age of 92.

Sweetbreads don't require much time for cooking, but it's a good idea to soak them in cold water for an hour. So if you're out to save precious minutes with this good but simple menu, you'll do the soaking and the precooking, too, ahead of time, say in the morning before you go to work or this evening if you plan to serve the meal tomorrow.

CREAMED VEAL SWEETBREADS

Purchase two pairs of sweetbreads if you're serving four persons. Soak them in cold water for an hour then remove membrane and simmer them gently for 20 minutes in slightly salted water to which a tablespoon of vinegar or lemon juice [for 2 cups of water] have been added. Plunge them into cold water, drain, and dry with a cloth. Keep them in the refrigerator if they aren't to be used immediately. Make a medium white sauce, using 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, and 1 cup milk. Cut the sweetbreads in pieces, heat them in the sauce, and arrange them on triangles of buttered toast, with two crisp strips of bacon garnishing each serving.

BAKED POTATOES ON THE HALF-SHELL

Bake two large potatoes for four persons. When tender, cut them in halves lengthwise, scoop out the pulp, mash it, and add seasoning, cream, and butter. Refill shells and return potatoes to the oven to keep hot until the rest of the dinner is ready. A stuffed half is served to each person.

DOUGHNUT SUNDAE

Buy four doughnuts, a pint of ice cream, and a tiny can of chocolate sauce for this dessert. Put the doughnuts on dessert plates and place a scoop of ice cream in each. Top with a spoonful of chocolate sauce.

Another version of this sundae makes it into a sandwich-like dessert. Split the doughnuts in half, making two layers. Put one ring on the dessert plate, add a scoop of ice cream, top with the other ring, and add the sauce. Any way you make it, it's good and just a little bit novel.

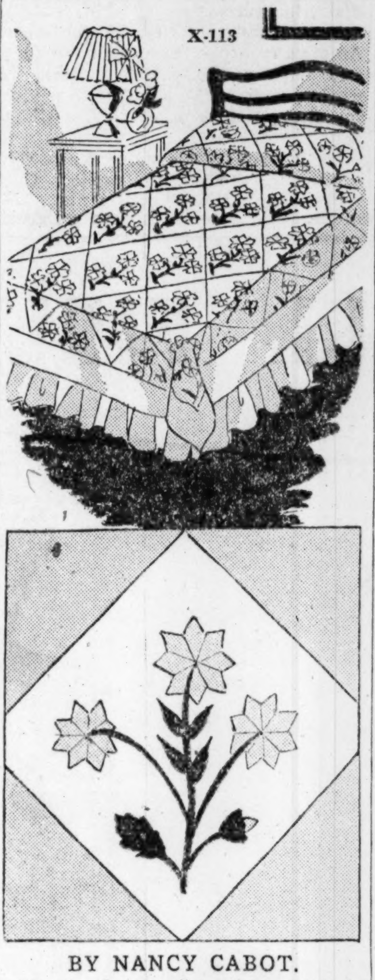
Red Peony Design Is One of Earliest Quilt Patterns



BY NANCY CABOT.

The "red peony" pattern comes to us from the earliest days of quilt making, originating in the conservative New England states, where the old coverlets of this design were made of reds and greens. Present day choice offers a variety of lovely reds and luscious greens for flowers and leaves. The quilt is composed entirely of applique blocks set on the diagonal and finished with a plain border quilted with a rolling cable design.

The Fastidious Woman Keeps Girdles Clean

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Corset, girdle, foundation—call it what you will—the supple little handful of muslin, elastic, or net in vogue today does a truly remarkable job of curve conforming, accentuation, and flattening out at strategic points.

A well planned wardrobe should include two or more foundations for economy's and cleanliness' sake. Only frequent changes, with thorough washing after each wearing, can protect these essential garments against the destructive action of body wastes and soil. Being worn close to the skin, the fabrics soon lose their beauty, strength, and elasticity if they are not cleaned often and thoroughly.

Several foundations worn in rotation and washed between wearings will far outlast the same number worn for long periods with no time off for freshening up. Moreover, no woman the least bit fastidious and sensitive to the niceties of style would want to wear the same foundation with tweeds and an evening gown.

Light weight foundations can usually be put into the tub or washer and given a thorough cleansing with a thick lather of suds and lukewarm water. Heavier, boned garments are best laid on a flat surface after dipping in lukewarm water and scrubbing with a well soaped brush. Water of the same lukewarm temperature is essential for the rinsing. The final step is to press out the excess water, roll the garment in a towel for a moment, pull it gently into shape, and dry it at moderate temperature, either on a flat surface or over a line without pins.

One of the criticisms—whispered, eyebrow raising ones—directed at our sex concerns this foundation garment item. Men, women must surely understand, have a fixed conception about daintiness and immaculate cleanliness in the woman they love. Any deliberate destruction of this compliment to the sex is met with deep resentment and, as hinted, there's something about a soiled foundation garment that is especially obnoxious.

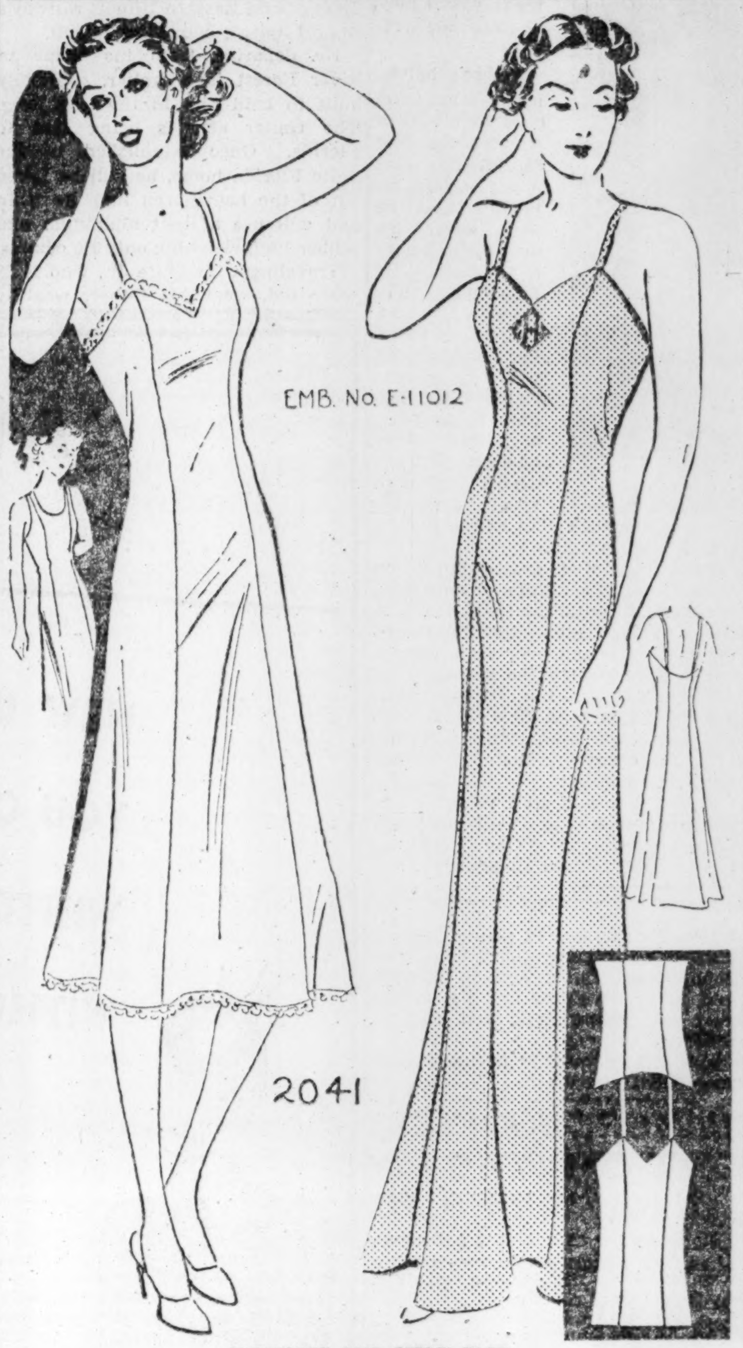
Costume Slip a Grand Gift



WOMAN'S AND MISS' SLIP.

If you're looking for Christmas gift ideas, don't forget the princess slip. Every woman on your list will welcome such a present, since there isn't a woman living who doesn't need lingerie. If it is exquisitely fashioned by your own fingers it will be doubly appreciated by those who know you intimately. A personal touch or attention always enhances the value of any token.

The slip may be made in either street or formal length. It may be trimmed with lace or left plain, to be adorned with a monogram, an always personal and flattering touch. The pattern for the monogram is No. E-11012, and is available for 10 cents extra. The paneling of the princess slip achieves a miracle of slim fitting. It is virtually sculptured to the wearer's silhouette.

The neckline may be heart-shaped, or you may style the garment with a built-up shoulder. Crêpe de chine, lingerie satin and taffeta all are ideal fabrics. Pastels always are in order, but costume colors are important this season, too.

Style No. 2041 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 2½ yards of 39 inch material, with 3½ yards of lace edging, for the street length slip.

Avoid Serious Talk When Your Child Is Weary

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

So, you're dreadfully worried? Something has come up in connection with your child's behavior that needs more than indirect guidance—something serious that must be talked over? Perhaps your 10 year old has been telling untruths to her teacher, or your 12 year old has been taking other students' possessions at school, or your 7 year old is suddenly afraid to go to his cozy bedroom alone at night, or avoids the school lavatory in the daytime?

Though these and many other sorts of behavior must be quietly thought out and looked into by you, it is frequently necessary to get at the thing by discussing it directly with your child. One long talk may do it, or several serious [but not solemn] discussions.

In any case, if you must talk something serious of this sort over with your boy or girl, choose your time. With a few possible exceptions, that time should not be when he or she is all wrought up, angry or weeping; nor when he or she is tired out, as at the end of the day.

Choose, rather, a time when your child is rested, relaxed and fed, when he has had a warm bath and some food, and a nap or a good night's sleep. This for the reason that in the tension that accompanies a turmoil of emotion or tiredness your child isn't best fitted to help you to look for causes and cures, nor is he apt to be responsive to you in his usual way.

For that matter, it's not a good plan to take issue with a child, even over small things, when he is excited, or especially when he's fatigued. Be tactful, or just "skip it." You can go into that in the morning.

With our 'teen age children, particularly, this advice about choosing your time for serious talks is worth your attention.

Many Parties Being Planned for November

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE mail of every one who goes about socially is filled with invitations these days, for every one is giving a party, it seems. Yesterday friends of the William A. Nitzes received invitations to what is sure to be a delightful affair. It is to be a dinner. followed by an evening of chamber music, on Saturday, Nov. 5, at International house.

A party that will add to the Thanksgiving gayety for the debutantes is one that Mrs. Bruce Borland and Mrs. George R. Nichols will give on Saturday, Nov. 26. It is to be a dinner-dance at the Casino and the young lady who is being complimented is Miss Margaret Hutchins. Her sister, Barbara, is married to Mrs. Borland's son, John Jay Borland II.

The Laurance H. Armours and the A. Watson Armours are giving a dinner-dance for Miss Hutchins and Miss Sally Perry on Dec. 2 at the Racquet club. Miss Hutchins will make her formal bow to society at a ball at the Blackstone hotel on Dec. 23 and Miss Perry will make her debut six days later at a dinner-dance at the Casino. The latter party will be Miss Catherine Johnson's formal debut, too.

Invitations are out for Miss Margaret Ann Burrows' debut tea on Friday, Nov. 11, from 4 until 7 o'clock, at the Casino. Miss Burrows' grandmother, Mrs. William French Burrows, is giving the party.

Belgian Countess to Be Guest in City.

Miss Lilace Reid Barnes will give a tea next Wednesday afternoon at her home, Glen Rowan, in Lake Forest, for Countess Helene Goblet d'Alviella of Belgium, who is touring the eastern and midwestern parts of this country to observe the work of the Y. W. C. A. The countess is active in various programs devoted to the interests and advancement of women in her own land, having organized the Y. W. C. A. in Brussels immediately after the war.

The countess' mother was an American and her father was the late Count Eugene Goblet d'Alviella, one time Belgian minister of state. Mrs. Thomas C. Dennehy Jr. will be the countess' hostess at luncheon on the day of her arrival, Nov. 2. The guest will spend that night with Miss Barnes and on Thursday will leave for New York. She came to this country after attending the Y. W. C. A. world's council at Elgin House, Ont., in September.

Miss Hadow of Oxford to Lecture in Chicago.

Miss Grace Hadow, head of the Society of Oxford Home Students, will arrive in Chicago on Nov. 9 to lecture at the University of Chicago. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, who is head of the American division of the society.

Mr. Morris already has returned to Chicago and as usual is at the Lake Shore Drive hotel. Just before leaving New York he and Mrs. Morris attended a conference of the presidents of women's colleges, held in honor of Miss Hadow, who is lecturing at several eastern colleges. Her aim is to promote the sending of graduate students to Oxford.

Mrs. Coleman Is 71; Declines Birthday Party.

"One doesn't have parties at 71," is the reply Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman made yesterday to the question, "Are you having a birthday party?" If she isn't having a party today, it is certain that it is because she refused to let any one give one for her, for she has many devoted friends.

Mrs. Coleman herself is giving a party Friday when she will entertain for her grandson, Walter Cobb Coleman, and his bride-to-be, Miss Barbara Stanley. The Coleman-Stanley wedding will take place on Nov. 5. Mrs. Coleman's party will be at the Return Recital Is a Triumph by Charkovsky

BY EDWARD BARRY.

A packed Kimball hall heard some superb piano playing last evening. Willis Charkovsky, a young Chicagoan who played a successful recital in this same hall two years ago, returned to reveal the results of further study.

The results are plentiful. The great natural talent and the finely developed technique are as startling as before, but this technique is now bent to the performance of a hundred subtle and highly musical services.

In the exquisite Ravel Sonatine, whose icy beauty of line and texture are so difficult to project, Mr. Charkovsky succeeded in coloring and phrasing in a most moving way without ever violating the reticence of the composer's style. His finely graduated effects kept within the piece's general character, yet lent absorbing interest to every bar of the music.

That this pianist has the wideness of outlook necessary to the successful practice of his art was indicated by his success in entering as wholeheartedly into the Chopin B minor Sonata as he did into the tiny sonatine.

Its fainting, decadent melodies were broadly performed, with a generous rubato lending enchantment to those sentimental turns of phrase in which the piece is so rich. And the tone colorings, rich without being mawkish, added immeasurably to the sonata's general air of outmoded, but still wistfully attractive, romanticism.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra has had to absorb only two new players this year. Hence it has leaped almost immediately into mid-season form.

This fact was strikingly demonstrated yesterday afternoon when the Tuesday subscribers came to Orchestra hall for the first concert of their series and heard a performance of the Scriabin "Divine Poem" which would have been very creditable even if it had occurred at the very end of the season.

Mr. Stock arranged the piece's gorgeous tonal masses into the long expressive lines which he likes so well, and no department of the orchestra handicapped him by failing to bow or blow in the best manner. The "Divine Poem" was so ably performed that the slight air of hokum which attaches to the work's philosophical program was entirely forgotten for the time.

The "Liebesfrühling" overture of Georg Schumann, the Dohnanyi suite, and excerpts from Berlioz' "The Damnation of Faust" completed the program.

Virginia Thatcher Is Bride

Mrs. John Alden Morgan was Miss Virginia Thatcher until yesterday afternoon when she and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Kendrick Morgan were married in the chapel of St. James' church. Following the ceremony the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George William Thatcher, gave a reception at the Fortnightly club. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan are going to Honolulu on their wedding trip and upon their return they will be at home in East Pearson street.

Hyde Park Incident.

When Durand Smith was in New York recently a friend recounted a little incident that occurred one evening when she was stopping at the Roosevelt home in Hyde Park. The President of the United States was there with his mother at the time. After dinner he idly twirled the radio dial and a voice came over the ether.

"Good heavens, it's Eleanor," he said.

A Horse on Her.

Mrs. Howard Linn's favorite story of the moment over which Lake Forest has been chuckling concerns the comment made by the butler at a recent debut tea. Mrs. Linn dropped in in riding clothes. As he opened the door for her departure the butler inquired gravely, but with a twinkle in his eye, "Madam, may I call your horse?"

Letter Writer.

A young woman of the collegiate type stopped in the typewriter department on the first floor of a loop store, put down some books, pulled a sheet of paper from a notebook she carried, and inserted it in one of the display typewriters. Then, standing there oblivious to saleswomen and shoppers, she wrote a letter.

Reassuring.

A Chicago woman (Mrs. Robert Carlton Richheimer) was waiting for the plane that would fly her and her 6 month old son from Florida to Chicago. She spent the moments before the plane took off chatting with the steward's wife.

"Do you always come down to see your husband off when his plane leaves?" she inquired.

"No, it's just that I'm superstitious and you know today is Friday the 13th," answered the steward's wife.

Our woman laughed hollowly.

Dialectician's Note.

"No, but I make plenty with tips," answered the waiter.

Hails Women's Orchestra as Real Symphony

BY CECIL SMITH.

The Woman's Symphony orchestra has been reborn. Since mid-September its members—some old and some new, as a result of severe and uncompromising auditions before the beginning of the season—have been rehersing under the direction of Izler Solomon, the young wizard who has already brought the Illinois Symphony orchestra to a point of unusual prestige.

Last night the Woman's Symphony orchestra played the first of a series of three concerts in the Auditorium theater. Izler Solomon, given the misleading and unjustly tentative title of "guest conductor" in the program book, added one more triumph to the record of his artistic history, and enabled his players to look with pride upon the most notable concert they have ever given.

David Van Vactor's "Passacaglia and Fugue," which opened the program with sober sonorousness, immediately revealed the orchestra as an unexpectedly responsive group, following the conuductor's indications with a will and achieving a climax of considerable éclat.

The four movements of Mozart's "Haffner" serenade which followed put the ensemble to a severe test. The orchestra's precision and clarity were a joy to hear, for it has never before been possible to call the women's playing sparkling. In three of the movements Amy Neill, the new concertmaster, played exquisite and accomplished obbligati, pure and scintillant, yet never rigid or cold.

Mr. Solomon devoted the post-intermission period to the Fourth symphony of Brahms. The slow movement was especially beautiful, with eloquent phrasing in the strings and good control in the difficult woodwind parts.

In the symphony the conductor seemed to be responding to some special inner urge to surpass all his past accomplishments in Chicago, and he conducted a performance that had every mark of a future great conductor. As he communicated his passion to the players one lost sight of all but the music, forgetting even to marvel at the unbelievable transfiguration of the orchestra.

Into the very midst of this triumphant evening was thrust a dissonant note. Igor Gorin, a Hollywood baritone known to radio audiences, had been engaged as soloist—long before, I am sure, any one realized how little the program would need bolstering up by any outside personality. If Mr. Gorin had understood and shared the musical standard of Mr. Solomon and the orchestra there would not have been any letdown.

As it was, the soloist attempted to appeal to the audience through the devices of a Hollywood glamor star. Despite a voice of great beauty, though of limited effective range, he was able to bring to the printed list of works by Handel, Strauss, Gretchaninoff, and Rossini only the most rudimentary musical qualifications. These done, he embarked upon a list of inappropriate encores, including rudely vigorous Russian songs and Albert Hay Malotte's sententious [or should I say sacrilegious?] setting of "The Lord's Prayer." While Mr. Gorin might have enjoyed a good deal of success under other auspices, his personal ends seem to have little in common with the artistic ideals after which the orchestra is striving.

Looking at Hollywood By Ed Sullivan

The Mirror.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 25.—Waitresses at the M-G-M commissary average fifteen to twenty-five cents per tip in serving the stars and executives. You would think that these high salaried guys would be liberal, but they're not.

On Stage 9, at RKO, Charles Boyer complains he can't get to sleep at night, and a prop man gives him a remedy. . . . Flatten yourself out on your stomach, grip the top of the bed and flex your entire body. Do this eight times, and you'll sleep like a top. . . . Either that or you'll tear the bed to pieces.

Leo McCarey is directing a scene on an ocean liner deck where Boyer meets girl for the first time, the girl being Irene Dunne. . . . They're discussing passion. . . . "Do you think it will ever take the place of baseball?" queries Miss Dunne. . . . "Cut," yells McCarey, well satisfied with that as a tag line.

No. 1 hair rumpler of Hollywood is John Barrymore. . . . On Stage 7 at RKO Barrymore, his hair disheveled, is riding in a gas light political parade for "The Great Man Votes." . . . The car is a 1920 model, and sitting with him in the back seat are 7 year old Peter Holden and 11 year old Virginia Weidler.

Jim Lee, Worcester, Mass., scribe, denies that Lewis Stone's birthplace is now occupied by the local postoffice. . . . "Somebody should tell the famous actor," concludes Lee, "that he was born at 202 Pleasant street, a mile from the present P. O." . . . Okay, Jame—he's told.

Director Henry King back on the Jesse James set after 16 days in the hospital. . . . The fluid in his ears went out of kilter, making him subject to spells of dizziness. . . . Probably his airplane piloting had something to do with that.

Director Edmund Goulding, between shots on the "Dark Victory" set, breaks out in a lusty baritone. . . . One of the camera crew has nerve enough to ring a gong, which is a musical raspberry. . . . The Mauch twins and Bonita Granville tuning in on the Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech game. . . . The Mauch youngsters expect to enroll at South Bend, and follow the team in every game.

Roy Del Ruth introducing Alice Faye and Connie Bonnett on the "tailspin" stage. . . . The two blondes look each other over carefully, like boxers sizing each other up in round one. . . . In the RKO commissary, other directors point out Carson Kaain. . . . The whole studio is gabbing about this former stage associate of George Abbott. . . . He brought in "A Man to Remember" for $119,000 [they'll throw him out of the union]. . . . Research men at Warner's a trifle flabbergasted in digging up data for "Dodge City." . . . They learn that Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe are not on the mail lines of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad.

Franchot Tone discussing "Gentle People," Broadway play which starts rehersing Nov. 22. . . . Shirley Temple asks the youngsters in "Little Princess" if they want to play G-men during a lull in the shooting. . . . The kids consider it seriously. . . . "We'd rather have cake and ice cream," they report. . . . They get it.

A Door Closed Softly

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

David Beddoes, young American, accompanies his cousin, Alison, to a party at Lady Wibbe's. By mistake they go to the house next door. While they are talking to the spinsterish woman, who receives them, they hear a woman scream and a body fall. The spinster explains it is a parrot. But young Penelope Wibbe says their strange neighbors have no parrot. But they acquire one next day. David learns his former love, Betsy Greentree, lives in the mysterious house. Betsy's father died after losing his money. While traveling in Europe with her aunt, Fanny Rush, Betsy met and married an Englishman, Geoffrey Scarpath. David sends a letter to Betsy, which is unanswered. He confronts Scarpath, who explains that Betsy is suffering from a chronic nervous condition and can have no visitors, that she is being taken care of by his sister Evelyn. David gains a secret interview with Betsy and learns she is miserably unhappy. When the specialist, Dr. Broderick, insists on her taking the medicine, which always makes her feel worse, Betsy grows desperate. Alison's friend, Dr. Colin Ladbroke, leaving her flat one night, finds Betsy unconscious on the threshold. Revived she explains Penelope helped her escape. Colin plans to have his friend, Dr. MacConochie, examine Betsy, after he learns Dr. Broderick is a drug addict. Geoffrey appears and tries to get Betsy to go to his London flat, but she refuses.

INSTALMENT XXXIII.

AN AUNT-IN-LAW.

David found Mortimer Bream waiting for him in Colin's flat. The first question put to him by the detective was a harking back to their last conversation.

"Not a line from Mrs. Rush," David answered moodily. "And nothing whatever about her money. Mrs. Scarpath still insists that whatever her aunt does leave is more than likely to go to some exploring foundation. In any case it won't come to her. Now's my turn. What about this move Scarpath's been making?"

"Directly Mr. Scarpath reached home and found his wife was missing he packed his bags and cleared out for South street. I think I wrote you he had engaged two servants for it, a man and a woman? And Miss Scarpath, of course, is gone away.

"Here's a bit more, though it may be of no particular value to us. Dr. Broderick attended Admiral Scarpath during his final break-up. Mental it was, but he was a very old man, and the truth has been tactfully hushed up. It was the doctor's chauffeur who gave me my few private details. I've been dropping in at a pub near the garage where Broderick keeps his large car. It seems that Mr. Scarpath and the doctor have been keeping in touch with each other ever since they first met at the admiral's bedside, so the doctor was no stranger when he came on this case."

"O! And is that all you've found out?"

"I'm told the doctor plunges a bit on the stock market. The chauffeur believes the De Larch crash hit him rather badly. It was Dr. Ladbroke who wanted me to look into him," explained Bream. "His health, temper, and so on. Last Monday evening at about six he suffered quite an alarming collapse. In spite of this he would see Mr. Scarpath who called round later on, and at eight-thirty seemed remarkably recovered—only peevish and upset. The chauffeur says he's been subject to these extraordinary ups and downs for some time. It's put down to heart."

"At midnight I dug out that parcel; it had in it—a green parrot."

What David wanted to hear about was a woman, not a nerve specialist's heart attacks, but when he mentioned this both Colin and Bream merely looked dubious. Little by little it crept over him that he had been working up a mortifying mare's nest.

Colin quietly interposed. "Suppose, Bream, you tell Beddoes what you saw on Tuesday evening?"

"I'd followed Mr. Scarpath to the house, and soon after he'd gone inside there came a most appalling squawk. Five minutes later out he came, carrying a small paper parcel, and went around under the cedars. Well, about midnight I dug that parcel out of the dust bin. It may interest you to know what it had in it—a grass green parrot."

David felt suddenly cold all along his spine. Had he been troubled by any previous doubts, this information would have made a clean sweep of them. The parrot had been obtained with but a single object, and that object no longer in view the bird had been ruthlessly cleared away.

Colin, returning after showing the detective out, found his other guest brooding over the fire. Raging, not unnaturally, over this signal failure to discover grounds for divorce.

"And how does Elizabeth strike you?"

David started, his face lighting up. "She's not the same girl. I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw her. You've worked a miracle."

"Don't thank me. It's largely that certain factors have been given their chance—or so I am hoping."

"O, I understand," said David quickly. "I'm not trying to pin you down about her. Let this other chap do that—if he can. Now I'd better be shoving off to find a room."

"Don't. That is, unless you'd find what I can offer you too uncomfortable. No, I'd be delighted, and it won't be putting me out. Actually I've been saving up another matter to discuss with you. It will explain my inquiries into Broderick's affairs."

"Broderick! Go on," bade David, gratefully falling back into his chair. "I thought there might be something you'd hit."

"I haven't exactly hit anything." Hesitatingly Colin reloaded his pipe. "And even if proved it may not touch any vital issue. You see, it all hinges on the belief of a highly prejudiced rival—yes, the man our appointment's with tomorrow. There's no doubt he's itching to oust Broderick from his tin-pot pedestal. However, let's leave that just for a moment, and go back to the aunt—Mrs. Rush, is it? How was she when you knew her? Health fairly sound?"

"Cast iron. Three years ago she looked good enough for another thirty years of globe-trotting. She was a tall, raw-boned woman, young for her age."

. . . .

While David and Colin were talking, a long boat train was rounding the curve into Victoria station.

In a first class carriage the solitary occupant had already risen and was manfully adjusting her slightly cavalier hat. She was a gaunt, purposeful woman in the late fifties, with handsome looks decidedly ravaged by hot suns, ocean gales, and a complete absence of facial remedies.

Her nose had an arrogant jut and mobile nostrils, her lips, tightly compressed, were well matched by a chin that went its own way, while her eyes, except for being dark blue, were those of an exceedingly wild hawk—one capable of severing at a single blow of the beak any hampering mesh or thong and making a bolt for the open.

The train, after the habit of trains, had halted exasperatingly within sight of the platform. Then it was that the passenger in first class had sprung up, impatiently cleared a peephole on the misted pane with her reindeer gloves, and begun the mutterings and foot tappings only ceased with renewed motion.

For the tenth time she told herself she should have come by air, and for the tenth time realized it would never have done. She who paced decks swept by every third wave was laid low for at least a day by the shortest plane journey, and in addition to wanting to tackle certain matters at once she was opposed to facing her nephew-in-law in a state of pea green dishevelment.

"An old woman's bad enough. A frowsy old one had better be knocked on the head!"

"Porter!"

Masterfully she seized on the first functionary to approach, waved him toward her canvas covered bags, and turned her back on him. It was a straight back, less aggressively so when softened by the Persian lamb coat still good, but slightly out of fashion, and the hawk-eyes under the bold hat brim seemed suddenly incongruously wistful—oddly, indeed, like Elizabeth Scarpath's—as they peered amongst the crowd.

"Fanny!"

She wheeled, and a shepherding arm saved her from a trundling barrow of luggage. Smiling down on her—yes, down, for all her five foot eight inches—was the face she secretly adored, as distinguished, as frostily clean cut as she remembered it. Geoffrey!

"Well, here I am!"

Her gaunt cheek tingled where his lips touched it. She had never grown used to being kissed, and still felt awkward when it happened. To recover poise she gave his arm a rough squeeze and letting him take her elbow with the protecting care she would have brooked from no other man proceeded to make short work of the customs.

Presbyterian Council Hears of Progress Toward Church Union

The Rev. Dr. Charles W. Welch of Louisville, Ky., was elected moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America last May as an agent of reunion of his church with the southern or Presbyterian church in the United States. Yesterday Dr. Welch reported progress to the general council of the church meeting at the Stevens hotel. He said that the southern church's synod of Kentucky has voted unanimously for merger, and that virtually on succeeding days the southern church's synods of Oklahoma and Tennessee affirmed the Kentucky synod's action.

Dr. Welch said he would be in New York on Friday when Episcopal and Presbyterian delegates will discuss ways to a union.

cocktail hour in her apartment at the Ambassador East hotel.

Cocktail Party for Miss Edith Atwater.

Mrs. William D. Dean, known in art as Helga Haugan Dean, will be hostess at a cocktail party tomorrow afternoon for Miss Edith Atwater. The party will be given at the Deans' home, 70 East Walton place.

Miss Atwater, who is playing in "Susan and God," gave one of the most successful parties of the season thus far last Sunday. It was in the penthouse of her mother, Mrs. Harold Pynchon, and Mr. Pynchon, atop 70 Cedar street. Miss Atwater is being widely entertained during her Chicago visit.

Two young bachelors who will be hosts at cocktail parties this afternoon are William D. Darrow, who will entertain for Miss Honor Merrell and Gordon Loud, and Harper Richards. He is entertaining for Raymond Loewy of New York.

Architects' Ball Planners to Meet.

On Friday, Nov. 4, William P. Welsh and Mrs. Philip Maher will give a cocktail party in his studio, 19 East Pearson street, for the casting committee of the Architects' Hollywood ball. The ball is to be given at the Drake hotel on Dec. 2.

Andrew Rebori, one of the producers of the ball, is going to give a combination house-warming and party for the ball committee at Thanksgiving time. It also will be for his daughter and son, Mrs. Theodore Frothingham of Bass River, Mass., and Andy Jr. The latter will fly home from Boston, where he is a senior at the Massachusetts Institue of Technology, for the Thanksgiving week-end. Mrs. Frothingham and her year old daughter, Betsy, are coming west to visit Grandfather Rebori at the same time.

Mr. Rebori's new home is what he calls a garden house at 1328 North State street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Von Gehr are giving a house-warming Sunday at 140 Park avenue, Glencoe. The house is an old one which the Von Gehrs bought and remodeled and furnished in colorful and attractive moderne style.

Woollcott Will Lecture Tonight.

Alexander Woollcott, who arrives this afternoon to lecture tonight at the Skokie school, will spend the night with Dr. and Mrs. Frode Jensen and her father, John R. Leonard, in Winnetka. Mr. Woollcott will see for the first time the Jensens' baby daughter, who has been named Alexandra after her father's close friend.

The subject of Mr. Woollcott's talk is "Folklore." His lecture will open a series planned by the scholarship fund committee of the Graduate Teachers' college of Winnetka.

Many who were in the enthusiastic audience at the Sylwyn theater Monday night for the opening of "Of Mice and Men" will meet the members of the cast on Friday at a breakfast of the Drama league. The affair will be given at 12 o'clock in the crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel.

Lillian T. Mowrer, who talked on European politics to a large audience last Friday at the Council of Foreign Relations luncheon, and yesterday at the Woman's Athletic club, will discuss "The European Theater" at the Drama league's breakfast.

English Union Will Entertain Helen Wills.

Cards are out for a luncheon the English-Speaking union will give next Monday at the Palmer house for Helen Wills. Miss Wills, famous tennis player, will make her first Chicago address at this luncheon. She will recount her experiences in winning various championships and discuss the relation of games and sports to international good will and understanding.

Mrs. Samuel Insull has returned from abroad and is at the Pearson hotel.

The Housewife

Did you know that the transparent film bags with zipper closings that you've been using to keep vegetables fresh have many other uses? They're being carried around in the handsomest luggage these days, as they offer moisture tight protection for bottles of liquid shoe polish, medicines, etc. The travel sizes are 8 by 9 inches and 7½ by 12 inches, with a 12 inch zipper.

They're grand for metal cloth evening slippers, for they keep them from tarnishing. Use them to put away your white summer shoes, too. And the little bags are so handy to slip into your purse to hold your powder, rouge, etc.

These bags may be washed in boiling water and soap suds, if you wish. They won't stick together and they'll last a long, long time.

EDITH WEIGLE.

Boy's Puppet Opera Will Give 'Aida' at Loop Hall Tomorrow

Twelve years ago Ernest Wolff, then 12 years old, saw his first opera. The next day, working with an old apple box, he tried to build his own. The result will be seen tomorrow night in the Auditorium building in the first downtown performance of the Chicago Miniature Opera company.

This opera company, which Thursday will present Verdi's "Aida," is unique in that its actors are puppets and its stage three by four feet in size. It has a repertoire, however, of seventeen operas and a company of 160 puppet stars.

In detail and workmanship, the stage, settings, and actors are as exquisite as the celebrated miniature rooms of Mrs. James Ward Thorne. All is modeled on the Chicago Civic opera house. The proscenium, backdrops and elaborate fire curtain were copied faithfully by Wolff. His mother, Mrs. Theresa Wolff, 1434 Addison street, makes the costumes.

Each performance, heretofore given in a basement workshop at 3712 North Janssen street, is complete even to the preliminary orchestral tuning up—for there is a puppet orchestra. The music?

Recordings of the complete librettos, to which the puppet acting is perfectly synchronized.

The bride is the dean's second cousin and since the death of the first Mrs. Johnson in 1931 she often has acted as his hostess. According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

LAST WEDNESDAY'S QUESTIONS, RESTATED AND ANSWERED.

Question 3: Both sides vulnerable. North, your partner, dealt and bid one spade. Next hand [East] passes. You [South] hold:

♠ K 8 6 4 3 2 ♥ 6 5 3 ♦ 7 4 ♣ 8 6

What call do you make?

Answer: Correct response is two spades. I hope you were not misled by your great length in partner's suit, to respond with three or four spades. Your side suit holding is completely barren, even distributionally, hence you cannot afford any stronger [or weaker] bid than the recommended one. [Twenty-four points demerit for passing, 28 points demerit for responding with three spades, 12 points demerit for four spades, 35 points demerit for any other response, including one no trump.]

Question 4: Both sides vulnerable. You are South. West deals, and the bidding proceeds:

West	North	East	South
1 spade	Double	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ 8 6 5 4 2 ♥ 7 3 ♦ Q 8 2 ♣ 10 4 3

What call do you make?

Answer: Correct call is two clubs, the cheapest possible take-out except one no trump, which would show some strength. Two clubs is the least of all evils. [Thirty-three points demerit for passing, 18 points demerit for one no trump or any other bid except two clubs.]

TODAY'S QUESTIONS.

Question 11: With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 spade	Pass	Pass	?

You are South and hold:

♠ K Q 10 7 4 ♥ 7 2 ♦ A 10 8 3 ♣ J 3

What call do you make?

Question 12: With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 spade	2 clubs	?

You are South and hold:

♠ 8 4 ♥ 7 6 2 ♦ J 8 4 ♣ Q J 9 6 2

What call do you make?

TODAY'S HAND.

South, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	1 diamond	2 clubs	2 diamonds
3 hearts	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass
5 hearts	Pass	6 clubs	Pass
Pass	Pass

When South, having started with the lower ranking club bid, made the jump reverse bid of three hearts, North wisely decided that his two aces waranted strong action. Hence he cue-bid diamonds to show first round control and to imply slam aspirations. South's bid of five hearts now gave a precise picture of his holding. He must hold six clubs and five good hearts. He could not have two worthless spades because, in that case, he would have realized that North's diamond control would be sheer "duplication of values," and would have signed off at five clubs. The slam bid became a marked course, and the contract was a laydown.

Beau of Early Days Asks Wife to Leave Home

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"Troubled" is 31, married to a cousin. There are two children under ten. Her husband is all right, too, but her marriage, she tells, was one of the family arranged ones common to her nationality.

There was a young man, however, on the horizon that the woman believes now is the love of her life. When they went around together, he was unable to marry her because of finances.

Now, after a period in which this other man did not enter, he reappears with protestations of his love. He never married. Says he never will unless he can marry Vittoria.

During the years when Vittoria and her legal mate lived on in marital harmony, she found she liked her husband and still does, for that matter.

But this other thing that reappears in her life is of another substance, she argues.

Vittoria tells, however, that the Romeo she did not marry urges her to move away from the neighborhood, her childhood and married home neighborhood, because he has returned to it. He thinks it would simplify matters did a long distance intervene.

To which we respond that Vittoria has no problem, regardless of how she may be emotionally upset at the moment. A gentleman who would request her to do the moving to save his skin would scarcely be the one for whom to shipwreck a secure home, now would he?

Besides, he had his chance against which family arrangements need not have availed in this free country of ours.

The woods are full of bachelors who love to assume the martyr pose, which is only a pose.

Wave him out of your life, Vittoria. You have those two young hopefuls from whom more honest blessings will flow your way if you do the right thing by them.

LAZZERI SAYS HE'S THROUGH WITH CUBS

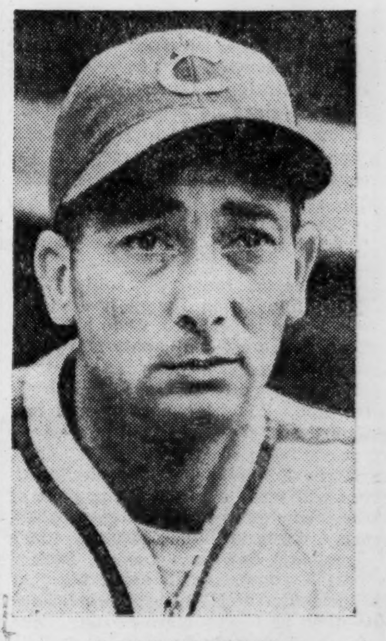
FORMER YANKEE HOPES TO LAND MANAGERIAL JOB

Wrigley Willing to Release Tony.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Tony Lazzeri, according to Tony himself, is no longer a member of the Cubs' baseball family. P. K. Wrigley, who owns the Cubs and keeps a fairly close tab on what is happening in his baseball establishment, says the ex-Yankee who served as coach and utility player with the Cubs through the 1938 season, is slightly in error.

Lazzeri threw himself into the off-season spotlight yesterday when, from his California home, he calmly announced that he had asked for and received his unconditional release from the Cubs.



TONY LAZZERI.

Wrigley promptly countered with an announcement that, while he had agreed to Lazzeri's release if formally requested, the request had not been received. In reply to the Wrigley statement, Lazzeri declared he "would not be back with the Cubs."

Tony Uses the Phone.

"Lazzeri phoned me from San Francisco about a week ago," said Wrigley. "He asked whether he could have his release if he wanted it. He said he wanted to shop around for a better job. I assured him that if he had a chance to advance in baseball that the Chicago club would not stand in his way. I expressed myself similarly to him a year ago when we signed him to his contract, following his release by the Yankees. Since that 'phone message I haven't heard from him."

Lazzeri, when announcing he was a free agent, added that he thought he was still good enough to play regularly in the major leagues. He claimed that he had made no contacts, but that he had hopes. If he has his eyes on a big league managerial post, they are turned in the direction of St. Louis. Neither the Cardinals nor the Browns have selected a 1939 leader, but the Cards undoubtedly will pick a man from their own chain store system and the Browns are reported to be favorable to the candidacy of Ray Schalk, former White Sox catching star.

Rumors Reduce Activities.

Lazzeri may be taking his release simply to get himself out of what for him was an uncomfortable situation. As soon as the Cubs signed him last fall, the rumor mongers pictured him as the future manager. To avoid a possible charge that he was chiseling to get the job, the Italian athlete leaned backward. He kept to himself most of the time.

At the time Lazzeri was signed the Cub officials insisted he had been given no assurance that he was definitely set for the boss' job. He was told that he would be employed as a coach and utility infielder, but he may have believed the rumors which continued to pop up intermittently until Gabby Hartnett was named as Charley Grimm's successor. If he believed the rumors, his present attitude easily could be attributed to disappointment.

As a player Lazzeri proved of little value to the Cubs. Early in the season when minor injuries beset the regular infielders, he took turns at second, short, and third, but his ground covering ability was so limited that no further effort was made to employ him except as a pinch hitter.

N. U.-MINNESOTA GAME ALWAYS A GOOD SHOW

Expect New Thrills Saturday.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Coach Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern knocked wood when he said it, but yesterday he came right out and allowed the Wildcats always play their best game against Minnesota's Gophers. Still knocking wood, he said he hoped and believed he homecoming match between undefeated Wildcats and undefeated Gophers in Evanston Saturday will be no exception.

It is perhaps interesting to have a football coach make optimistic statements before a big game, but form sheet compilers scarcely need appraisals from even so sage a gent as Mr. Waldorf. It has got around pretty generally that whenever Minnesota and Northwestern hook up, a drama special is assured. A sellout crowd of 47,000 is indicated for Dyche stadium Saturday and folks don't go to Evanston in those numbers unless thrills are anticipated.

Remember Last Visit?

The gate hasn't been hurt in the present instance by memories of the game of two years ago, Minnesota's last visit to Evanston. The Gophers, you remember, arrived in Dyche stadium with a record of 21 victories. Lots of folks were feeling awfully sorry for the Wildcats.

During the first three periods the Wildcats fought the Gophers and the Gophers fought the Wildcats to a 0 to 0 standoff. Until late in the third quarter all the threats were Gopher threats. But it was 0 to 0.

Late in that third quarter, however, Don Heap reeled off a 23 yard run to the Minnesota 20 yard line. The Wildcats, in a frenzy of scoring ambition, started pounding.

Don Geyer hit the line for two yards, Bernie Jefferson made four and Geyer added another. It was fourth down on Minnesota's 13. Geyer tried for a field goal from placement but his effort failed. After the ball was brought out Minnesota was penalized five yards for delaying the game. Then Alfonse fumbled and Gibson recovered for Northwestern on Minnesota's 13 yard line.

Geyer Is Slugged.

Imagine how the 48,347 spectators were feeling by now. But the thrills were really just starting. Heap fumbled but recovered with a loss of two yards after which Geyer got back those two yards on a line smash.

By this time Ed Widseth, giant Gopher tackle, had decided that Geyer and the rest of the Wildcats were taking their scoring ambitions a bit too seriously. So the next time Geyer plowed on Widseth popped him one for luck, a curtsy that Referee John Getchell [you've been reading about John these last few days] interpreted as slugging. Getchell picked up the ball, stepped toward the Minnesota goal and put the ball on the one yard line.

Geyer had been popped a good one. But he was still intent on ball toting. He made half of that yard to the goal line as the third quarter ended.

How Winning Streak Ended.

At the start of the fourth period Steve Toth gained a foot on the first try, then went over right tackle for the winning touchdown. Toth's try for the extra point was blocked.

During the remainder of the game Minnesota tried everything in the book, threatened time and again, but the Wildcats stood them off. The Gophers' 21 game winning streak had come to an end.

We have mentioned that 48,347 attended that game and that 47,000 are expected Saturday. What we'd like to have you help us figure out is what's going to keep the 1,347 away when they recall what a show the teams put on the last time they met in this vicinity.

Gophers Like This One.

Minnesota, of course, would rather talk about the game in Minneapolis last year, the same kind of a fight but with the Gophers the victors, 7 to 0. In this one the Wildcats outgained the Gophers in rushing and passing but the payoff came on a touchdown pass, Harold Van Every to Capt. Ray King.

Coach Waldorf, in a press conference yesterday, waxed statistical in expressing his respects for Minnesota, then got around to the aforesaid happy note of optimism. He said he had been pleased with improvements in doubtful spots, notably at center and in the blocking at the quarter back position, where the graduation of Fred Vanzo left a big gap in earlier games this season.

Team Makes Progress.

"Perhaps we are not a great team," Mr. Waldorf said, "but we unquestionably have made progress. This is the point in the season where a good team must find itself if it's ever going to. I think we have reached our full stride.

"Both teams have sustained power capable of controling the ball for considerable periods. Player for player, we should compare favorably with Minnesota. The first string left half backs, our Jack Ryan and Minnesota's Van Every, are of the same

Lions Approach Peak Form as Battle with Bears Nears

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Couriers from Detroit bring word of great enthusiasm in the Lion camp. Preparations for Sunday's game against the Bears in Wrigley field are going forward with renewed confidence. The Lions are convinced they whipped a real football team when they beat the Cardinals, 10 to 0, last week and are ready now to start the arduous stretch drive in the championship race.

Their chief stimulus, however, is provided by the recent showing of the veterans, Ace Gutowsky, Ernie Caddel, George Christensen, and Dutch Clark. These men finally have begun to hit their stride. Clark in particular has looked better in recent appearances, so much so that he may decide to start himself when the Bears and Lions line up at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the new time for the kickoff.

Conditioning Process Is Slow.

The performances of these veterans bring up an old question in professional football: Why does it take the professionals longer to reach peak form than college players? It has been definitly established that it does take longer. Regardless of their conscientious application of pre-season training routine, men who apparently are in the finest physical condition find it impossible to play their best football until the middle of the season.

The answer is to be found only in the application of the laws of physiology. No one can escape the consequences of age. The studies of Dr. William Webber Kelly, one of the founders of the Green Bay Packers, who has been intimately identified with every Packer squad since 1919, have produced some definite conclusions on the subject.

"It is an undisputed medical fact that as people grow older, year by year there occur certain normal changes which reflect themselves in various ways," explains Dr. Kelly, who during his career has held positions on the faculties of European and American universities. "This is particularly the case with muscle tone and circulation. These alternative processes reflect themselves in a slight but nevertheless definite change in muscle coördination and with the onset of early physiological fatigue.

College Men Reach Peak Quickly.

"The younger man of college age does not suffer from this handicap of muscular incoördination and his circulatory functions automatically are in better condition. It therefore requires much less effort on his part to acquire the necessary muscular coördination and mental alertness."

Most professional athletes put on weight in the off-season. Consequently they start practice with fatty muscles. College athletes, on the other hand, continue in basketball, track, or baseball after football and have a shorter period of athletic inactivity before resuming in the fall. Every athlete, however, is subject to some imperceptible change which creeps up on him and which under the ordinary laws of physiology he is unable to combat. As his age increases, so do his handicaps.

"The cases of Dutch Clark, Clark Hinkle of our club, Mel Hein of New York, and half the other players in the league are typical," says Dr. Kelly. "Clark is a comparatively young man as we speak of men today, yet physiologically Dutch Clark is a much older man than other men of his age, because of intense athletic activity. You cannot make a man younger by strenuous athletic exercise, but you can make him older."

Clark's Is an Old Case.

In conclusion Dr. Kelly pointed out that after older men had overcome these handicaps by cautious and persistent work in the early season, they invariably were able to produce the football that has earned them the reputations of being the outstanding players in the game.

Clark insisted early in the season that he was in perfect shape, but after each workout he bemoaned the fact that he was not able to play the football he had come to expect of himself. Teammates and club executives did not become alarmed. It was an old story with Clark. In each of the last four seasons it has been the same.

But the conditioning processes are over now and Detroit sees itself moving over the Bears on Wrigley field Sunday, the Packers and Bears in Detroit later and on to the playoff.

Meanwhile the Bears, with some veterans of their own who are just beginning to come to life, go forward with plans to stop the Lions' vaunted running attack, an attack that depends upon finesse of execution and the dynamic charge of its husky backs, Bill Shepherd, Gutowsky, Vern Huffman, and Lloyd Cardwell.

Lion Trap Being Baited.

Considerable stress is being placed on passes in the Bear offense, for most of the Bears' recent victories over the Lions have been scored through the air. Detroit, despite repeated close up views of the maneuver, perennially has proved vulnerable to Bernie Masterson's long jump-up pass down the middle to Right End Bill Karr. The old Masterson to Karr combination has been working overtime in rehersals, polishing up this old Lion trap for unvelling come 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

STARTING FIELD IN CESAREWITCH REDUCED TO 28

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 25.—The famous Cesarewitch stake race, which will decide the distribution of more than $7,000,000 on the Irish Hospital sweepstakes, will be run tomorrow. Six withdrawals today reduced the field to twenty-eight.

The horses scratched included Maj. R. B. Glover's Artist's Prince, J. E. Davis' Archduke II., Lord Ivor Churchill's Golden Shore, François Dupre's Tramonto, D. Landale Wilson's Toreador III., and F. E. Peek's Celibate II.

The last callover of betting odds tonight established Sir W. Burbidge's Solonaise the 10 to 1 favorite, replacing J. P. Hornung's Dubonnet, which dropped to third place at 100 to 9.

Contrevent, French-bred 3 year old owned by Princesse de Faucigny-Lucinge, remained second choice at 21 to 2.

William Woodward's Olympus, the American-owned representative, was considered a 22 to 1 chance.

Other odds were:

Snake Lightning, 100-8; Fet, 13-1; Black Speck, 14-1; Snipe Wood, 18-1; Nubarak and Stainless Stephen, 20-1; Love's Legend, 22-1; Harewood, 25-1; Earthstopper, 28-1; Corofin, 33-1; Ranfield, Miss Windsor, Tapageur, Queen's Shilling, Malkowicza, Trevisini, Gyppo, and Nettlewood, 40-1; Greymantle, 50-1; Sirtam, Repondant, Fairing, and Holuechase, 66-1 and Harvest Home, 100-1.

The race will be at two and a quarter miles. Its value is about $15,000.

LET'S FORGET IT, CARNEGIE COACH WIRES GETCHELL

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—In a telegram to John S. Getchell, Minneapolis referee who called a down incorrectly in the Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech football game Saturday, Coach Bill Kern of Carnegie declared published reports were exaggerated. Kern wired: "Report of my comments on you personally very much exaggerated. The consensus of our squad and myself is that we forget about the whole thing. We all wish you the best of luck."

WISCONSIN HAS EVERYTHING BUT ENOUGH SPEED

It Has to Make Its Yards Hard Way.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

We met a fellow Sunday, the day after Purdue whipped Wisconsin, 13 to 7, who might have been willing to wager that the Badgers wouldn't lose another game this season. At least he had plenty of reasons why Wisconsin should win and with some urging he might have backed up his statement financially.

His best idea on the Purdue-Wisconsin scrap sounded reasonable. His contention was that Purdue couldn't play better in the first half [the Boilermakers were held to four yards net from scrimmage] because of fatigue from the game with Fordham. Then, he added, Wisconsin, incapable of playing sixty minutes of hard football because of the previous battle with Pittsburgh, collapsed, and Purdue, not having expended all its energy in the first half, came back in a rally that scored two touchdowns.

Byelene Wasn't Tired.

To which we added that the lad who personally led the Purdue attack, Mike Byelene, wasn't tired at all unless he was very tired of sitting on the bench. Byelene didn't play enough against Minnesota and Fordham to work up a fine perspiration. When this sophomore sprinter broke away from the pack in the fourth period for his seventy-two yard touchdown run, he not only was running for Old Purdue, but he was running to win a place on the varsity lineup.

Wisconsin's particular handicap in the Purdue game was the loss of Bill Schmitz at left half back. This forced Roy Bellin to move over from right half. And more important, Wisconsin was short handed in the back field. The Badgers have only one Howie Weiss, for instance, and no one will dispute the fact that Weiss, after three quarters of hard work, defensively and offensively, must lag in effectiveness.

After Indiana, the Wildcats.

Our friend, however, in sincere belief that Wisconsin will whip Indiana this week and follow with victories over Northwestern, U. C. L. A., and Minnesota, is banking on the power of the Badger line. Wisconsin's line play against Purdue, in the first half, was remarkable. The Badgers' defensive success then was greater than Pittsburgh's against Wisconsin, and on attack the Cardinal line ripped wide holes in the Purdue line.

It is true that this Wisconsin line developed in the last two seasons has been one of the most aggressive in the conference. But Wisconsin's principal difficulty, the same problem that faced Michigan in 1937, is the lack of a climax runner. Wisconsin makes its yardage the hard way, three yards now and four the next time.

Michigan Has Speed.

Byelene ran seventy-two yards, but the last fifty yards was no trick. Any sprinter could have covered the distance. Speed kept him in front of those who followed.

All of which points to trouble when the Badgers meet Northwestern. Wisconsin will be favored to beat Indiana. But unless the Wildcats are banged up by Minnesota, the Wildcats will be the choice next week.

Michigan also has an aggressive line, a line that outcharged Minnesota. But this year Michigan has speed in the backfield. Four of its backs can better ten seconds for a 100 yard dash. This speed was the foundation for the winning rally against Yale. It is the reason why the Wolverines should trounce Illinois this week.

One More for Iowa.

Michigan's speed also is in evidence on defense. Superior line speed enabled the Wolverines to play in tighter against Minnesota and still recover to check sweeping end runs. Superior speed at the defensive half backs brought those backs up to the line to tackle runners. Michigan's back frequently brought down Minnesota's runners behind the line of scrimmage.

By the same reasoning Purdue is headed for another victory this week over Iowa.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

THE two best backs that came into professional football this fall were members of the All-Star team that defeated the Washington Redskins at Soldiers' field, 28 to 16. . . . They are Cecil Isbell of Green Bay and Whizzer White of Pittsburgh. . . . Isbell figures more prominently in the headlines, but don't underestimate White. . . . He is one of the greatest all around back field men the professional game has known. . . . They admit that even in Green Bay, where Sunday White ran and passed and kicked and put up one of the finest defensive games fans up there ever had seen. . . . That takes in a lot of territory, because some pretty fair football players have appeared in Green Bay in the 18 years the city has belonged to the National league. . . . Coach Johnny Blood of the Pirates assigned White to the job of covering Don Hutson, the Packers' brilliant forward pass receiver, and for the first time since the former Alabama end joined the ranks of the professionals he was stopped completely. . . . If White were playing with the Bears or the Packers or the Lions he would be the sensation of 1938 football. . . .

Jimmy Adamick, who has been confined to a Detroit hospital since his knockout by Roscoe Toles a month ago, is able to leave his bed a few hours each day. . . . No players were claimed by either the Giants or Yankees in the minor league drafts. . . . Ebbie Goodfellow has been elected captain of the Red Wing hocky team. . . . Santa Clara has won 21 out of 22 football games since Buck Shaw became head coach two years ago. . . . If Leo Durocher receives $17,000, as reported, he will be the highest paid Brooklyn manager since Wilbert Robinson's day. . . . Andy Kerr was surprised at Colgate's secret practice in Cedar Rapids Friday to see two charming young women sitting in the stands watching the team's final workout before meeting Iowa. . . . Inquiry revealed they were Mrs. Ernie Nevers and Mrs. Pat Boland, wives of the Hawkeyes' back field and line coaches, respectively. . . . Shocked as he was, Kerr permitted them to remain. . . . Helen Jacobs will lecture on tennis at the 1939 San Francisco World's Fair. . . . Pete Bausch, Ray Buivid, Sam Francis, and Milt Trost of the Bears spend their spare time keeping house in a five room apartment on the north side. . . . Two do the cooking, two do the dishwashing, and there is a fine for any member of the quartet taking a meal away from home except on trips or special occasions. . . . Once every two weeks they invite Gene Ronzani to the apartment to prepare an Italian dinner.

DAY AND LELLO BATTLE TONIGHT IN CASINO RING

Rival Lightweights Are Evenly Matched.

Pete Lello, 1936 Chicago Golden Gloves 135 pound champion, will try to displace Davey Day as No. 3 lightweight contender in a ten round bout tonight in Park Casino, Madison street and Hamlin avenue.

The apparent decline of Day, who competed in the 1931 Golden Gloves tournament as a featherweight, and Lello's improvement in recent weeks indicate the fighters will enter the ring on even terms.

Expect 3,500 Fans.

As a consequence, the show's backers are making arrangements to handle an overflow crowd of more than 3,500. In that case receipts would amount to approximately $4,000. At that rate, Day would waive his $750 guarantee and take 27½ per cent of the gate.

A five round contest between Lorenzo Lovings and Steve Padon, Chicago junior welterweights, has been added to the supporting card. Other matches:

Chester Rutecki vs. Bob La Monte [6], 160.
George Nyberg vs. Louis Di Piero [4], 148.
Joe Lubin vs. Chester Mason [4], heavyweights.
Frankie Agnes vs. Johnny Balmer [4], 135.

Weights Are Easy.

Weight for the Day-Lello headliner is 137 pounds. Each boxer will make this poundage without difficulty. Davey weighed 136½ when he whipped Wally Hally in Marigold Gardens Sept. 27 and Lello 134½ when he knocked out Varias Milling in White City Sept. 23.

The Hally conquest was Day's fifty-seventh victory in sixty-six engagements in seven years, as well as his twelfth straight. Davey has not been defeated since he lost a disputed decision in ten rounds to Lou Ambers, then lightweight champion, in the New York Hippodrome Feb. 10. 1937. The setback was only the fifth he has suffered during his professional career.

Lello Is Younger.

Day is 26, four years older than Pete. In addition Davey has an advantage in experience. Lello has been fighting professionally only two years. In that span he has engaged in thirty-five contests. He scored thirty triumphs, fought one draw and lost four times.

STEWART LAUDS HAWKS; ORDERS MORE WORKOUTS

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Manager Bill Stewart of the Blackhawks, in training at the University of Illinois rink, today, ordered an extra practice for the remaining afternoons of their stay, which ends Friday. Another intra club game is scheduled for Thursday night.

Manager Stewart gave his first interview of the season today and talked mostly of the added power, both offensively and defensively, the Hawks acquired through the purchase of the Baldy Northcott-Russ Blinco-Earl Robinson line from Montreal.

"The way the Hawks won the Stanley cup last season proved we had the scrappiest club in the league," Stewart said. "This season the Hawks will be scrappier, for Baldy Northcott is a player who does not know the meaning of the word quit. Northcott, always a scoring threat, also will be valuable from a defensive standpoint. In my opinion he is the best coverer in the league. He won a Stanley cup for the Maroons four years ago by stopping the great Charley Conacher in the finals.

"This year's team is stronger in every respect than the club of last season and I intend to utilize this new power by playing an open, aggressive game outside of those occasions when common sense calls for a strictly defensive battle."

The main asset of the squad is experience, Stewart pointed out.

GROOM THEBAUD, BLUENOSE FOR FINAL MEETING

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Taking advantage of a day's idleness enforced by the race committee, the crew of the schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud, American challenger for the international fishermen's trophy, labored until after dark tonight preparing for a decisive meeting tomorrow with the Canadian defender Bluenose.

The Thebaud was hauled out on a marine railway at Gloucester, where minor repairs were made to her keel.

In Boston, Bluenose's broken backstay was spliced.

The Canadian vessel's crew reported their skipper, Capt. Angus Walters, was slightly injured when he fell on the schooner's deck today.

Tomorrow's deciding contest will be sailed on the 35 mile triangular course off Boston, starting at 10:05 a. m. [Eastern standard time.] The series opened Oct. 9.

De La Salle and Leo Meet Sunday in Charity Game

Fenwick of Oak Park and Andy Pilney's Weber eleven, unbeaten in north division competition, will meet in Mills stadium in the other feature game on Sunday's schedule.

Three teams are unbeaten and untied in the Chicago Public High School league. . . . Lane Tech has won five straight in the north division. . . . ◆

Lane Tech's soccer team plays Von Steuben at Addison street and Kimball avenue this afternoon. . . . In other City league games Tilden Tech, defending champion, opposes Hyde Park in Sherman park; Crane Tech faces Kelly in Altgeld park, and Schurz meets Manley in Kuppenheimer stadium.

CARDINALS PLAY PHILADELPHIA IN ERIE, PA., TONIGHT

Erie, Pa., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Chicago Cardinals arrived here today from Detroit for their National Football league game against the Philadelphia Eagles tomorrow night. Coach Milon Creighton said the squad was in good shape, despite its 10 to 0 defeat by the Lions on Sunday. He held a long workout shortly after the squad's arrival this morning.

Practice stressed defense against the running of Dick Riffle, former Albright star, who leads the Eagles' attack, and the plunging of Dave Smukler, husky full back.

Creighton intimated he would start Dwight Sloan, former Arkansas half back, who has earned a place among the league's leading passers in his first year in professional football. Frank Patrick, former Pitt full back, will be at quarter back or the blocking back position in the Cardinals' offense.

The Cardinals are expected to rely on open football with Sloan, Jack Robbins, also of Arkansas, and Pat Coffee pitching to Gaynell Tinsley and Bill Moore, the league's outstanding ends.

REPORT DETROIT IS AFTER TRAVIS OF WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Detroit Tigers are seeking Shortstop Cecil Travis of the Washington Senators, it was reported today. The Tigers, it is said, want to purchase the shortstop outright or get him in a player trade. Travis each year has been among the leading hitters in the American league. He came to the Senators as a third baseman, but was placed at shortstop by Manager Bucky Harris when Buddy Lewis joined the club.

type, smart players, and hard but not elusive runners."

The Wildcats went through a comprehensive workout yesterday. The backs were drilled in tackling and ball handling and the line was coached extensively on defense tactics. A lot of time was given to kicking and all these things were followed by a scrimmage with the freshman team.

GOPHERS FIND WEAKNESS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Passes thrown by the reserves clicked consistently against the varsity today as Minnesota prepared for the Northwestern game in Evanston Saturday.

For the first time since the Washington game, the Minnesota back field was intact. Harold Van Every was at left half back, Wilbur Moore at right half back, Larry Buhler at full back and George Faust at quarter back. Allan Rork supplanted Charlie Schultz at right tackle. He may get a starting assignment Saturday.

After watching the passes work, Coach Bernie Bierman concentrated on offense, hoping to overpower Northwestern's highly regarded defense.

Indications were that the Gophers, who leave Friday and will stay in Milwaukee that night, will be followed by 6,000 spectators.

LANE COACH ON AIR.

Jimmy Evans will interview Coach George Ring of Lane Tech Saturday morning at 10:45 o'clock on station WBBM. Lane is a leading contender for the city football title.

STUDENT EDITORS AROUSE WRATH OF IOWA ELEVEN

Paper Satirizes Players After Defeat.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The dispute which threatened to split the University of Iowa into two factions today ended calmly in the evening as the principals—the Hawkeye football squad and the Daily Iowan, student newspaper—patched up their differences.

In the course of the trouble, which was caused by stories carried by the Iowan Sunday and today, the Iowan editor, John Mooney, and the sports editor, Dennis Sullivan, were ejected from the practice field last night under threat of bodily harm if they returned.

Further Trouble Averted.

Further trouble was averted when Karl E. Leib, chairman of the board in control of athletics, called both Mooney and Jack Eicherly, captain of the football team, into conference late this afternoon to settle their quarrel.

Members of the football squad were aroused by a story written by Sullivan for the Sunday edition of the Iowan, in which he charged the players had failed to show "the slightest sign of resistance" in losing to Colgate Saturday afternoon.

The Iowan's answer to the treatment accorded it by the football team appeared in Tuesday's paper in the form of a football practice story under the by-line of Maxine Reams, 20 year old student society reporter. In her story, Miss Reams went into vivid detail on the uniforms worn by the Hawkeyes in practice.

Story Irks Players.

"The trousers were more or less on the 'dirndl' style—gathered at the waist and gartered at the knees," her story said. "They had on barge style, high topped boots with cleats on the bottom, sort of like Alpine boots. They had on some off-the-face hats—helmets, I think they called them."

What really aroused the football players was her description of the hooded sweat shirts the men wear during practice:

"They were wearing some hooded things—sort of like those cellophane rain capes all the girls wear on rainy days—only they were more like slip-over sweaters with patch pockets at the waist."

Satire on Scrimmage.

The scrimmage really caught the fancy of the puzzled Miss Reams, although she confessed in her story she could not understand what they were attempting to do.

"And they were very polite about it, too," she said. "I thought they were really having a fight, but every boy would help the others up, and tell them how sorry he was if he had hurt them, and pat them on the back, and then they'd start fighting again. It was just like a wrestling match only they didn't have any gongs."

It was learned Nile Kinnick would not practice this week in order to rest his injured ankle, and possibly might not play against Purdue Saturday. Frank Balazs, regular full back, who was thought to be lost for the season, returned to practice. He was withheld from heavy scrimmage against the freshmen. It was announced he would be ready to play against the Boilermakers.

Coach Irl Tubbs continued to use Jerry Niles, sophomore full back, at center and Mike Enich, sophomore quarter back, at tackle. Both weigh over 200 pounds and Niles is exceptionally fast. Tubbs said the shakeup was necessitated by the poor showing against Colgate, and the fact the line needed strengthening.

PURDUE STUDIES FAULTS.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—In an effort to correct the faulty blocking and tackling that was evident in the first half against Wisconsin, Coach Mal Elward returned the Purdue squad to a study of fundamentals this afternoon as the Boilermakers continued to prepare for their battle with Iowa in Iowa City Saturday.

Co-captain Joe Mihal, who was injured early in the Wisconsin game, was in uniform but with his face badly swollen, and Elward indicated that the star tackle may not see much action against the Hawkeyes. Pete Timperman and Al Rossi, sophomore tackles who were big factors in the second half rally against the Badgers, are scheduled to play a large part of the game.

STAR PASSERS TO CLASH IN T. C. U. BAYLOR CONTEST

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Davey O'Brien, 150 pound star who has forward passed nearly a half mile in five games, draws Bill Patterson, quite a passer himself, in Saturday's duel of the airways. Unbeaten Texas Christian tags along behind O'Brien; undefeated but tied Baylor lines up behind Patterson.

Little Davey has the same completion percentage as Columbia's Sid Luckman, but has gained 275 yards more. Statistical survey of O'Brien, luckman, and Patterson:

	G.	Att.	Com.	Yds.	Ave.	Pct.
O'Brien, T.C.U.	5	86	44	782	13.25	.512
Luckman, Columbia	4	82	42	507	12.19	.512
Patterson, Baylor	5	74	34	503	14.8	459

Ten of the Christians' seventeen touchdowns have come directly from O'Brien's passing. He has missed but one try for point after touchdown in fourteen attempts.

Gun Club Acts to Fight Ouster by City Park Board

Members of the Lincoln Park Gun club, in a special meeting last night, reaffirmed their action of Oct. 10 when it was voted to file a bill asking that the Chicago park board be restrained from declaring a forfeiture on the club's lease at Diversey parkway and the lake. A legal committee composed of John Marzall, William Bourland, D. B. Baker, and J. J. Buckley is handling the case for the club.

Maroons Make Linemen Out of Full Backs

The most drastic juggling act Coach Clark Shaughnessy has tried with the University of Chicago lineup transpired yesterday when both varsity full backs, Morton Goodstein and Ed Valorz, seniors, were shifted into the line. Goodstein, who weighs 210 pounds, began learning the right tackle assignments and Valorz those at left end.

Shaughnessy feels he can afford to bolster the faltering Maroon forwards since his reserve back field material has been developing nicely. If the switch holds, the back field will consist of Lew Hamity, Remy Meyer, Sollie Sherman and Carl Nohl, the latter a sophomore full back. Sherman played his best game of the season against Ohio State. This would leave John Davenport in reserve for spots where speed would be most useful. Bill Kimball, another sophomore full back, has been coming fast and will understudy Nohl.

It is hoped Goodstein will plug up the chief hole in the line. Hugh Rendleman, erstwhile right tackle, has been made a reserve center.

The Maroons are bending every effort to prepare for the DePauw game on Stagg field Saturday. They have sufficient regard for DePauw, which won seven out of eight games last year, to forego their specific preparations for Harvard until next week.

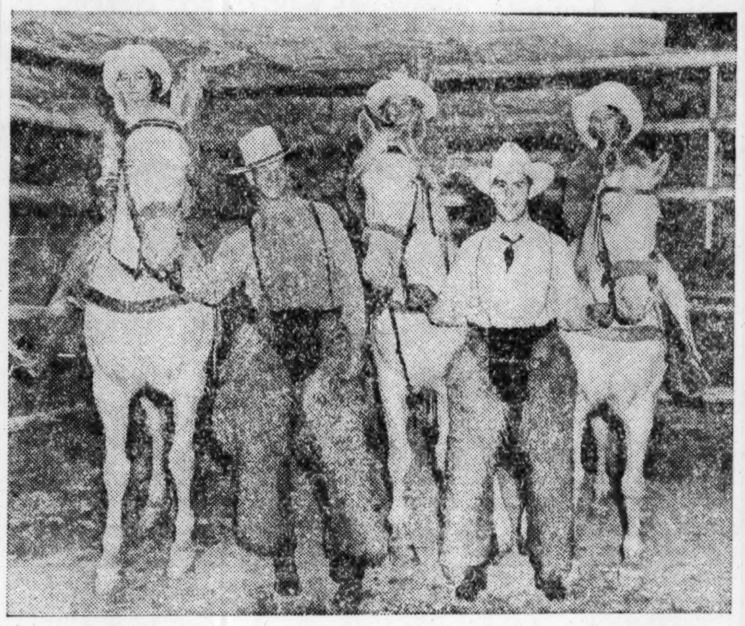
OHIO STRESSES FUNDAMENTALS.

Columbus, O., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Ohio State players had a long session of fundamentals today as they continued preparations for the New York university game in New York on Saturday.

Blocking and down field tackling as well as kickoff formations were stressed. Later New York plays were demonstrated by the second team.

The starting line of the Buckeyes is expected to be much the same as that which opened the Chicago game with Charley Maag, who has recovered from a knee injury, at center.

The Bears Go to the Rodeo



Bernie Masterson (left) and Ray Nolting, Bear backs, dropped in to the rodeo in the Stadium last night. The rodeo folks put them in western outfits, told 'em to look out for Rams, and introduced them to some of the best people in the show—best people being (left to right): Maxine Morton, June Brekenridge, and Veldene Strauss, three cowgirls. The Bears play Detroit in Wrigley field Sunday.

BURKE BREAKS STADIUM CALF ROPING RECORD

Dee Burke of Comanche, Okla., broke the Chicago Stadium rodeo record for calf roping last night. He accomplished the job in 17 3-5 seconds. The old record was 18 1-5.

Brahma steers were ridden for the first time in the Stadium contests with the result that several cowboys were thrown. Jimmy Hazen of Saugus, Cal., suffered a sprained ankle. Results:

BAREBACK BRONC RIDING—Won by Neil Wagner, Maywood, Cal.

Dubuque Crowns Football Queen for Homecoming

Dubuque, Ia., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Miss Hilda Balster, 20, brunette sophomore from Monticello, Ia., today was crowned football queen of the University of Dubuque. She will reign Saturday afternoon at the homecoming game with Buena Vista college.

Notre Dame Puts Saggau on First Team

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The loss of Mike Corgan, right half back, and the advancement of Bob Saggau, sophomore left half back to the first team formed the major news in the Notre Dame camp today as preparations proceeded for Saturday's silver jubilee game in the Notre Dame-Army series in New York.

Saggau alternated with Harry Stevenson, with the No. 1 team, but Coach Elmer Layden said that Stevenson will start the game. Ben Sheridan, junior from Havana, Ill., who alternated with Stevenson last Saturday, was with the second team today, but all three of the "S-men" will see action Saturday.

Corgan was lost for three weeks when X-ray pictures showed that he received a slight fracture of the left collarbone when he fell in trying to field a forward pass yesterday. He was with the second team before the season opened but lost ranking when he received a bruised hip. He had fought his way up to the fourth team from the sixth since recovering.

ARMY IN GOOD SHAPE.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—"The team will be as strong as it was for our first game this season," Coach Bill Wood of the Army said today in discussing the condition of the squad for Saturday's game with Notre Dame.

There are still three places in the starting lineup that are a matter of conjecture, center, left half, and full back.

At left half Woody Wilson and Bill [Moon] Mullin are the leading candidates. Wilson is a veteran of last year's Notre Dame game and he is a fine punter. The full back post is likely to go to Capt. Jim Schwenk, with Bill Kelleher and Ken Due the other two choices.

Wisconsin Elects Weiss Captain for Indiana Game

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Howard Weiss today was named captain of the Wisconsin football team for the homecoming game with Indiana Saturday. Weiss was injured in the Purdue battle, but is improving rapidly and will play at least part of the Indiana game.

Because of numerous injuries, the Wisconsin squad, which was given a complete layoff yesterday, will do little heavy work this week. Today's workout was limited to a light scrimmage with the freshmen using Indiana plays. The next three days will be devoted largely to improving the Badgers' passing attack.

If Bill Schmitz, injured left half back, is able to play against Indiana, he probably will exchange places with right half back Roy Bellin. Schmitz has an injured shoulder and Coach Stuhldreher feels the Madison junior might be more effective at Bellin's regular position. Jack Murray, big Wisconsin center, still is suffering from a leg injury and will divide the pivot duties with John Doyle.

Stuhldreher made two shifts on the first team today. Dick Embick, sophomore from Laurel, Neb., was at right guard in place of John O'Brien, and Al Lorenz, another sophomore, was back at right end in place of Bob Weigandt.

HOOSIERS WORK HARD.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Coach Bo McMillin ordered out the freshmen today and sent them against the Indiana varsity in a hard scrimmage. The frosh demonstrated Wisconsin plays as the Hoosiers prepared for the game in Madison Saturday. The long drill also included practice in blocking, an offensive and defensive pass scrimmage, and a kicking scrimmage under game conditions.

The squad was bolstered by the return of Frank Petrick, regular end, who practiced with his injured finger in a cast. The finger was broken in the Illinois game Oct. 8.

75,000 Tickets Distributed for Pitt Game

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The University of Pittsburgh disclosed tonight 75,000 tickets have been sold for Saturday's game with Fordham—assuring the largest crowd ever assembled in the Pitt stadium.

In 1930 a throng of 74,247 witnessed the Notre Dame-Pittsburgh game and last year the Nebraska contest attracted 71,267, the second largest crowd. Extra seats have been built to accommodate the 75,000.

As Pitt settled down to vigorous drill, Dr. Jock Sutherland expressed worry only over the condition of one player, Walter Raskowski, right tackle. The senior from New Castle, Pa., was the victim of a peculiar injury in the first half of last Saturday's Southern Methodist conquest and did not play after the intermission. In some manner muscles to the toes of one foot were strained.

Should Raskowski be unable to play against Fordham, it would be the first time the starting lineup of ten seniors and one junior has been broken up.

FORDHAM CASUALTIES RETURN.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Fordham's chances of beating Pittsburgh brightened when Len Eshmont, sophomore running back, and Joe Ungerer, tackle, reported for an intensive workout. Thay were hurt in the Oregon game. Ungerer was with the first team during signal drill. Mike Hearn, a senior, played at right half. The first team also worked on its passes.

Girls' Volleyball Teams to Play in Skyline Club

The Skyline Athletic club will play the No. 1 team of the American College of Physical Education in the feature of three games in the Skyline-Madison Women's Volleyball league tonight in the Skyline club, 188 West Randolph street.

ILLNESS, INJURY KEEP PURUCKER FROM PRACTICE

Kromer Takes His Place in Michigan Back Field.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Michigan's first team put on its first midweek scrimmage since the opening game today in preparation for an Illinois team which coaches count as one of the most dangerous on the Michigan schedule.

Half Back Norman Purucker took no part in the heavy drill after reporting for practice with a stomach disorder and a bruised shoulder. His place on the first team was taken by Paul Kromer.

Coach H. O. [Fritz] Crisler also sent the squad through a lengthy fundamentals drill with linemen blocking and backs running signals and blocking dummies from skeleton formations. Defense got its call in a dummy scrimmage against reserves using Illini plays.

ILLINI SHOW SPIRIT.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Illinois hopes for a strong showing against Michigan began to ascend today when the Illini went through a spirited practice, demonstrating their morale had not suffered because of the Northwestern reverse. Determined to present his strongest front against the Wolverines, Coach Bob Zuppke restricted practice to dummy scrimmage against the freshmen and announced there would be no contact scrimmage this week.

Possibility that Mel Brewer might return to the lineup at left guard practically vanished when the regular did not appear in a suit. Cliff Peterson, sophomore, appeared at left half back with John Thistlewood, junior squadman, as his understudy. Thistlewood was showing promise when injured, and has just resumed practice. Seeking more ends, Zuppke worked with Duane Fultz, a sophomore.

George Bernhardt and Jim Hodges, disabled guards, rested but will be ready. Other than Bob Wehrli and Tony Mazeika, who definitly are out, the Illini will have their full team ready for the Wolverines.

BURKE LEADS MARQUETTE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Bill Burke, junior right end from St. Mel's High school in Chicago, who turned in a creditable performance against Texas Christian last week, today was named by Coach Paddy Driscoll to captain the Marquette university football team in next Saturday's game here with undefeated Iowa State.

In an attempt to polish the Marquette offense, Driscoll tried a new forward passer today. He is Benny Owens, 195 pound Chicago sophomore, who has been working at tackle and end.

Doomsday was a fizzle

"The world will end in the year One Thousand." So said the prophets. But nothing happened.

America, too, has its gloomy prophets. Has had them always. A railroad to the Pacific was a silly day dream ... the telegraph a plaything ... the horseless carriage a toy for fools. But all their clamor could not stem the wheels of progress ... wheels kept moving by the eagerness and vision of our pioneers. Today the spinning wheels of progress run more smoothly and travel everywhere ... singing a song of cheer heard 'round the world — a promise of ample rewards to Americans with faith in themselves.

MAEWHISK CAN HOLD UP HIS HEAD; HE WINS A RACE

Hardy Two Year Old First in Naperville Purse.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Maewhisk, a 2 year old gelding which resides in the barn of Dan Hardy was holding up his head last night and looking the other boarders in the Hardy quarters in the eye. Maewhisk had reason to be proud, for he had just won the Naperville purse, main event of the Sportsman's Park program yesterday.

It's nearing getaway day at Sportsman's. In fact, next Monday at the half miler will not only be the last day of the meeting, but also will conclude Chicago's entire six months of turf entertainment.

Thus it behooved Maewhisk to do something about earning his oats. Owner Hardy, one time jocky, wasn't scolding the little horse. But a couple of other roomers in Hardy's menage were looking down their noses at the son of Whiskalong. They were Dyak and Lady Albert G., which had scored during the recent Hawthorne meeting, and Doug Brashear, winner of last Saturday's feature at Sportsman's.

Ahead All the Way.

Owner Hardy gave Maewhisk another chance yesterday. He felt that any youngster which could finish in the money in each of his other three starts at the little track was due for that chance. Maewhisk confirmed his owner's faith by winning all the way, from Fair Haste and Jubilee C. The former had won her last out, and Jubilee C's board bill was paid in advance, for that young fellow had taken all three of his last three starts.

Once again the long and short of it collaborated to take the daily double, which paid $84.80.

Fob, the 5 year old son of Stars and Bars, which had come home in front last Thursday at odds of 17 to 1, started the double players off with a photo finish decision in the first race at 7 furlongs. The fact that he had led almost all the way at a mile and sixteenth in his preceding effort appeared to have no effect on the fans who liked Joaney B., which they installed as an 8 to 5 favorite. The best the latter could do was to finish behind False Card, which Fob under a hustling ride by Jocky L. Wilson, caught in the stretch. Fob paid $31.80.

Chief's Boy Chooses the Main Road.

Chief's Boy, which had started three times at Sportsman's Park with no better result than a pair of seconds, dashed down by three lengths in the second number after the crowd had witnessed a sample of wild west riding. This weird horsemanship occurred as the field passed the clubhouse turn. Four horses, including Big Sam, the 2 to 1 favorite, and the well played Sly Kitty, suddenly detoured so widely that it looked as if they were going to jump the fence and continue on out into 52d avenue. Meanwhile Hank Hauer, on Chief's Boy, clung to the rail, and won easily, rewarding its backers with $7.80.

Dartmouth, a Powerful Foe, Is Yale's Next

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Yale's football forces today began careful and thoughtful preparation for another of the succession of hard afternoons the Blue has faced since the opening of the season. There was a certain amount of contact work, a good deal of it dummy scrimmage, but it was evident—both from the watchfulness of the coaches and the words of the head coach, Ducky Pond—there will be little more scrimmaging before the Dartmouth game in the bowl Saturday.

"I think the fellows will come back all right from the effects of the Michigan game," Pond said and added words of praise for the way the team had performed against Michigan.

Lineup Still Uncertain.

The coach was not ready today to announce a definite starting lineup. That, he said, would depend to a great extent on the way various men came back from the pounding taken in last Saturday's game.

Pond said the back field probably will be composed of Johnny Miller, Bud Humphrey, Al Wilson, and Bill Snavely. Bill John and Bliss, the tackles, and Bill Moody and Arthur Dyess, the ends, came through in better shape than the guards. Bill Platt, Pond said, probably will open the game at center, with Charley Miller in one of the guard positions.

DARTMOUTH GETS READY.

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The Dartmouth football squad returned to action today after a day's layoff and serious defensive work predominated as Coach Earl Blaik started preparations for Yale.

Although there were several experimental changes in the varsity, two shifts were noteworthy. Lou Highmark was at left guard in place of Lou Young Jr., and Howard Nopper returned to quarter back in place of Sandy Courter.

Highmark, whose work has improved steadily, was a surprise starter against Harvard Saturday. Nopper started against Brown two weeks ago, but Courter played nearly all of the Harvard game.

The varsity had no contact work today, but spent the afternoon looking over Yale passes. In this drill Coach Blaik used both the offensive and defensive back field combinations that worked against the Crimson.

Bob MacLeod, Colby Howe, and Bill Hutchinson started, and Joe Cottone took over Howe's place later in the drill.

THRILLING EARLY MORNING SIGHT: DUCKS IN FLIGHT

Here Are Some 1st Hand Observations.

BY BOB BECKER.

The morning flight of pintails and mallards in an Illinois river marsh is one of the most thrilling sights that any sportsman can witness.

The other day, while hunting a corner of the Illinois river country, we were setting out our decoys around 7 a. m. and the flight was on. It continued over the marsh for several hours. During the time we were in our blind [one hour and ten minutes] we jotted down a few notes on what we saw and what happened. Here is what went into our little notebook:

It beats all how these pintails and mallards are coming in and lighting not more than 150 yards away while we're setting out decoys. . . . Everything set. . . . What a flight of birds! . . . Must be a couple of thousand going over now. . . . Some of these are going to come down to our decoys. . . . Yep. . . . Here we go! . . . First one taken over the "left end" decoy and down he comes with a splash. . . . Nice drake mallard.

Cormorants on Parade.

Cormorants parading now. . . . About twenty in the flock and in a swell formation. . . . More mallards. . . . Look at that little flock of eight set their wings. . . . It's beautiful. . . . Around they go. . . . We'll take 'em on the next swing. . . . Listen to that duck answer our calling. . . . Here they are right over the decoys and up we come. . . . They swung just right, came in on our left and down went a drake and a hen. . . . At this rate we won't be here long.

Mrs. B. is nudging us in the back and saying, "Ahead, shoot." She should poke us in the back! We never did see that bunch of five that sneaked in on our left and all but knocked the front end out of the blind. . . . We were busy trying to get a smoke lighted. . . . The wind has shifted to the northwest. . . . It's swell! . . . Just missed a right hand bird that swung around the front and went down wind. . . . We weren't even close with two shoots. . . . He had a perfect change of pace that made us look bad.

A Drake Comes Down.

Glory be, look at the birds in the air now. . . . There are our old friends, the pintails. . . . And are they decoying! Look at 'em. . . . Got to get two this time. . . . This wind brings 'em in just right. . . . Wham, wham . . . not much skill needed to get that pair . . . easy shots. . . . When they're decoying like this no need to stretch for the long ones 'way out. . . .

There's a smart old drake. . . . He came up on our left, zoomed over us and we never touched him. . . . Look at this high pintail drake. . . . He's just barely moving, while looking over the stool of decoys. . . . He's awfully high, but here goes. . . . Lucky on him. . . . Dropped him almost in the blind. . . . What a morning for hunting. Wind is freshening now.

HARVARD WORKS FOR PRINCETON; EXPECTS PASSES

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Coach Dick Harlow sent the Harvard squad through a scrimmage session today, the first and second varsities engaging in an hour's offensive drill against the scrubs.

It was the Crimson's first such drill in three weeks.

In the preliminary drills Coach Wes Fesler, who has scouted Princeton, Saturday's opponent, did the forward passing for the scrubs. The team came out of the hard session in excellent shape.

The first team was made up of Green and Jameson, ends; Healy and Booth, tackles; Mellen, Glueck, and Coleman, guards; Russell, center, and Wilson, Foley, MacDonald, and Gardella in the back field.

PRINCETON CRIPPLES RETURN.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—With most of its injured players back in action, the Princeton squad ran through the first of a series of three secret practice sessions on University field today in preparation for the Harvard contest. Ninety minutes of the workout was spent in scrimmage against the scrubs, who employed Harvard plays.

Although bothered by fumbles, the varsity had little trouble making headway. Dick White, Bob Van Lengen, Eddie McCormick, Chuck Winston, and Billy Moor all broke away to score, but were called back, no touchdowns being allowed.

Armstrong, Garcia Sign Contract for Title Battle

New York, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Contracts for the fifteen round meeting between Henry Armstrong and Ceferino Garcia in Madison Square Garden next Wednesday night were signed today in the offices of the New York state athletic commission. Armstrong's welterweight championship will be at stake.

The commission announced the thirty day suspension of Al Weill and the indefinite suspension of Al Diamond, New Jersey middleweight. The former was set down for shouting instructions to Joey Archibald during his charge's bout against Mike Belloise last week. Diamond was criticized for an unsatisfactory performance against Walter Woods in Rochester last week.

MOVE FENCING MEET.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The national fencing tournament will move out of New York next year for the first time in forty-six years, it was announced today.

NEW EXAMS SEEK TO UNCOVER CITY RELIEF CHEATERS

All Forced to Reapply in Three Districts.

Another attempt to rid Chicago relief rolls of cheaters was announced yesterday by Leo M. Lyons, commissioner of the Chicago Relief administration [CRA]. The drive, he said, has begun in the Bridgeport, Washington, and Irving district of the CRA.

Every reliefer in each of these districts is being forced to reapply for relief, Lyons said. A thorough examination of each applicant's need and eligibility for relief is being made.

"We have had reviews of the CRA rolls before, but never anything like this," Lyons said. "There were many chances for slips in the former system, but we think there are none in this."

Special Training for Investigators.

Under the old system the reliefer was forced to come into his district office and sign a new pauper's oath. Field investigation of his need often was limited, Lyons admitted.

The new central intake office of the CRA is examining the Bridgeport district rolls. Investigators in this office have had special training in tracking down hidden resources or income of those applying or reapplying for relief. It is planned eventually that every applicant in Chicago will go to this office.

New intake stafs for the examination of old and new applicants have been established in the Washington and Irving offices. The social workers on the CRA have been been criticized on the ground that they are more interested in giving people relief than in finding out whether they need it. The activities of the new intake stafs have been directed solely toward the determination of need and eligibility.

Campaign May Be Extended.

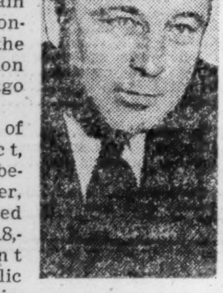
Lyons said the studies in these three districts would determine whether or not the drive should be extended to cover the entire city. Bridgeport blankets the loop and the near south side, Washington is in the heart of the south side colored district, and Irving takes in most of the northwestern part of the city.

Because of the new training being given the examination stafs, Lyons said, the present examinations are expected to take nearly two months. He said that later ones, if they are decided upon, probably will be done more rapidly.

Detailed instructions for the handling of clothing being shipped into the state by WPA for distribution to reliefers were issued to his assistantants yesterday by Lyons. Although WPA apparently was trying to get the clothing into circulation before the election an informed person said the effort probably would fail.

RELIEFERS TOLD WPA IS NO GATE TO SUBWAY JOBS

Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator, yesterday warned relief clients that certification for work with the Works Progress administration will not entitle them to obtain jobs in the construction of the new 40 million dollar Chicago subway.



Leo M. Lyons.

Construction of the project, scheduled to begin in December, is being financed in part by a $18,000,000 grant from the Public Works administration. This government agency has no connection with the WPA, which draws its project personnel from the relief rolls.

"There is a widespread impression that the subway work is to be done as a WPA project," Mr. Lyons said. "As a result many people have applied and are applying to the Central Intake Unit of the Chicago Relief administration for referral for WPA certification.

"As the work is to be done by private contract and as the contractor is to obtain his employés through the offices of the Illinois State Employment Service and the labor unions, certification to WPA will not affect a person's opportunity to obtain work on the project."

Arthur Reynolds, 35 years old, 525 North Austin avenue, was charged with assault yesterday on the complaint of Mrs. Mary Holt, 4311 Madison street. Her daughter, Maxine, 24 years old, leaped from a window in Reynolds' fourth floor apartment Sunday. Mrs. Holt told Fillmore police her daughter said she leaped to escape Reynolds' attentions.

SURGEONS BLAME HOSPITAL BAN ON ADMINISTRATION

MacEachern Brings Explanation to City.

Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern returned yesterday from the American College of Surgeons' convention in New York with an explanation of the A. S. C.'s reasons for dropping the Cook County hospital from its list of approved hospitals. He is the director of hospital activities for the A. S. C. institutions.

The principal reason for dropping the hospital, he said, is its inefficient administration. He said that the head of the hospital should be a man with at least five years of training in large institutions.

A. M. A. Approval Withdrawn.

Approval of the hospital as a training center for internes was withdrawn last summer by the American Medical association. Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, has written to A. M. A. officials asking them for a detailed explanation of their action.

"The administrative problem at the county hospital probably is the most complicated and responsible in this country," Dr. MacEachern said. "We believe the man at the head of the hospital should be one who is trained and experienced in hospital administration."

Brig. Gen. Manus McCloskey, retired, was appointed warden of the hospital last July. The county board selected him after repeated failures to get an experienced hospital administrator for the post.

Appointment Criticized.

"Gen. McCloskey is a very capable man, but without much experience in hospital administration," Dr. MacEachern asserted.

"The man who runs the county hospital should have full authority and at least five years' training in big institutions. The county board could have secured such a man. I want to help the county board in any way I can and will be glad to coöperate with them."

Dr. MacEachern said that a full time medical superintendent is needed at the hospital, although the administrator need not be a doctor. Dr. Karl A. Meyer is chief of staf at the hospital now.

Urges Full Time Official.

"Dr. Meyer is a competent man, but he has a large practice outside the hospital," Dr. MacEachern said. "The job needs a man who can devote twenty-four hours a day to it."

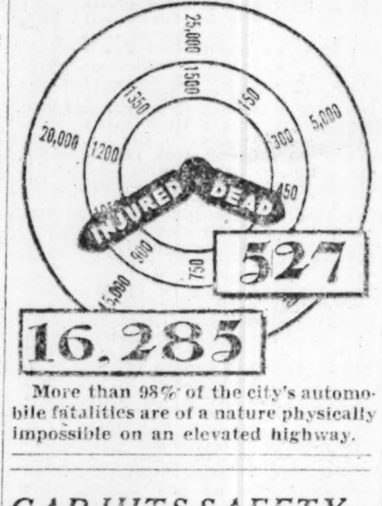
Dr. MacEachern also criticized what he said was a triple division of authority at the hospital. The warden, the medical director, and the director of nursing are each independent at the present time, he said.

"It is hard to coördinate the administration of the hospital under hree heads," he added. "There should be an administrator with full authority over all services."

He said a letter listing sixty items about the hospital was sent to Michael Zimmer, the former warden, on Oct. 22, 1937. The A. S. C. has never received a reply to this letter, he said.

Gen. McCloskey said yesterday that the newly equipped laundry at the hospital will be ready for service in about two weeks. The county board authorized the spending of $450,000 for the new equipment when a doctors' investigating committee reported that the hospital should do its own laundry.

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1938 Trafic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

CAR HITS SAFETY ISLAND; DRIVER CRITICALLY HURT

A motorist identified through cards in his pockets as Henry Harris, 260 Vine street, Hammond, was injured critically yesterday when his car crashed against a safety island at 103d street and Indianapolis boulevard. He was taken to the South Chicago hospital. The cards identified Harris as a foreman in the machine shop at the Inland Steel company plant at Indiana Harbor. He is about 29 years old.

Anthony Prena, 65 years old, 1524 Wabansia avenue, was fatally injured by an automobile last night as he was crossing Ashland avenue near his home. He died in the Illinois Masonic hospital. The driver was Max Factor, 3609 15th street.

Sylvester Paradowski, 11 years old, 1013 West 51st street, died in the Evangelical hospital yesterday of injuries suffered Monday when he ran in front of a truck at 51st and Morgan streets.

Walker Kelso, 36 years old, 642 East 64th street, colored, died last night in the Provident hospital from injuries received when he was struck by the automobile of a hit and run driver at Garfield boulevard and Michigan avenue on Oct. 19.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 679 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county. Of these, 527 were killed in Chicago, where 16,285 were injured during the same period.

DRINKS 6 BEERS AND ZIGZAGS HIS CAR; GETS 5 DAYS

Two erratic drivers were sentenced yesterday by Judge Frank Padden in the Safety court to serve five days each in the county jail. Patrick Kennedy, 1818 South Komensky avenue, was seized after zigzagging his car through trafic on Ogden avenue police testified. Kennedy insisted he had but six beers.

Edward Wasilewski, 930 West 36th street, according to police, passed another car on the left at 45th street and Ashland avenue and hit a street car.

Mrs. Louise Carter, Head of U. S. Nurses in War, Dies

An estate of $500,000 personal property and $100,000 real estate is disposed of in the will of Col. John Roberts, which was filed yesterday with John R. Bullock, clerk of the Lake County Probate court in Waukegan. Col. Roberts, a partner in the old packing companies of Miller & Hart and Roberts & Hart, died on Oct. 15 at his home in Cuba township. He served as a lieutenant colonel in the world war.

The will leaves his 60 acre estate to three nephews, David, Harry, and Roberts Howland. The widow, Mary Shannon Roberts, is to receive $10,000 and his personal belongings. The residue will be placed in a trust for the benefit of Col. Roberts' two children, Mrs. Marie Roberts Hodgkinson and John Oake Roberts. At their deaths the income will go to the Bobs Roberts Memorial Hospital for Children at the University of Chicago.

PROPOSE CLOSING OF RARELY USED GRADE CROSSINGS

The Illinois highway department and the Illinois commerce commission have formed a joint board of five engineers to confer with cities on the closing of railroad grade crossings that have light automobile and pedestrian trafic.

Ernst Lieberman, chief of the highway department, estimated that half of the existing grade crossings in medium size cities could be closed without public inconvenience. In bargaining with the cities, the state can offer additional protection at the reduced number of crossings.

BULK OF $200,000 BARWELL ESTATE LEFT TO FRIEND

The will of John W. Barwell, founder of the Blatchford Calf Meal company of Waukegan, was filed yesterday with John R. Bullock, clerk of the Lake county Probate court. It disposes of a $200,000 estate, the bulk of which is left to Mrs. Grace W. Haigh, a friend who helped Mr. Barwell carry on his home after the death of his wife in 1915, according to the document. There also are bequests of $4,400 to relatives and other friends. Mrs. Haigh is made trustee of the Goodfellowship settlement of Waukegan and North Chicago under the will.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today for Mrs. Elizabeth McCracken, who died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Wilson, of 250 Park avenue, Highland Park. He also served as live stock editor of THE TRIBUNE, the old Record-Herald, and Chicago Inter-Ocean. He died in 1927.

Mrs. McCracken was born in Chicago, the daughter of John and Ellen Hughes, pioneer settlers. The Hughes home on the north side escaped the flames in the Chicago fire and was turned into an emergency hospital and shelter for several families. Mrs. McCracken is survived by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Harwood Byrnes, daughters, and three sons, Howard, Warren, and Gordon. The funeral will be at the home of Mrs. Wilson. Burial will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

She is survived by seven children, twenty grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Caroline Fenger.

Mrs. Caroline Fenger, widow of Dr. Christian Fenger, died yesterday in her home at 559 Arbor Vitae road, Winnetka, after a brief illness. Mrs. Fenger was 81 years old. Dr. Fenger, who died in 1902, came to the United States from Denmark. His pioneer work in modern surgery and pathological anatomy is outstanding in the history of the Cook county hospital. In 1916 a tablet to his memory was unveiled in the hospital lobby. Mrs. Fenger is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter H. Nadler of Winnetka, and a son, Frederick A. Fenger of Cohasset, Mass. SHANAHAN'S AID SAYS SIGNATURE ON WILL IS BOGUS

David E. Shanahan's attorney testified yesterday that the signature on the veteran legislator's disputed will was not Shanahan's. The testimony was stricken out a moment later on the objection of Michael Ahern, attorney for Shanahan's widow, Mrs. Helen Troesch Shanahan.

Shanahan's attorney, Francis Brinkman, had previously testified that Shanahan was irrational much of the time before his death and that he was unchanged the day before his deathbed marriage. Two of Shanahan's cousins are trying to prove the marriage invalid before Judge George W. Bristow of Paris, sitting in Circuit court. Shanahan left his $850,000 estate to his widow.

Eaton Manufacturing.

Investors' Guide: I should appreciate a report on the Eaton Manufacturing company. What automobile makers buy from this company?—C. G.

Answer: Reflecting the slump in automobile sales, operations of the Eaton Manufacturing company have been sharply curtailed this year. For the first nine months the company had a net loss of $589,000, compared with net income of $2,142,000, or $3.07 a share, in the first nine months of 1937.

Eaton's most important products are valves and tappets, truck axles, springs, bumpers, and stampings. Chrysler, International Harvester, General Motors, and Ford are leading customers, although some products are sold to practically every motor car maker in the country. The aviation industry is a relatively small buyer.

Until this year earnings had moved steadily upward after 1932, when a net loss of $674,000 was reported. Last year net income amounted to $2,569,000, or $3.65 a share, compared with $2,391,000, or $3.43 a share, in 1936, $1,838,000 in 1935, $978,000 in 1934, and $573,000 in 1933.

A dividend of 25 cents a capital share was paid Feb. 15, 1938, but no dividend action was taken in the next two quarters. Payments were made throughout the depression and ranged from 20 cents in 1933 to $2.75 in 1937. There are 703,646 shares of capital stock outstanding. The company has no preferred stock or funded debt.

Cash position is strong. Current assets on June 30 were $6,124,000, including cash of $2,426,000, against current liabilities of $813,000.

With automotive output increasing, the company's outlook for the final quarter is encouraging after unprofitable operation so far this year.

Burlington Stock.

Investors' Guide: I notice that the stock of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad is not shown in the daily transactions on the New York Stock exchange. Can you tell me why?—R. B.

Answer: The Burlington's capital stock is listed on the New York Stock exchange, but is almost never traded because it is so closely held. Of the $170,839,100 par value of stock outstanding 97 per cent is owned jointly by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads. Another 2.5 per cent is held by the Northern Securities company.

Dividends have been paid in every year since 1862.

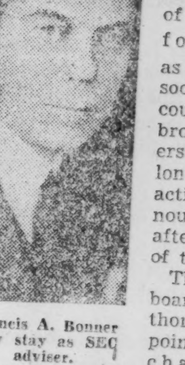
CHANGE IN I. B. C. PLANNED AS STEP IN REGISTRATION

Board of Over-Counter Group Orders Action.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The governing board of the Investment Bankers Conference, Inc., has authorized preparation of the conference for registration as a national association of over-counter securities brokers and dealers under the Maloney act. The action was announced today after a meeting of the board here.



Francis A. Bonner may stay as SEC adviser.

The governing board also authorized the appointment by its chairman, H. Howell Griswold Jr., of a special committee to determine the adequacy of certain proposed changes in the structure of the I. B. C.

Would Change Name.

The program would: Change the name to Securities Dealers association; immunize employés against liability; limit liability of members for dues in any one year; provide that any govenror who has served a full term may not succeed himself; broaden powers of governors in respect of employing paid personnel; change complaint procedure and procedure for adoption of changes in by-laws; enlarge district nominating committee from three to five members.

The changes are designed to make the I. B. C. suitable for registration with the Securities and Exchange commission. The Maloney act contemplates the formation of self-regulatory over-counter dealer organizations under SEC supervision.

The special committee which had been studying the Maloney act was discharged as a result of today's resolution. Its report was studied at a joint meeting of the governors and the advisory council of the I. B. C.

I. B. A. to Get Report.

A similar report is expected to be presented at the annual convention of the Investment Bankers' association, opening tomorrow at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

While work progressed steadily on plans for a new self regulatory organization of over-counter dealers built on the I. B. C. it is expected that Francis A. Bonner, partner of Blair, Bonner & Co., of Chicago, will be asked to stay on as a special adviser to the SEC. Bonner was expected to leave the SEC Nov. 1. He was one of the organizers of the I. B. C.

As part of the program to educate dealers on the Maloney act and the proposed self-regulating machine, Bonner has made a speaking tour of some of the midwestern and eastern states. Plans now call for similar meetings with dealers in the south.

U.S.STEEL SHOWS LOSS, BUT VOTES SENIOR DIVIDEND

Deficit Is $5,847,791 in Third Quarter.

Directors of the United States Steel corporation yesterday voted to pay the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock. The dividend will be distributed Nov. 19 to shareholders of record Oct. 28.

E. R. Stettinius says dividend is encouraging.

At the same time the company reported that third quarter operations resulted in a loss of $5,847,791, compared with a profit of $30,617,638, equal to $2.79 a common share, in the corresponding 1937 period.

In the first nine months of 1937 the company's statement disclosed a loss of $12,150,368 was incurred. In the corresponding 1937 period the company made a profit of $90,852,853, equal to $4.95 a common share.

Three Other Companies Lose.

The Republic Steel corporation, the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company also reported that operations in the September quarter and the first nine months of the year were unprofitable. Inland Steel company, alone among the companies reporting, showed profits for both periods.

Edward R. Stettinius, chairman of United States Steel, said he believed that declaration of the full preferred dividend would be "encouraging to everybody."

Operations in the third quarter, he reported, averaged 34.6 per cent of capacity, shipments of finished steel totaling 1,577,870 tons. Second quarter operations averaged 32 per cent of capacity and shipments for the period totaled 1,445,110 tons.

Shipments in the first nine months of 1938, he said, amounted to 4,588,224 tons, or 33.9 per cent of capacity, compared with 10,956,846 tons, or 81.4 per cent of capacity in the corresponding 1937 period.

"The increased demand for steel products which developed about the middle of July has shown further improvement," Stettinius said, "but during the third quarter it did not advance to a point where under existing market conditions and high costs of operations a profit was possible."

The steel industry made two slashes in prices early in 1938, but maintained its wage rates. At the time of the reductions it was emphasized that the industry could not operate profitably on the new price scale without a wage cut.

Price Structure Wobbly.

The price structure has been wobbly in the last two weeks. Reductions in certain products announced by major companies were rescinded, however, indicating that the threatened price war has been avoided.

U. S. Steel spent $64,500,000 in the first nine months of 1938 on property and retirement of capital obligations. The number of employés on the pay roll during the period was 201,533, a decrease of 23½ per cent from the corresponding 1937 period. Pay roll expenditures aggregated $202,488,466, down 42.8 per cent from 1937.

Inland Steel's September quarter net income was $1,098,245, equal to 69 cents a share. No provision was made, the company said, for the federal tax on undistributed earnings. In the preceding three months the company earned $1,135,097, or 72 cents a share. Net income in the September quarter of 1937 was $4,433,375, or 2.82 a share.

In the first nine months of 1938, Inland Steel's indicated net income was $3,156,418, or $2 a share, compared with $12,620,532, or $8.02 a share, a year earlier.

Republic Steel Shows Loss.

The Republic Steel corporation operated at a loss of $2,387,556 in the September quarter, compared with a loss of $2,856,317 in the June quarter, this year, and a profit of $3,237,156, or 45 cents a share, in the third quarter of 1937.

Net loss for the first nine months of 1938 was $8,306,437, against net income of $9,291,470, or $1.28 a share, in the corresponding period last year.

Operations for the first nine months of 1938 resulted in a loss of $4,882,838, compared with net profit of $6,185,066, equal to $5.38 a share, in the first nine months a year ago.

Court Postpones Approval of R-K-O Reorganization

Final approval of the reorganization plan for the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation was postponed yesterday until Nov. 22.

Urges Wiping Out All Stock of Mo. Pacific

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—An interstate commerce commission examiner recommended today reorganization of the Missouri Pacific railroad system with a sharp reduction in its fixed interest debt. The examiner, R. H. Jewell, said holdings of all stock holders should be wiped out. He proposed that the new company have a total fixed interest debt of $188,729,500 compared with $505,033,721 for the present system. Total capitalization would be $553,898,000, compared with $671,205,664.

Total annual charges under Jewell's proposal would be $20,468,013, compared with $29,108,019 now.

Would Cut Fixed Interest.

Fixed interest would be $7,414,265, compared with $24,770,052 under the present system. Total charges prior to dividends on stock would be $15,019,114, compared with $25,598,514.

The examiner recommended consolidation of owned properties which are being operated as the Missouri Pacific system, with the exception of the Missouri-Illinois railroad, which would not be included.

He said the record showed certain economies may reasonably be expected to be effected by consolidation of the properties and that better service probably would result from continued system operation rather than from separate operation.

Reasons For Consolidation.

"A consolidation of the various system companies upon reorganization will permit a simplified capital structure," Jewell said. "The competition afforded by the entry of the Southern Pacific lines into the Rio Grande valley in January, 1927, furnishes an additional reason why a consolidation of the Missouri Pacific properties into one strong competing company should be advantageous both to the debtors and to the public."

Jewell said that as of Jan. 1, 1938, the aggregate indebtedness of the Missouri Pacific system was about $618,487,780.

DRIVE FOR STATE WAGE-HOUR LAW GAINS HEADWAY

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 25.—(AP)—A move for an Illinois wage-hour act similar to the national law, but applying to intrastate commerce, gained impetus today.

Reuben G. Soderstrom, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, announced the federation would sponsor a bill in the legislature convening in January. He said he thought it would have the support of the Horner administration.

Soderstrom estimated the act would affect 350,000 wage earners in strictly intrastate businesses that do not come within the new national law.

Director Martin P. Durkin of the state department of labor announced in Chicago earlier that he expected legislative action on a state law supplementing the national act. Durkin said, however, present plans were to fix the maximum hours at 40 a week from the start, instead of 44 as in the national act.

SCHALLER VIEWS TRADE GAINING IN MIDDLE WEST

George J. Schaller, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, reported yesterday that business and industry in the seventh reserve district [Chicago] is continuing to show gains.

Improvement over the first half of the year is now more marked, he said, but activity is still below a year ago. Industrial employment and payrolls have registered definite gains, he said. Farm income for the first 8 months of the year, however, was off 6 per cent from the comparable 1937 period.

Bicycle Industry.

The bicycle industry has experienced a marked revival in recent years. Despite the depression, bicycle and motorcycle production has reached the highest point since 1899. The number of workers has increased more than 35 per cent in the last two years, and the total value of bicycles and motorcycles manufactured last year was exceeded only by that just before the turn of the century.

In 1937, there were 1,130,736 bicycles and motorcycles produced in the United States. Their total value was $22,223,431. This was an increase of 473,908, or 72.2 per cent, over 1935 production. According to the biennial census of manufacturers, production in 1935 aggregated 656,828, and total value was $12,059,867. In 1899, manufacturers produced 1,182,691 units at a total value of $23,656,487.

The industry had dropped to almost an all-time low mark in 1931, producing only 260,029 units with a total value of $4,733,254. Since then production has steadily increased. The smallest number produced was in 1921.

Last year the number of manufacturers totaled twenty-nine, compared with twenty-three in 1935 and nineteen in 1933. Workers in the industry numbered 6,938 and total wages were $8,206,866, compared with 5,093 employés and pay rolls of $5,213,837 in 1935. In 1933 the industry employed 3,038 at total wages of $2,639,031.

U. S. Will Aid Citrus Raisers to Sell Crop

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The National Citrus conference adopted today a broad industry-government program for orderly marketing of the biggest crop on record.

As the nine day session adjourned leaders from the three citrus areas hailed the agreement as an effective means of stabilizing the winter market. The program included these major points:

1. A government agreement to purchase through its Surplus Commodities corporation 3,000,000 boxes of oranges and the equivalent of 5,000,000 boxes of grapefruit for distribution to needy persons. The cost was estimated at $10,000,000.

Will Withhold Poor Fruit.

2. An industry program, without government subsidies, to keep all low grade fruit off the market. For each box bought by the government the industry must divert a box to some noncompetitive use, such as the manufacture of fertilizer, live stock feed, or oil.

3. Adoption of a Florida marketing agreement to govern out of state shipments, continuation of existing agreements in Texas and the California-Arizona area, and establishment of a new California-Arizona agreement to control the grade and size of marketed grapefruit.

4. An appeal to canneries to place a minimum price of 20 cents a box on fruit purchased for canning and to limit purchases to high grade fruit.

Plan Ends Bickering.

This program, to be submitted to growers, shippers, and canners, got conference approval after days of bickering over shares of the burden to be borne by the government and by the industry itself.

Government purchases will begin as soon as practicable and will continue until July 1, 1939. Prices will be set weekly on the basis of the previous week's market, but the AAA promised to pay not less than 15 cents a box for grapefruit.

ROSENWALD DENIES HE WILL RETIRE AS SEARS-ROEBUCK HEAD

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Lessing J. Rosenwald, chairman of the board of directors of Sears, Roebuck & Co., said here tonight that he has "no thought of retiring."

He made the comment in reply to reports that directors of the company, at a meeting this morning, discussed a change in executives that would involve his retirement and the election to the chairmanship of Gen. Robert E. Wood, now president.

Rosenwald termed these reports "sheer gossip" and denied there was any such discussion. Another spokesman for the directors asserted that "nothing further came out of the meeting beyond the declaration of a dividend."

Gen. Wood will attain the company's mandatory retirement age of 60 years next June. The retirement provision does not apply to the chairmanship. Rosenwald is 47 years old.

RESUME EFFORTS FOR BRITISH-U. S. TRADE COMPACT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Negotiations for a British-American trade treaty apparently were resumed today when a communication from the British government arrived here.

The document was not made public, but President Roosevelt said he supposed it meant a continuation of the negotiations, which recently had been at a standstill.

The temporary impasse was caused, it has been indicated, by Britain's failure to make tarif concessions on certain important American products, including automobiles, lard, ham, and bacon. A memorandum was sent to London calling attention to this failure, and today's note was a reply.

Texas Continues Week-End Shutdown of Oil Wells

Austin, Tex., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The state railroad commission today ordered the Saturday and Sunday shutdowns of Texas oil fields continued through November. The closings on Sundays had been in effect since last January and those on Saturdays for several months. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the commission, as well as of the interstate oil and gas compact commission, asked refineries to reduce runs to stills 15 per cent.

Rules Midamerica's Claim to 19 Million Worth $887

Cleveland, O., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The $19,391,513 claim of Midamerica corporation against the Cleveland Terminals Building company is worth only $887, plus three years' interest, Charles I. Russo, federal court special master, ruled today. The claim grew out of the purchase of $13,787,000 of Van Sweringen corporation notes at auction three years ago.

"Going to Market" for Bonds
For Bond Investors who are not getting service they need

If bond house representatives have called on you less frequently or not at all in recent years, it is due to several factors . . . economic conditions . . . fewer new issues of investment character . . . small profit to distributors. It would be the same in any business during a period when both the market and the supply had diminished.

Accounting for the situation does not solve the problem for a sizable body of investors who, at least occasionally, have funds to invest or reinvest and who may need information and guidance. A real solution is offered in a service we have developed and which is fully described in our booklet, "'Going to Market' for Bonds."

This booklet will interest any bond investor who feels the lack of prompt and reliable contact with sources of bond investment and information. The service described is available regardless of the investor's location or size of account. Copy of booklet together with list of selected bonds yielding over 5% will be sent without obligation, upon request. Write for booklet CT-108.

BACKING ASKED BY PRESIDENT ON WAGE PROGRAM

Asserts Job Losses Are Temporary.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt suggested today that the government and employers join hands to make the new wage-hour law work.

He said at a press conference that experience had proved that social legislation affected some persons adversely at the start but not permanently. For example, he said, the pecan shelling industry, virtually shut down since the law went into effect yesterday, would not go out of business permanently.

The President remarked also that it was unfortunate that the scattered suspensions at some plants affected by the new act should come just two weeks before the general elections. He added that he and Elmer F. Andrews, wage-hour administrator, agreed on that point.

Talk Over Need of Funds.

Andrews made a report to Mr. Roosevelt earlier in the day and discussed with him the administration's need for additional funds. Congress appropriated $400,000 to get the wage-hour administration started.

Andrews told a press conference he believed that persons thrown out of work by industrial shutdowns would find new employment in plants operated by "decent" employers.

The act requires industries in interstate commerce to pay a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour and limits the normal work week to forty-four hours. Any overtime must be paid for at the rate of time and a half.

The administrator reported that most all businesses subject to the statute were coöperating "extremely well." Reports reached him that some concerns were closing their plants until they received assurances about the effect of the act on them.

Pecan Industry a Problem.

Andrews' first major problem arose yesterday when representatives of the pecan shelling industry reported that all their plants, employing between 30,000 and 50,000, were closed because they could not afford to pay the statutory minimum. Their rate has been 10 to 15 cents an hour.

Andrews discussed with representatives of the tobacco stemming industry today the question of whether they were covered by the statute.

Reports from North Carolina said the new standards brought higher pay to many tobacco stemmers in that state, but at the same time brought unemployment to thousands of others.

In New York City the Postal Telegraph company said it was going ahead with plans to lay off 1,000 messengers throughout the country "to protect its financial position."

"SLOW DOWN" IS ENDED.

A "slow down" strike by operators in some departments of the Postal Telegraph company offices here and in other cities was ended yesterday. The company agreed to pay as much for 46 hours' work as it formerly allowed for 48 hours. The participants were members of a union affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization. Miss Claire Brown, Chicago organizer for the American Communications association, the C. I. O. union, said the shortlived "slow down" was in protest against the company's refusal to increase the hourly pay rate so that operators would get the same pay under the new wage law for 44 hours as they had for a 48 hour week.

G. G. Creal, Postal superintendent at Chicago, said the company originally had advised employés that regular operators would be given 46⅔ hours' work, which, with overtime for the extra 2⅔ hours, would give them the same weekly pay as under the 48 hour week. Under the settlement, two hours of overtime will be worked instead of 2⅔ hours.

The agreement ending the slow down is subject to a union vote, which will be taken today.

Foreign Trade of U. S. Higher in September

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The commerce department said today American foreign trade expanded in September over August.

September exports totaled $246,361,000, compared with $230,625,000 in August. Imports were $167,651,000, compared with August imports of $165,541,000. In September, 1937, exports totaled $296,579,000 and imports $233,142,000.

The $78,710,000 excess of September exports over imports brought the total export balance for the first nine months of this year to $860,234,000.

During this period exports totaled $2,295,196,000 and imports $1,434,962,000. In the same months of last year imports aggregating $2,427,445,000 exceeded exports by $49,089,000.

Farm Exports Rise.

Exports of agricultural products rose from $61,441,000 in August to $75,197,000 in September, but the department said the increase was less than seasonal. The unfavorable situation was ascribed to a decline of grain shipments. These shipments dropped from $19,900,000 in August to $10,900,000 in September. Exports of cotton, meats, lard, fruit, and tobacco increased.

On the import list, increases were reported for newsprint, linens, art works, liquors, crude rubber, raw wool, and raw silk.

September gold imports set a new record of $520,907,000. Silver imports totaled $24,098,000.

Wheat Shipments Compared.

Exports of wheat amounted to 3,483,000 bushels in September and 74,278,000 bushels in the first nine months of the year. These exports compared with 2,678,000 in September, 1937, and 11,712,000 bushels in the nine month period of last year.

Corn shipments last month totaled 7,850,000 bushels. In the first nine months of this year they amounted to 133,640,000 bushels. In September, 1937, the total corn exports were only 2,000 bushels. Total exports for the first nine months of 1937 were 102,060 bushels.

GENERAL MOTORS TO LIST STOCK ON CHICAGO MARKET

The General Motors corporation has accepted the invitation of the Chicago Stock exchange to list its 43,500,000 shares of common stock, Arthur M. Betts, chairman of the exchange, announced yesterday. The stock will be listed in accordance with the exchange's invitational plan whereby big companies already listed in the New York market may list in Chicago without paying a listing fee.

"Albert Bradley, vice president of General Motors corporation, advised me today," Betts said, "that our invitation to list, which was held open for a few corporations, including General Motors, after Sept. 19, was accepted by its policy committee and that the application to list is being forwarded."

General Motors, with total assets of more than one and a half billion dollars, had more than 375,000 stockholders at the end of last year.

OIL OWNERS GET NEW SETBACK IN MEXICAN FIGHT

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25.—(AP)—British and American oil companies whose property was expropriated by the Mexican government last March received another legal setback today.

They were notified by the ministry of national economy that it had denied their petition for administrative revocation of the expropriation decree.

The companies now will proceed with a new attack on the legality of the expropriation.

QUARTER PROFIT OF REMINGTON RAND SLUMPS

Phillips Petroleum Also Earns Less.

Remington Rand, Inc., maker of office equipment, yesterday reported sharply reduced earnings for the third quarter, compared with profits in the same 1937 period. Similar results were reported by the Phillips Petroleum company. Earnings of both companies showed an increase over the June quarter of this year, however. The Curtis Publishing company had a loss in the September quarter in contrast to profits in the preceding three months and in the 1937 third quarter.

K. S. Adams reports destructive trade practices.

Butler Brothers, Chicago merchandise wholesaler, showed a profit in the third quarter against losses in the two preceding quarters.

Most Others Earn Less.

Most other companies reporting yesterday showed smaller earnings for this year than last year in interim statements for various periods. Several reported losses.

Net profit of Remington Rand in the quarter amounted to $413,123, against $93,152 in the preceding three months and $912,401 in the third quarter of last year.

The company announced, however, that domestic orders booked in September exceeded those of the like 1937 month for the first time this year.

S. M. Knapp, executive vice president, told directors that, because the office equipment industry tends to lag three months behind general business trends, a substantial improvement in the company's business is expected from now on.

Phillips Petroleum's net profit for the September quarter and nine months declined from 1937 figures, despite a record volume of sales. Profit of the three months of $3,886,816, or 87 cents a share, compared with $7,134,638 in the three months to Sept. 30, 1937. In the June quarter the company's profit amounted to $3,270,497. For the first nine months profit this year of $9,471,956 compared with $19,813,719 in the 1937 period.

Price Reductions Cited.

"Crude oil and gasoline prices were reduced because of the destructive trade practices of the industry, the rapid increase in crude production of new unprorated pools, and other factors," Frank Phillips, chairman, and K. S. Adams, president, said. "The company continues to strengthen its position in every way. Its potential crude production and reserves are higher than ever before."

Butler Brothers' third quarter net profit amounted to $293,133, against profit of $564,099 in the same 1937 period. Losses amounted to $380,502 in the first three months of this year and $594,928 in the second quarter. Frank S. Cunningham, president, in commenting on the outlook, said:

"Although the unseasonably warm weather thus far in October has been unfavorable for the fall trade, I am still reasonably optimistic over the prospects of our fourth quarter, which

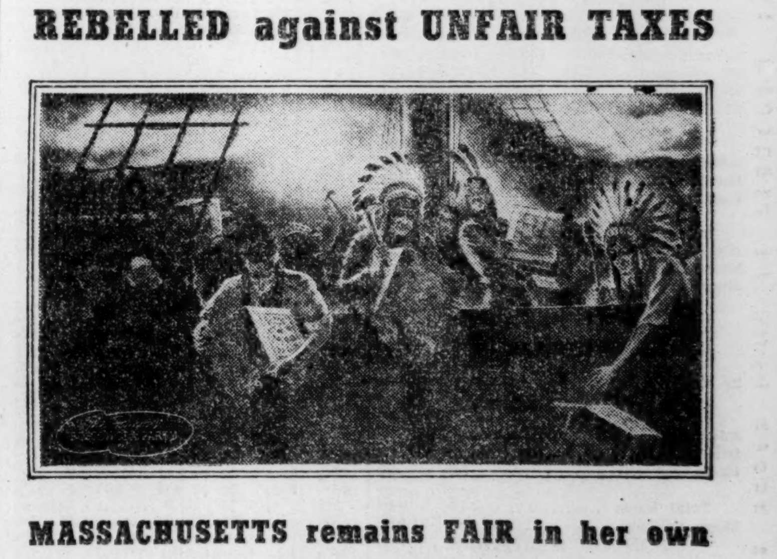
MASSACHUSETTS in 1773
REBELLED against UNFAIR TAXES



MASSACHUSETTS remains FAIR in her own TAX LEVIES ON INDUSTRY

In solvent Massachusetts, manufacturing corporations enjoy the lowest taxes in the United States. The state tax has not been increased since 1920 and the only local tax paid by manufacturing corporations is the tax on real estate. There are no onerous "extras" such as municipal property taxes or high levies on corporations which carry on a part of their business within the state — no complicated taxes divided between "tangibles and intangibles."

Massachusetts welcomes new industries and offers unparalleled advantages. Your inquiries will receive careful attention.

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 25.—The stock market today crept near its best level of the year. Irregularity persisted, however. Of 903 issues traded, 414 closed higher as 297 ended lower and 192 were unchanged.

Aviations, steels, utilities, amusements, motors, and packing shares were singled out at intervals for special attention. The final changes were mostly fractional, although there was a liberal sprinkling of 1 and 2 point gains.

Trading simmered down to around 1,487,900 shares, the smallest turnover in about two weeks. One reason for the slowing down was that the financial district was awaiting the decisions of the United States Steel corporation's board meeting, which did not become known until after the close of the market.

Curtiss-Wright took volume honors for the day, but closed unchanged. Douglas was a leader, finishing 2½ points higher at 67¼, a new high for 1938.

United States Steel and Bethlehem reached new highs early in the session. The former drifted back to just above its previous final. Bethlehem kept a 1 point gain. Independent steel issues made their best showing in some time.

New York Bonds.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Narrow fluctuations and mixed trends prevailed in the bond market today. Second grade carriers, as a group, were strongest of the session, although a few industrials and utilities showed sizable gains.

Issues of the Nickel Plate were again in demand. The 4½s closed 3 points higher and the extended 6s of 1938 gained 1½.

Industrials and utilities were mixed. Foreign dollar loans showed slight improvement. United States government obligations were steady.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks moved irregularly higher yesterday. Trading volume increased to 44,000 shares from 34,000 on the preceding day. THE TRIBUNE average of twenty stocks advanced 0.10 to 12.03.

Butler Brothers common led in volume with a turnover of 4,700 shares. It closed ⅝ higher at 9⅛.

Moving lower were Commonwealth Edison, off ⅛ at 27½, Chicago Corporation, which declined ⅛ to 2⅛, and Middle West, closing at 7⅝, off ⅛.

Bank Stocks.

Three leading Chicago bank stocks declined slightly yesterday. Northern Trust company shares closed $2 lower at $520 bid, $530 asked. Stock of the First National bank was off $2 at $228 bid, $233 asked. Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company stock finished 50 cents lower at $77 bid, $79 asked.

Commodities

Copper futures advanced yesterday under the influence of a stronger export demand and a markup of ⅛ cent a pound in scrap copper. Gains in the futures contracts were 0.11 to 0.13 cent a pound. Export copper sold up to 11.30 cents, compared with a range of 11.15 to 11.27 on the preceding day.

Tin futures, moving in sympathy with copper, advanced 0.50 to 0.55 cent. Other commodities were irregular. Zinc and lead showed a little change. Higher were cottonseed oil and coffee contracts. Hides, cocoa, and world sugar contracts lost ground.

Cottonseed oil moved ahead 0.03 to 0.05 cent a pound on scattered buying, promoted by firmness in the grain, hog, and lard markets. The December closing price was 7.65 cents.

Santos coffee futures opened 0.01 to 0.02 cent higher and extended gains to 0.10 to 0.13 cent at the close. Rio contracts finished 0.07 to 0.08 cent a pound higher.

Spot prices for raw sugar declined 0.05 cent a pound to 3.05 cents. Domestic sugar futures finished 0.01 cent higher to 0.01 cent lower, and world contracts slipped to 0.01½ to 0.02 cent a pound.

Cocoa futures eased 0.03 to 0.06 cent a pound at the close.

RAPS WISCONSIN POLITICIANS ON ELECTRIC ISSUE

Utility Chief Sees Effort to Hide Tax Burden.

BY THORNTON SMITH.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—[Special.]—The charge that politicians in Wisconsin have raised at least two false issues about electric utilities was made today by Bruno Rahn, executive of the Milwaukee Gas Light company and president of the Wisconsin Utilities association.

They have "raised a false picture" of the costs of electrical service, he said, in order to divert attention from a burdensome tax structure. They also have built up a gross falsehood, he said, that the electric industry has not made service available in rural districts. This was in order to promote the federal Rural Electrification administration.

Asserts Industry Was Pioneer.

"The truth is the electric industry pioneered the development of rural electrification long before any government bureau ever dreamed of the subject," Rahn declared.

He addressed the electrical division of the Utilities association in convention here. He referred to "vote greedy politicians" who try to create the false impression that industries are not located in Wisconsin due to prevailing industrial power rates.

"An official report of the federal power commission clearly makes liars out of them," Rahn said. "High taxes, not electric rates, are keeping and will continue to keep industries out of Wisconsin.

Cites Cost of Government.

"The cost of government in Wisconsin has been doubled and the cost of electric service cut in half. The cost of government is more than $85 per person; the cost of all electric service is $7.83 per capita."

Rahn cited official averages to show that although materials constitute 77.9 per cent of the value of products manufactured, wages 18.05 per cent, and taxes 2.79 per cent, electric power averages only 1.24 per cent of the cost of manufacturers.

High taxes are also a part of electric rate charges, the speaker said.

Brands Federal Claim False.

"The second gross falsehood is that the government had to create the REA to make rural electric service available," he continued.

"The record of rural electrification speaks for itself. There are only 180,600 farms in the state with buildings worth $500. There are 65,000 rural customers being served by the electric companies. Fully 15,000 farms have their own electrical plants. The coöperatives claim to serve about 5,000 and about 4,000 are being served by municipally owned systems. About 15,000 more farms have commercial service available to them but have not yet accepted it."

Investment Executives Leave to Attend Meeting

Many Chicago investment executives left yesterday by special train to attend the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Investment Bankers Association of America. The convention, which opens today, is being held at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Wholesale markets for fresh pork showed signs of weakness yesterday, but live costs to packers moved up slightly more at the Chicago stockyards. They reached the highest levels in fifteen days.

After a rather slow weak opening, which was influenced by weakness in pork, the market for hogs improved and closed steady to 10 cents higher.

Slaughter lambs were bought weak to mostly 15 cents lower.

Losses of 10c to 15c were general in steers, only a few topnotch animals escaping the price cut.

CONSUMERS GET MORE MEAT AT LOWER PRICES

Packing Leader Cites Fall in Values.

Meat eaters have been able to buy more meat this year at lower prices than in 1937, William W. Woods told the annual convention of the Institute of American Meat Packers yesterday. He is president of the institute, which concluded its two day session at the Drake hotel last evening.

"Meat prices, which reached a peak about a year ago, are down from 9 to 31 per cent at wholesale, compared with this time last year," Woods said. "The producer, notwithstanding the lower level of live stock prices now as compared with a year ago, has been receiving relatively more for his meat animals than producers of most other farm products have received for their commodities."

Meat Production Larger.

Meat production so far this year had been about 9 per cent larger than during the same period in 1937, according to Woods. He said choice beef is now 31 per cent lower in price; lamb, 22 per cent; pork loins, 20 per cent, and lard, 28 per cent.

"Although meat production is still somewhat below normal," Woods said, "the meat output has been expanding in recent months. Exports are substantially below normal, but prospects are encouraging."

After Wood's address, a business session was held. Committee reports were heard, and officers were elected. The institute's annual dinner, held last evening at the Palmer house, closed the convention.

New Officers Elected.

T. Henry Foster, president of John Morrell & Co., Ottumwa, Ia., was elected chairman of the board of the institute. He succeeds Frank A. Hunter of the Hunter Packing company, East St. Louis, Ill. Woods and other officers were reëlected.

Earlier in the day Thomas E. Wilson said that meat packers will have paid more than $1,800,000,000 for live stock during the fiscal year closing Oct. 31.

WHEAT RALLIES SHARPLY FROM EARLY DECLINE

Wheat futures rallied almost a cent late yesterday from an early decline of about a half cent a bushel in American markets. Closing trades were a little below the top, at net gains of ⅛ to ⅝ cent on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Corn futures declined about ½ to ⅝ cent early, in sympathy with wheat, but came back to close ⅛ cent lower to ⅛ cent higher.

Weakness in the Liverpool and Winnipeg markets was believed to be largely responsible for the early slump in wheat prices here. Liverpool wheat futures closed 1 to 2⅜ cents lower and Winnipeg was off ¾ cent at the close.

Announcement

(BAVARIAN PALATINATE CONSOLIDATED CITIES)

For interest due on above mentioned loan for the period from July 1, 1934, to July 1, 1936, inclusive, the Municipalities of the Palatinate have paid to us only 4½% p. a. instead of the rate provided for in the loan agreement. The Municipalities state that no further payments on account of these interest amounts are to be expected.

These interest amounts cannot be paid in our 3% Dollar Loan due January 1, 1946. We therefore obtained from the German Government permission for a special arrangement in order to liquidate these interests.

Accordingly owners may arrange to have transferred to a Special Account per Ri IV/48 Figure 5 in a Devisenbank the Reichsmark equivalent of the interest due during the period from July 1, 1934, to July 1, 1936, inclusive, up to the amount of 4½% which debtor paid to the Konversionskasse. These Special Accounts are subject to the Foreign Currency Regulations issued with regard to such accounts.

Owners who wish to make use of this offer must transmit the interest coupons to Ames, Emerich & Co., Inc., Chicago, or Kontor der Reichshauptbank fur Wertpapiere, Berlin C 111, together with a suitable application and affidavit concerning the ownership of the bonds on April 15, 1932. If the bonds have no interest coupons, the debentures must be transmitted to the above mentioned addresses for the purpose of stamping.

Berlin, October 26, 1938.

KONVERSIONSKASSE FUR DEUTSCHE AUSLANDSSCHULDEN

TO THE HOLDERS OF COUPONS AND CLAIMS FOR INTEREST MATURED JULY 1, 1934 TO JULY 1, 1936, BOTH DATES INCLUSIVE, APPURTENANT TO

BAVARIAN PALATINATE CONSOLIDATED CITIES

7 Percent External Serial Gold Bonds dated January 1, 1926:

Reference is made to the above notice dated October 26, 1938, of Konversionskasse für deutsche Auslandsschulden (hereinafter referred to as Konversionskasse) relating to the above-mentioned coupons and claims for interest and attention is specifically directed to the fact that bondholders who accept the offer therein mentioned will become entitled to receive only restricted German marks available for use only for special purposes in Germany.

By reason of this fact we have arranged with Konversionskasse that the latter for the present will open personal credits for the accounts of those holders who may not wish to accept the proposal of the Konversionskasse set forth in its aforesaid notice of the exact amount of German marks which they would be entitled to receive if they accepted said proposal. We have been able to secure an offer for these credits from German sources at the net price of $6.65 in respect of each such credit set up for each semi-annual coupon or claim for interest above described of $35 and $3.32 for each such credit set up in respect of each semi-annual coupon or claim for interest above described of $17.50.

Holders of coupons who desire to avail themselves of this separate arrangement must transmit their matured coupons above described to us at our office, No. 105 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Illinois, under cover of a letter of transmittal of which we shall furnish a form on request. Holders of those bonds which matured prior to any of the aforesaid interest payment dates and who wish to avail themselves of this arrangement with respect to claims for interest not represented by coupons must transmit their bonds to us at the aforesaid office for appropriate stamping under cover of a letter of transmittal of which we shall furnish a form on request.

Under existing conditions we do not warrant that the above arrangement will be carried out. To those bondholders who desire to avail themselves of the arrangement and who deliver to us their coupons and/or bonds, we shall issue our receipt agreeing either to return said coupons and/or bonds or the appropriate amount of money calculated in accordance with the aforesaid arrangement if such receipt be presented at our office on or after thirty days from the date of its issue by us.

In addition to our regular compensation as Fiscal Agent we shall receive from the Bavarian Palatinate Consolidated Cities a special compensation of $1,000 with an allowance of $1,000 for expenses and from Konversionskasse 10 cents in respect of each $35 coupon or claim for interest and 5 cents in respect of each $17.50 coupon or claim for interest deposited under the aforesaid arrangement.

October 26, 1938.

AMES, EMERICH & CO., INC.

N. B. An offer applicable to coupons and claims for interest matured July 1, 1933, and January 1, 1934, is in effect and holders of those coupons and claims for interest who have not availed themselves of that offer may obtain full information from us.
